Teaching/Writing in Thirdspaces Rhonda C. Grego, Nancy S. Thompson, 2007-12-25 Teaching Writing in Thirdspaces The Studio Approach examines a dynamic approach to teaching composition that reimagines not only the physical space in which writing and learning occurs but also the place occupied by composition in the power structure of universities and colleges In response to financial and programmatic cutbacks at the University of South Carolina in the 1990s authors Rhonda C Grego and Nancy S Thompson used their academic backgrounds in composition and English education along with their personal histories in working class families to look at compositional spaces and places with an eye to challenging the embedded issues of race class and gender within the university hierarchies The result was a supplemental writing program that they called the writing studio The studio model emphasizes individual participation in a small group that allows students to present work they are preparing for outside classes discuss their challenges and refine their ideas with other students and staff facilitators This interactional inquiry is replicated and reinforced by the facilitators who meet in their own small groups to analyze larger patterns possibilities and needs as they arise in their studios Grego and Thompson argue that because the studio is physically and institutionally outside but alongside both students other coursework and the hierarchy of the institution it represents a thirdspace a unique position in which to effect institutional change The focus on interactional inquiry challenges traditional power hierarchies within classrooms and shifts the nature of discourse As a bottom up approach to the development of educational programs within institutions that have different needs demographics and histories the studio model can address a multitude of different institutional needs with little disruption to the curriculum The studio model allows university administrators teachers student aides and students to continually adapt to changing institutional environments with new teaching and learning strategies Teaching Writing in Thirdspaces provides an alternative approach to traditional basic writing courses that can be adopted in educational institutions of all types and at all levels Teaching Academic

Literacy , Next Generation Genres: Teaching Writing for Civic and Academic Engagement Jessica Singer

Early,2022-11-29 Students need updated writing genres and a real reason to write Evolutions in technology and connectivity have brought about significant changes in the ways writing is produced and shared Yet despite monumental shifts in the practice of writing how we teach writing has remained largely static What we need is a new set of genres for writing instruction genres that will speak to students who are already immersed in rich and multifaceted literacy practices through social media gaming and new technologies Jessica S Early s Next Generation Genres provides an alternative framework for a secondary writing curriculum that places a central emphasis on helping students gain the experience they need to write with confidence in academic and civic life If your students eyes glaze over when they face a standard essay assignment perhaps it s time to let them try writing an infographic or a podcast Real-World Writers: A Handbook for Teaching Writing with 7-11 Year Olds Ross Young,Felicity Ferguson,2020-05-28 Real World Writers shows teachers how they can teach their pupils to write well and with pleasure purpose and power It demonstrates how classrooms can be transformed into genuine communities of writers where talking reading writing and sharing give children confidence motivation and a sense of the relevance writing has to their own lives and learning Based on their practical experience and what research says is the most effective practice the authors share detailed guidance on how teachers can provide writing study lessons drawing on what real writers do and how to teach grammar effectively They also share a variety of authentic class writing projects with accompanying teacher notes that will encourage children to use genres appropriately creatively and flexibly The authors simple yet comprehensive approach includes how to teach the processes and craft knowledge involved in creating successful and meaningful texts This book is invaluable for all primary practitioners who wish to teach writing for real Handbook
