studies on the grounds that they were merely talented mimics that they were after all birdbrains Experiments performed primarily on pigeons in Skinner boxes demonstrated capacities inferior to those of mammals these results were thought to reflect the capacities of all birds despite evidence suggesting that species such as jays crows and parrots might be capable of more impressive cognitive feats Twenty years ago Irene Pepperberg set out to discover whether the results of the pigeon studies necessarily meant that other birds particularly the large brained highly social parrots were incapable of mastering complex cognitive concepts and the rudiments of referential speech Her investigation and the bird at its center a male Grey parrot named Alex have since become almost as well known as their primate equivalents and no less a subject of fierce debate in the field of animal cognition This book represents the long awaited synthesis of the studies constituting one of the landmark experiments in modern comparative psychology     Field & Stream ,1989-07 FIELD STREAM America s largest outdoor sports magazine celebrates the outdoor experience with great stories compelling photography and sound advice while honoring the traditions hunters and fishermen have passed down for generations     Library Journal ,1987     Fish and Wildlife News U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service,1992     The Publishers Weekly ,2003     Audio Video Review Digest ,1990     Fish and Wildlife News ,1986     The New Beacon ,1979
