Cannibal Fictions Jeff Berglund, 2006 Objects of fear and fascination cannibals have long signified an elemental otherness an existence outside the bounds of normalcy In the American imagination the figure of the cannibal has evolved tellingly over time as Jeff Berglund shows in this study encompassing a strikingly eclectic collection of cultural literary and cinematic texts Cannibal Fictions brings together two discrete periods in U S history the years between the Civil War and World War I the high water mark in America's imperial presence and the post Vietnam era when the nation was beginning to seriously question its own global agenda Berglund shows how P T Barnum in a traveling exhibit featuring so called Fiji cannibals served up an alien other for popular consumption while Edgar Rice Burroughs in his Tarzan of the Apes series tapped into similar anxieties about the eruption of foreign elements into a homogeneous culture Turning to the last decades of the twentieth century Berglund considers how treatments of cannibalism variously perpetuated or subverted racist sexist and homophobic ideologies rooted in earlier times Fannie Flagg's novel Fried Green Tomatoes invokes cannibalism to new effect offering an explicit critique of racial gender and sexual politics an element to a large extent suppressed in the movie adaptation Recurring motifs in contemporary Native American writing suggest how Western expansion has cannibalistically laid the seeds of its own destruction And James Dobson's recent efforts to link the pro life agenda to allegations of cannibalism in China testify still further to the currency and pervasiveness of this powerful trope By highlighting practices that preclude the many from becoming one these representations of cannibalism Berglund argues call into question the comforting national narrative of e pluribus unum

The Columbia History of American Poetry Jay Parini, 1993-12-23 New York Times Book Review Margaret Atwood Shannon Hengen, Ashley Thomson, 2007-05-22 Authors Shannon Hengen and Ashley Thomson have assembled a reference guide that covers all of the works written by the acclaimed Canadian author Margaret Atwood since 1988 including her novels Cat's Eye The Robber Bride Alias Grace and the 2000 Booker Prize winner The Blind Assassin. Rather than just including Atwood's books, this guide includes all of Atwood's works including articles, short stories, letters, and individual poetry. Adaptations of Atwood's works are also included, as are some of her more public quotations. Secondary entries, i.e. interviews, scholarly resources, and reviews, are first sorted by type and then arranged alphabetically by author to allow greater ease of navigation. The individual chapters are organized chronologically, with each subdivided into seven categories: Atwood's Works, Adaptations, Quotations, Interviews, Scholarly Resources, Reviews of Atwood's Works, and Reviews of Adaptations of Atwood's Works. The book also includes a chapter entitled Atwood on the Web, as well as extensive author and subject indexes. This new bibliography significantly enhances access to Atwood material, a feature that will be welcomed by university, public, and school librarians. Margaret Atwood: A Reference Guide, 1988-2005 will appeal not only to Atwood scholars but to students and fans of one of Canada's greatest writers.

Reading, Learning, Teaching Toni Morrison Karen F. Stein, 2009. Reading Learning Teaching Toni Morrison draws on contemporary scholarship and Morrison's own commentary to explicate all of her novels published to date, including her 2008 novel A Mercy. Morrison, the 1993 Nobel Prize winner, is an unabashedly confrontational author. Her profound and complex novels address problems such as slavery, violence, poverty, and sexual abuse. Morrison's work encompasses a project of total cultural renewal; she reimagines and reaffirms the experience of African Americans from the earliest days of slavery up to the present, avoiding stereotypes or oversimplification. She employs African and Western literary traditions and conventions as a basis for both structure and critique, re-writing some of the master narratives of American culture and history. This book analyzes Morrison's novels in the context of African American history and literature and provides supplemental material to guide teachers and students to understand and appreciate Morrison's novels.

The Testing of Hanna Senesh Ruth Whitman, 1986 Abraxas, 1980 Rhetorical Bodies Jack Selzer, Sharon Crowley, 1999. What significance does the physical material body still have in a world of virtual reality and genetic cloning? How do technology and postmodern rhetoric influence our understanding of the body? And how can our discussion of the body affect the way we handle crises in public policy, the politics of race and ethnicity, issues of family values that revolve around sexual and gender identities, the choices revolving around reproduction and genome projects, and the spread of disease? Leading scholars in rhetoric and communication, as well as literary and cultural studies, address some of the most important topics currently being discussed in the human sciences. The essays collected here suggest the wide range of public arenas in which rhetoric is operative, from abortion clinics and the World Wide Web to the media's depiction of illiteracy and the Donner Party. These studies demonstrate how the discourse of AIDS prevention or Demi Moore's beautiful pregnancy call to mind the physical nature of being human and the ways in which language and other symbols reflect and create the physical world.
