The Bibliographic Record And Information Technology Second Edition:

The Bibliographic Record and Information Technology Ronald Hagler, 1997 When patrons use a library catalogue they seek information without regard to the library's cataloguing technology. It is crucial then that bibliographic records provide complete detailed information on each item no matter what process or media format is in place. Encyclopedia of Information Science and Technology, Second Edition Khosrow-Pour, D.B.A., Mehdi, 2008-10-31 This set of books represents a detailed compendium of authoritative research based entries that define the contemporary state of knowledge on technology. Provided by publisher. The Organization of Information Arlene G. Taylor, Daniel N. Joudrey, 2008-12-23 This third edition of Taylor's modern classic continues to articulate the theory principles standards and tools behind information organization. As with previous editions it begins with strong justification for the continued importance of organizing principles and practice. Following a broad overview of the concept and its role in human endeavors Taylor and Joudrey provide a detailed and insightful discussion of such basic retrieval tools as inventories bibliographies catalogs indexes finding aids registers databases major bibliographic utilities and other organizing entities and subsequently trace the development of the organization of recorded information in Western civilization from 2000 B.C.E. to the present. Standards of codification MARC SGML and various DTDs controlled vocabularies and ontologies and Web 2.0 technologies are but a sample of its extensive topical coverage. The Organization of Information remains the title of choice for students and professionals eager to embrace the heritage immediacy and future of this fascinating field of study. Information Retrieval & Library Automation, 1992. The Organization of Information Daniel N. Joudrey, Arlene G. Taylor, 2017-11-27 This fourth edition provides an updated look at information organization featuring coverage of the Semantic Web linked data and EAC CPF new metadata models such as IFLA LRM and RiC and new perspectives on RDA and its implementation. This latest edition of The Organization of Information is a key resource for anyone in the beginning stages of their LIS career as well as longstanding professionals and paraprofessionals seeking accurate clear and up to date guidance on information organization activities across the discipline. The book begins with a historical look at information organization methods covering libraries archives museums and online settings. It then addresses the types of retrieval tools used throughout the discipline catalogs finding aids indexes bibliographies and search engines before describing the functionality of systems explaining the basic principles of system design and defining how they affect information organization. The principles and functionality of metadata is next with coverage of the types functions tools and models particularly FRBR IFLA LRM RDF and how encoding works for use and sharing for example MARC XML schemas and linked data approaches. The latter portion of the resource describes specific activities related to the creation of metadata for resources. These chapters offer an overview of the major issues challenges and standards used in the information professions addressing topics such as resource description including standards found in RDA DACS and CCO access points authority control subject analysis controlled vocabularies notably LCSH MeSH Sears and AAT and categorization systems such as DDC and LCC

Introduction to Cataloging and Classification Daniel N. Joudrey, Arlene G. Taylor, David P. Miller, 2015-09-29 A new edition of this best selling textbook reintroduces the topic of library cataloging from a fresh modern perspective Not many books merit an eleventh edition but this popular text does Newly updated Introduction to Cataloging and Classification provides an introduction to descriptive cataloging based on contemporary standards explaining the basic tenets to readers without previous experience as well as to those who merely want a better understanding of the process as it exists today The text opens with the foundations of cataloging then moves to specific details and subject matter such as Functional Requirements for Bibliographic Records FRBR Functional Requirements for Authority Data FRAD the International Cataloging Principles ICP and RDA Unlike other texts the book doesn't presume a close familiarity with the MARC bibliographic or authorities formats ALA's Anglo American Cataloging Rules 2nd Edition revised AACR2R or the International Standard Bibliographic Description ISBD Subject access to library materials is covered in sufficient depth to make the reader comfortable with the principles and practices of subject cataloging and classification In addition the book introduces MARC BIBFRAME and other approaches used to communicate and display bibliographic data Discussions of formatting presentation and administrative issues complete the book questions useful for review and study appear at the end of each chapter

Education and Training for Catalogers and Classifiers Ruth C. Carter, 1987 Education and Training for Catalogers and Classifiers discusses the education of librarians particularly the teaching of cataloging as part of that education It argues that relevant high quality library education and on the job training programs are necessary in preparing librarians to meet the challenges of understanding the issues of bibliographic control and relating a library's catalog to regional national and international bibliographic databases

Cataloging Collaborations and Partnerships Rebecca L. Mugridge, 2016-03-16 Cataloging Collaborations and Partnerships provides the reader with many examples of successful methods in which libraries have collaborated with each other to achieve common goals Addressing a variety of cataloging and managerial challenges in national public academic and international libraries and other organizations it will be enlightening to readers who are investigating new ways of meeting their patrons' needs The collaborative efforts described in this book fall into a number of broad categories cooperative cataloging and authority initiatives cataloging partnerships merging and migrating online catalogs development of training and documentation and collaborative approaches to special projects Included are four chapters that address collaborative projects in Europe the West Indies the Galapagos Islands and South Sudan Catalogers managers and administrators will find inspiration in these important and in some cases historic collaborations They will understand how collaborations and partnerships in cataloging will help them achieve more by sharing resources and expertise sharing the burden of new projects and initiatives and fostering innovation and new ways of thinking This book was published as a triple special issue of Cataloging and Classification Quarterly
