The Black Bcs:

The Black Church Studies Reader Alton B. Pollard, Carol B. Duncan, 2016-04-29 The Black Church Studies Reader addresses the depth and breadth of Black theological studies from Biblical studies and ethics to homiletics and pastoral care. The book examines salient themes of social and religious significance such as gender, sexuality, race, social class, health care, and public policy. While the volume centers around African American experiences and studies, it also attends to broader African continental and Diasporan religious contexts. The contributors reflect an interdisciplinary blend of Black Church Studies scholars and practitioners from across the country. The text seeks to address the following fundamental questions: What constitutes Black Church Studies as a discipline or field of study? What is the significance of Black Church Studies for theological education? What is the relationship between Black Church Studies and the broader academic study of Black religions? What is the relationship between Black Church Studies and local congregations as well as other faith-based entities? The book's search for the answers to these questions is compelling and illuminating. THE BLACK GOD MAN King Asu, 2024-10-16 THE BLACK GOD MAN tells the story of Leader Olumba Olumba Obu and his kingdom called Brotherhood of the cross and star in a way no one has done before. Olumba Olumba Obu is Nigerian religious leader who founded the Brotherhood of the cross and star in 1956 and called it the Kingdom of God on earth. He was believed to be the promised Comforter, returned Christ, and God almighty. The members believed he was immortal, but he disappeared from the surface of the earth in 2002 and has never been seen since then. This book unearths the mysteries and intrigues of the man, his organisation, and his son who took over the kingdom and is currently being projected to even be a mightier God than his father. The book is the biggest expose of Brotherhood of the cross and star. Black Church Studies Stacey Floyd-Thomas, Juan M. Floyd-Thomas, Carol B. Duncan, Dr. Stephen G. Ray JR., Nancy Lynne Westfield, 2007-11-01 Religious Studies. Over the last thirty years, African American voices and perspectives have become essential to the study of the various theological disciplines. Writing out of their particular position in the North American context, African American thinkers have contributed significantly to biblical studies, theology, church history, ethics, sociology of religion, homiletics, pastoral care, and a number of other fields. Frequently, the work of these African American scholars is brought together in the seminary curriculum under the rubric of the black church studies class. Drawing on these several disciplines, the black church studies class seeks to give an account of the broad meaning of Christian faith in the African American experience. Up to now, however, there has not been a single comprehensive textbook designed to meet the needs of students and instructors in these classes. Black Church Studies: An Introduction will meet that need. Drawing on the work of specialists in several fields, it introduces all of the core theological disciplines from an African American standpoint, from African American biblical interpretation to womanist theology and ethics to sociological understandings of the life of African American churches. It will become an indispensable resource for all those preparing to serve in African American congregations or to understand African American contributions to the study of Christian faith Looks at the diverse definitions and functions of the Black Church as well as the ways in which race class religion and gender inform its evolution Provides a comprehensive view of the contributions of African American Scholarship to the current theological discussion Written by scholars with broad expertise in a number of subject areas and disciplines Will enable the reader to relate the work of African American theological scholars to the tasks of preaching teaching and leading in local congregations Will provide the reader the most comprehensive understanding of African American theological scholarship available in one volume Stacey Floyd Thomas Brite Divinity School Juan Floyd Thomas Texas Christian University Carol B Duncan Wilfrid Laurier University Stephen G Ray Jr Lutheran Theological Seminary Philadelphia Nancy Lynne Westfield Drew University Theology Theology and Doctrine Contemporary Theology

The Black Youth Employment Crisis Richard B. Freeman, Harry J. Holzer, 2008-04-15

In recent years the earnings of young blacks have risen substantially relative to those of young whites but their rates of joblessness have also risen to crisis levels The papers in this volume drawing on the results of a groundbreaking survey conducted by the National Bureau of Economic Research analyze the history causes and features of this crisis The findings they report and conclusions they reach revise accepted explanations of black youth unemployment The contributors identify primary determinants on both the demand and supply sides of the market and provide new information on important aspects of the problem such as drug use crime economic incentives and attitudes among the unemployed Their studies reveal that contrary to popular assumptions no single factor is the predominant cause of black youth employment problems They show among other significant factors that where female employment is high black youth employment is low that even in areas where there are many jobs black youths get relatively few of them that the perceived risks and rewards of crime affect decisions to work or to engage in illegal activity and that churchgoing and aspirations affect the success of black youths in finding employment Altogether these papers illuminate a broad range of economic and social factors which must be understood by policymakers before the black youth employment crisis can be successfully addressed

Notes of a Native Daughter Keri Day, 2021-06-17 Bearing witness to more liberating futures in theological education In Notes of a Native Daughter Keri Day testifies to structural inequalities and broken promises of inclusion through the eyes of a black woman who experiences herself as both stranger and friend to prevailing models of theological education. Inviting the reader into her religious world, a world that is African American and more specifically Afro Pentecostal, she not only uncovers the colonial impulses of theological education in the United States but also proposes that the lived religious practices and commitments of progressive Afro Pentecostal communities can help the theological academy decolonize and envision multiple futures. Deliberately speaking in the testimonial form rather than the more conventional mode of philosophical argument, Day bears witness to the truth revealed in her and others' lived experience in a voice that is unapologetically visceral, emotive, demonstrative, and ultimately communal. With prophetic insight, she addresses this moment when the fastest growing group of students and teachers are charismatic and neo-Pentecostal people of color for whom theological education is currently a site of both hope and harm. Calling for repentance, she provides a redemptive narrative for moving forward into a diverse future that can be truly liberating only when it allows itself to be formed by its people and the Spirit moving in them.

Black cumin (Nigella sativa) seeds: Chemistry, Technology, Functionality, and Applications Mohamed Fawzy Ramadan, 2020-11-24

Recent developments in the field of nutrition have led to increased interest in herbs and medicinal plants as phytochemical-rich sources for functional food, nutraceuticals, and drugs. As research sheds light on the therapeutic potential of various bioactive phytochemicals, the demand for plant extracts and oils has increased. Black cumin or black seeds, Nigella sativa, have particularly widespread nutritional and medicinal applications. In traditional medicine, black seeds are used to manage fatigue and chronic headache. Black seed oil is used as an antiseptic and analgesic remedy and for treatment of joint pain and stiffness and can be mixed with sesame oil to treat dermatosis, abdominal disorders, cough, headache, fever, liver ailments, jaundice, sore eyes, and hemorrhoids. Thymoquinone, the main constituent in black seed volatile oil, has been shown to suppress carcinogenesis. Black cumin (Nigella sativa) seeds: Chemistry, Technology, Functionality, and Applications presents in detail the chemical composition, therapeutic properties, and functionality of high-value oils, phytochemicals, nutrients, and volatiles of the Nigella sativa seed. Organized by formulation (seeds, fixed oil, essential oil, and extracts), chapters break this seed down into its chemical constituents and explore their role in the development of pharmaceuticals, nutraceuticals, novel food, natural drugs, and feed. Following numerous reports on the health-promoting activities of Nigella sativa, this is the first comprehensive presentation of the functional, nutritional, and pharmacological traits of Nigella sativa seeds and seed oil constituents.
