Creating Excellence Vernon G. Smith, 2018-02-16 Creating Excellence Becoming an A School is intended to be used by first year principals who have inherited a school that is failing or not achieving to a desired level as well as by seasoned principals who are struggling to improve their school's academic performance. It can also be used effectively as a textbook for graduate students preparing for a career in educational leadership. The book is straightforward in its presentation of practices and strategies supported by research and theory. It has been written to share the knowledge base, impart the technical skills, and highlight the interpersonal skills recommended to enable educational leaders to create excellence and enable their school to become an A school. Within the chapters, tools, techniques, and concrete examples are offered. Educational leaders are encouraged to select, revise, and adjust proposed actions based on their own judgment and according to their local conditions, faculty, staff, and other stakeholders. Regardless, improving instruction in order to increase student learning must be the focus.

La escuela incluyente y justa Rosa Blanco, François Dubet, Norma González, Edmund T. Hamann, Yves Lenoir, Juan Sánchez García, Juan Carlos Tedesco, Jean-Pierre Terrail, Guadalupe Valdés, Angela Valenzuela, Victor Zúñiga, 2011. El deseo de aportar una nueva visión a los esfuerzos por construir una escuela más incluyente y justa lleva a integrar esta antología comentada que busca convertirse en un utensilio para el magisterio de México. A lo largo de sus páginas se destaca este ideal por ello se titula La escuela incluyente y justa. Con la ayuda de fragmentos de textos de autores nacionales y extranjeros acreditados por sus investigaciones, esta antología sostiene que la justicia social hoy más que antes está en manos de los maestros y los directivos de las escuelas.

Educational Psychology: Constructing Learning Dennis M. McInerney, 2013-08-15. Educational Psychology: Constructing Learning 6e sets the standard for educational psychology texts in Australia and New Zealand with its comprehensive, authoritative, and research-based coverage of the subject. This edition includes completely updated content to reflect recent advances in the discipline, including revised theory into practice features from 39 international developmental psychologists. The author has retained the constructivist approach that made previous editions so engaging and relevant to student teachers, and content has been constructed around the new Australian Profession Standards for Teachers.

Narrowing the Achievement Gap Susan J. Paik, Herbert J. Walberg, 2007-06-04. The subject of minority children's learning has long been the concern of civic leaders, parents, scholars, and educators. The federal legislation No Child Left Behind emphasizes the concern even more. It specifically requires assessing the academic achievement of minority students, particularly in economically disadvantaged areas, and holding schools accountable for their progress. Schools that fail to attain Adequate Yearly Progress face the real possibility of being forced to close if they continually fail to perform. Unlike the past, these are increasingly high-stakes consequences for educators, parents, students, and the schools that serve them. This book is timely and relevant because it addresses these issues and recommends solutions for Latino, Black, and Asian students. This book also has implications for the problems the nation faces in helping all students to learn well, particularly those that lag in academic achievement. In considering the broad problems and in recommending solutions, the book provides breadth, concision, and unique organization. As the introductory chapter makes clear, the book simultaneously considers not only the three most visible minority groups in the U S but draws upon the perspectives of anthropology education ethnic studies psychology and sociology From these several perspectives this book is organized within three broad sections 1 culturally diverse families and schooling 2 issues of immigration and schooling experiences and 3 socio cultural perspectives on teaching learning and development Within each section the authors marshal research literature regarding each ethnic minority group
