Civil Society in Asia Wayne Hudson, 2024-11-01 In East and Southeast Asia the creation of civil society is a crucial yet most difficult issue Europeans have had the luxury of centuries in a slow moving world characterised by weak governments in which the foundation institutions norms and values of civil society could ferment and develop Asia however faces this task when a nation s currency can devalue in seconds destabilising its government and when states have far more effective means of surveillance suppression and terror This book examines these issues and shows that a better understanding of civil society in the Asian context is central to promoting contemporary political social and economic reform in Asia It will appeal to students and teachers of politics law and sociology because it provides new perspectives on how to understand civil society drawing on Asian examples as well as indications for rethinking what civil society means in Asia Individual chapters combine theoretical and empirical issues in a way which fills a major gap in the literature Henceforth works about civil society will need to take more account of the Asian evidence and Asianists will need to have a clear idea of what civil society in Asia means

Researching the global everyday of women activists 1 1 Researching the global everyday of women activists Experiencing and doing globalisation Going through the broad spectrum of globalisation research and literature one might be astonished at how much it assumes the force of global change and how little of this literature demonstrates this force in an empirically grounded way This study being based on six months of empirical research in Malaysia in 2004 sets out to counter this lack of thick description of globalisation processes It takes up the challenge of researching the global everyday Appadurai 2000 18 of civil society actors in Malaysia and focuses on how social activists belonging to different branches of the women s movement selectively appropriate transform and even create global meanings and materialise them in local practices The methodological endeavour of combining globalisation research and ethnography has been taken up by a diversity of authors Burawoy and his research team have developed a complex methodological framework by focusing on the experiential dimensions of globalisation They want to produce a grounded globalisation or perspectives on globalisations from below Burawoy 2000b 338 341 This perspective is very fruitful as the notion of experiencing globalisation as forces connections and imaginations Burawoy et al eds 2000 relocates the global in the local and ties both together in mutual constitution World Heritage and Urban Politics in Melaka, Malaysia Pierpaolo Giosa, 2025-10-01 Already celebrated as a busy entrep t and the most glorious of the Malay kingdoms of the past Melaka has been on the UNESCO World Heritage List together with George Town since 2008 on the strength of its multi ethnic and multi religious urban fabric Yet contrary to the expectations of heritage experts and aficionados the global mission of safeguarding cultural heritages has become a tumultuous issue on the ground In World Heritage and Urban Politics in Melaka Malaysia A Cityscape below the Winds how the World Heritage label has been and continue to be used by different actors such as international organizations nation states and society at large to generate new economic revenues as well as to attract tourists and investments for large scale real estate development projects is analyzed revealing the complex and often contradictory stories behind heritage designations in urban milieus

What is the relevance of civil society to people empowerment effective governance and deepening democracy This book addresses this question by examining the activities and public participation of non governmental organizations NGOs in the areas of religion ethnicity gender and the environment Examples are taken from Indonesia Malaysia the Philippines Singapore Thailand and Vietnam State regimes attempts to co opt the concept or reject it as alien to Asian values have apparently not turned out as expected This is evident from the fact that many Southeast Asian citizens are inspired by the civil society concept and now engage in public discourse and participation The experience of civil society in Southeast Asia shows that its impact or lack of impact on democratization and democracy depends on a variety of factors not only within civil society itself but also within the state Historical Dictionary of Malaysia Ooi Keat Gin, 2017-12-18 Malaysia is one of the most intriguing countries in Asia in many respects It consists of several distinct areas not only geographically but ethnically as well along with Malays and related groups the country has a very large Indian and Chinese population The spoken languages obviously vary at home although Bahasa Malaysia is the official language and nearly everyone speaks English There is also a mixture of religions with Islam predominating among the Malays and others Hinduism and Sikhism among the Indians mainly Daoism and Confucianism among the Chinese but also some Christians as well as older indigenous beliefs in certain places This second edition of Historical Dictionary of Malaysia contains a chronology an introduction appendixes and an extensive bibliography The dictionary section has over 500 cross referenced entries on important personalities politics economy foreign relations religion and culture This book is an excellent resource for students researchers and anyone wanting to know more about Malaysia
