Talking On The Page Editing Aboriginal Oral Texts:

Talking on the Page Laura J. Murray, Keren Rice, 1999-01-01 Essays examine the problems inherent in attempting to record oral cultures for a visual society What happens when the oral stories beliefs or histories of North American Native peoples are transferred to paper or other media Talking on the Page: Editing Aboriginal Oral Texts Laura Jane ed. | Rice Murray (Keren Dichter ed), Orality, Textuality, and the Homeric Epics Jonathan L. Ready, 2019-07-30 Written texts of the Iliad and the Odyssey achieved an unprecedented degree of standardization after 150 BCE but what about Homeric texts prior to the emergence of standardized written texts Orality Textuality and the Homeric Epics sheds light on that earlier history by drawing on scholarship from outside the discipline of classical studies to query from three different angles what it means to speak of Homeric poetry together with the word text Part I utilizes work in linguistic anthropology on oral texts and oral intertextuality to illuminate both the verbal and oratorical landscapes our Homeric poets fashion in their epics and what the poets were striving to do when they performed Looking to folkloristics part II examines modern instances of the textualization of an oral traditional work in order to reconstruct the creation of written versions of the Homeric poems through a process that began with a poet dictating to a scribe Combining research into scribal activity in other cultures especially in the fields of religious studies and medieval studies with research into performance in the field of linguistic anthropology part III investigates some of the earliest extant texts of the Homeric epics the so called wild papyri By looking at oral texts dictated texts and wild texts this volume traces the intricate history of Homeric texts from the Archaic to the Hellenistic period long before the emergence of standardized written texts in a comparative and interdisciplinary study that will benefit researchers in a number of disciplines across the humanities Born in the Blood Brian Swann, 2011-06-01 Since Europeans first encountered Native Americans problems relating to language and text translation have been an issue Translators needed to create the tools for translation such as dictionaries still a difficult undertaking today Although the fact that many Native languages do not share even the same structures or classes of words as European languages has always made translation difficult translating cultural values and perceptions into the idiom of another culture renders the process even more difficult In Born in the Blood noted translator and writer Brian Swann gathers some of the foremost scholars in the field of Native American translation to address the many and varied problems and concerns surrounding the process of translating Native American languages and texts The essays in this collection address such important questions as what should be translated how should it be translated who should do translation and even should the translation of Native literature be done at all This volume also includes translations of songs and stories Canadian Exploration Literature Germaine Warkentin, 2007-01-01 First published by Oxford University Press in 1993 Exploration Literature is a groundbreaking collection of early writing inspired by the opening of a continent With maps notes and thumbnail biographies of these early writers Exploration Literature is an entry point for both the casual reader and the student of Canadian literature into the beginnings of a literate response to the awe and wonder inspired by an unfolding geography and the literary fundamentals of new nationhood

Braided Learning Susan D. Dion, 2022-06-01 The Truth and Reconciliation Commission and Indigenous activism have made many Canadians uncomfortably aware of how little they know about First Nations Métis and Inuit peoples In Braided Learning Lenape Potawatomi scholar and educator Susan Dion shares her approach to learning and teaching about Indigenous histories and perspectives Métis leader Louis Riel illuminated the connection between creativity and identity in his declaration My people will sleep for a hundred years but when they awake it will be the artists who give them their spirits back Using the power of stories and artwork Dion offers respectful ways to address challenging topics including settler colonialism treaties the Indian Act residential schools the Sixties Scoop and the drive for self determination Braided Learning draws on Indigenous knowledge to make sense of a difficult past decode unjust conditions in the present and work toward a more equitable future

Eastern Cherokee Stories Sandra Muse Isaacs, 2019-07-03 Throughout our Cherokee history writes Joyce Dugan former principal chief of the Eastern Band of Cherokee Indians our ancient stories have been the essence of who we are These traditional stories embody the Cherokee concepts of Gadugi working together for the good of all and Duyvhta walking the right path and teach listeners how to understand and live in the world with reverence for all living things In Eastern Cherokee Stories Sandra Muse Isaacs uses the concepts of Gadugi and Duyvhta to explore the Eastern Cherokee oral tradition and to explain how storytelling in this tradition as both an ancient and a contemporary literary form is instrumental in the perpetuation of Cherokee identity and culture Muse Isaacs worked among the Eastern Cherokees of North Carolina recording stories and documenting storytelling practices and examining the Eastern Cherokee oral tradition as both an ancient and contemporary literary form For the descendants of those Cherokees who evaded forced removal by the U S government in the 1830s storytelling has been a vital tool of survival and resistance and as Muse Isaacs shows us this remains true today as storytelling plays a powerful role in motivating and educating tribal members and others about contemporary issues such as land reclamation cultural regeneration and language revitalization The stories collected and analyzed in this volume range from tales of creation and origins that tell about the natural world around the homeland to post Removal stories that often employ Native humor to present the Cherokee side of history to Cherokee and non Cherokee alike The persistence of this living oral tradition as a means to promote nationhood and tribal sovereignty to revitalize culture and language and to present the Indigenous view of history and the land bears testimony to the tenacity and resilience of the Cherokee people the Ani Giduwah Picturing Worlds David Stirrup,2020-05-01 Paying attention to the uses that Anishinaabe authors make of visual images and marks made on surfaces such as rock bark paper and canvas David Stirrup argues that such marks whether ancient pictographs or contemporary paintings intervene in artificial divisions like that separating precolonial oral from postcontact alphabetically literate societies Examining the ways that writers including George Copway Jane Johnston Schoolcraft Gordon Henry Louise Erdrich Gerald Vizenor and others deploy the visual establishes frameworks for continuity resistance and sovereignty in that space where conventional narratives of settlement read rupture This book is a significant contribution to studies of the ways traditional forms of inscription support and amplify the oral tradition and in turn how both the method and aesthetic of inscription contribute to contemporary literary aesthetics and the politics of representation
