Snapshots Up A Comm Pack Ireland:

Snapshot Stories Erika Hanna, 2020-02-06 During the twentieth century men and women across Ireland picked up cameras photographing days out at the beach composing views of Ireland's cities and countryside and recording political events as they witnessed them. Indeed while foreign photographers often still focused on the image of Ireland as bucolic rural landscape Irish photographers snapshotter and professional alike were creating and curating photographs which revealed more complex and diverse images of Ireland. Snapshot Stories explores these stories. Erika Hanna examines a diverse array of photographic sources including family photograph albums studio portraits the work of photography clubs and community photography initiatives alongside the output of those who took their cameras into the streets to record violence and poverty. The volume shows how Irish men and women used photography in order to explore their sense of self and society and examines how we can use these images to fill in the details of Ireland's social history. By exploring this rich array of sources Snapshot Stories asks what it means to see to look to gaze to glance in modern Ireland and explores how conflicts regarding vision and visuality have repeatedly been at the centre of Irish life.

The New Humanitarians Chris E. Stout Ph.D., 2008-11-30 From Braille Without Borders and Unite for Sight to Geekcorps and PeaceWorks humanitarian groups are working worldwide largely in undeveloped countries to better the lives of the residents. Whether they are empowering people with schools for the blind prosthetic limbs the devices to understand and use technology or the information to work for civil peace the men and women of these agencies offer tremendous talent to their causes great dedication and sometimes even risk their lives to complete their missions. Working in war or civil war zones humanitarians with nonprofits non governmental agencies and university connected centers and foundations have been injured kidnapped or killed. Now terrorist events and war crimes are more and more often bringing these self sacrificing workers into the national spotlight by media headlines Their work is doubtless remarkable And so too are the stories of how they developed including the defining moments when their founders felt they could no longer stand by and do nothing In this set of books founders and top officials from humanitarian organizations established in the last 50 years spotlight how and why they began their organizations what their greatest victories and challenges have been and how they run the organizations down to where they get their funding and how they spend it to grow the group and its efforts Led by Chris E Stout named Humanitarian of the Year by the American Psychological Association the contributors here come from across training disciplines including psychology medicine technology science politics social work and business Stout who has worked in Latin American terrorist zones in Vietnam and along the Amazon in Ecuador with Flying Doctors of America has chosen to feature a sample of humanitarian groups across four primary areas medicine environment education and social justice He also concentrates on what he calls guerilla humanitarians those who step into unsafe or unhealthy conditions despite the dangers There is also a concentration on those that have been very successful with on the ground guerilla innovations without a lot of bureaucracy or baloney Above all They are rebels with a cause whose actions speak louder than mere words Stout explains They have all felt a moral duty to serve as vectors of change In addition to being psychologically insightful these volumes hold invaluable practical information
