Strange Encounters:

Strange Encounters Sara Ahmed, 2000 Examining the relationship between strangers embodiment and community Strange Encounters challenges the assumptions that the stranger is simply anybody we do not recognize and instead proposes that he or she is socially constructed as somebody we already know Using feminist and postcolonial theory this book examines the impact of multiculturalism and globalization on embodiment and community whilst considering the ethical and political implication of its critique for post colonial feminism A diverse range of texts are analyzed which produce the figure of the stranger showing that it has alternatively been expelled as the origin of danger such as in neighbourhood watch or celebrated as the origin of difference as in multiculturalism The author argues that both of these standpoints are problematic as they involve stranger fetishism they assume that the stranger has a life of its own Strange Encounters Richard St. Clair, 2008-07-30 Strange Encounters is a novel made up of three short stories Each character is faced with an unexplainable situation The Lost Souls of I 95 takes place in a rural town A young girl and her father are killed on I 95 by a drunk driver that has been covered up by the North Carolina Highway Patrol to protect one of their own during the summer of July 3 1986 The highway then becomes haunted by the two lost souls who won't rest until justice is served But twenty years later a young highway patrolman comes along and is put to the test to solve the mystery Queer Jewish Strangers in American Popular Culture Amy Tziporah Karp, 2023-12-19 Queer Jewish Strangers in American Popular Culture Life Between Assimilation and Otherness explores LGBTQIA Jewish American identity in the United States and the queer Jewish stranger figures who live in between incorporation and estrangement Amy Tziporah Karp establishes that despite the near ubiquitous portrayal of Jewish American assimilation as a finished project completed in the wake of World War II in academic disciplines and throughout popular culture many LGBTQIA Jewish figures in contemporary popular culture inhabit stranger positionalities In these stranger spaces characters are forced to either perpetually attempt to assimilate or inhabit this interstitial stranger identity that is often viewed as a nowhere or homeless space Those who pursue assimilating endlessly try to fit in to no avail such as Jenny Schecter from Showtime's popular The L Word who is ultimately killed off on the show possibly murdered by her LGBTQIA community of friends Karp shows that those who attempt to make a home in a stranger positionality align themselves with other estranged and othered peoples such as characters throughout Sarah Schulman's novels and that this constitutes an ethical stance against the ways in which assimilation often inadvertently supports the workings of violent hegemonies in the United States Stay Out of the Woods: Volumes 1-5 Tom Lyons, Stay Out of the Woods Volumes 1 5 exposes the hidden terrors of America's forests through real encounters with the unexplained From eerie whispers to unseen predators these volumes collect firsthand reports of strange entities and creatures lurking in the wilderness Each story is a chilling reminder of the mysteries that lie beyond the trails told by those who barely escaped Dare to explore these pages but be warned the fear is real and the danger is closer than you think Get it now The Men In

Black Secret Government Agency Or Extraterrestrial Force Patrick Gunn, 2025-10-27 This intriguing book explores one of the greatest mysteries of our time the Men in Black Are they secret government agents protecting us from extraterrestrial threats or are they alien beings monitoring humanity The story delves into their origins encounters and the theories surrounding their existence From early reports in the 1950s to modern sightings it examines how these shadowy figures appear after UFO sightings using advanced technology mind control and mysterious gadgets The book also explores possible connections between the Men in Black government cover ups and alien technology It presents stories from witnesses discusses their portrayal in pop culture and examines ongoing debates about their true nature With a mix of conspiracy science fiction and speculation this compelling read questions what is real and uncovers the secrets behind this enduring enigma A must read for fans of UFOs government secrets and extraterrestrial mysteries Sexual Feelings Elina nation formation and national subjectivity She challenges the popular notion that the significance of racialized practices in Canada has declined in the post Second World War period and traces key continuities and discontinuities in these practices from Confederation into the present Drawing on historical sociology and discursive analyses Thobani examines how the state seeks to fix and stabilize its subjects in relation to the nation s others A controversial ground breaking study Exalted Subjects makes a major contribution to our understanding of the racialized and gendered underpinnings of both nation and subject formation

Representations of China in Latin American Literature (1987-2016) Maria Montt Strabucchi, 2023-11-15 An Open Access edition of this book is available on the Liverpool University Press website and the OAPEN library as part of the Opening the Future project with COPIM

Representations of China in Latin American Literature 1987 2016 analyses contemporary Latin American novels in which China is the main theme Using China as a multidimensional term it explores how the novels both highlight and undermine assumptions about China that have shaped Latin America s understanding of China and shows China to be a kind of literary imaginary third term which reframes Latin American discourses of alterity On one level it argues that these texts play with the way that China stands in as a wandering signifier and as a metonym for Asia a gesture that essentialises it as an unchanging other On another level it argues that the novels employment of China resists essentialist constructions of identity China is thus shown to be serving as a concept which allows for criticism of the construction of fetishized otherness and of the exclusion inherent in essentialist discourses of identity The book presents and analyses the depiction of an imaginary of China which is arguably performative but which discloses the tropes and themes which may be both established and subverted in the novels Chapter One examines the way in which China is represented and constructed in Latin American novels where this country is a setting for their stories The novels studied in Chapter Two are linked to the presence of Chinese communities in Latin America The final chapter examines novels whose main theme is travel to contemporary China Ultimately in the novels studied in this book China serves as a concept through which essentialist notions of identity are critiqued

From Slave Girls to Salvation Shelly D. Ikebuchi, 2015-11-10 From its origins as a project to rescue Chinese prostitutes and slave girls from a life of supposed depravity the Chinese Rescue Home became a feature of the moral and racial landscape of Victoria a place where the Methodist Women s Missionary Society attempted to reform Chinese and Japanese girls and women in part by teaching them domestic skills meant to ease their integration into Western society Between 1886 and 1923 over four hundred Chinese and Japanese women sheltered in the home Yet despite the significance of this iconic institution little has been written on its history From Slave Girls to Salvation draws on a rich collection of archival materials to uncover the organizational hierarchies as well as the religious and racial tropes which permeated the home In doing so it expands our understanding of the complex interplay of gender race and class in BC during this time period

The novel begins with Richard Papen, a bright but troubled young man, arriving at Hampden College. Richard is immediately drawn to the group of students who call themselves the Classics Club. The club is led by Henry Winter, a brilliant and charismatic young man. Henry is obsessed with Greek mythology and philosophy, and he quickly draws Richard into his world. The other members of the Classics Club are equally as fascinating. Bunny Corcoran is a wealthy and spoiled young man who is always looking for a good time. Charles Tavis is a quiet and reserved young man who is deeply in love with Henry. Camilla Macaulay is a beautiful and intelligent young woman who is drawn to the power and danger of the Classics Club. The students are all deeply in love with Morrow, and they are willing to do anything to please him. Morrow is a complex and mysterious figure, and he seems to be manipulating the students for his own purposes. As the students become more involved with Morrow, they begin to commit increasingly dangerous acts. The Secret History is a masterful and gripping novel that will keep you wondering until the very end. The novel is a cautionary tale about the dangers of obsession and the power of evil.
