The Biggest House In The World:

The Big House George Howe Colt, 2012-08-07 Faced with the sale of the century old family summer house on Cape Cod where he had spent forty two summers George Howe Colt recounts returning for one last stay with his wife and children in this stunning memoir that was a National Book Award Finalist and a New York Times Notable Book of the Year This poignant tribute to the eleven bedroom jumble of gables bays and dormers that watched over weddings divorces deaths anniversaries birthdays breakdowns and love affairs for five generations interweaves Colt s final visit with memories of a lifetime of summers Run down yet romantic The Big House stands not only as a cherished reminder of summer s ephemeral pleasures but also as a powerful symbol of a vanishing way of life

In Front of The Big House Bobby L Dennis, Ser Seshab Heter -C.-M. Boxley, 2025-05-05 Step Into the Shadows Where Power and History Collide In Front of The Big House You Cannot Erase History takes readers on a profound journey into the heart of monumental institutions those imposing structures that silently govern our lives and narratives This compelling exploration reveals the layers of meaning behind the facades of power shedding light on the stories often left untold From the grandeur of architecture to the voices echoing from its steps the book unpacks how these iconic Big Houses embody more than just stone and mortar Discover the intersection of justice race and gender as personal accounts breathe life into the imposing walls confronting the legacies of colonialism and social divides that linger within these spaces Each chapter unravels a new dimension from the socio political implications of public protest to the subtle ways power is maintained through surveillance and control In Front of The Big House doesn t simply recount history it challenges readers to reconsider the narratives that have been constructed and who benefits from them Through riveting case studies comparative global perspectives and deeply human stories it pushes the conversation beyond the physical buildings and into the emotional landscapes shaped by fear hope and resistance Whether you are drawn to architecture social justice or the untold stories of those who stand before these monumental institutions this book offers an eye opening perspective that insists history s imprint cannot be erased It calls for reflection understanding and a reimagining of the spaces that define authority in our world

The Big House Hugh Cameron, Edna Quammie, 2019-09-23 This book arose from a conversation between Hugh Cameron an orthopedic surgeon and Edna Quammie an OR nurse reminiscing about their shared memories It was proposed at a dinner meeting of the Dinosaur Club a group of doctors and nurses and technicians who worked in the operating room in Toronto General Hospital in the seventies and eighties It tells of the thrills and spills sometimes funny sometimes sad about life in the OR at that time which followed Woodstock which in a sense changed a North American generation There are some larger than life characters many now long gone The group felt that this snapshot of history this tale of their youth should be written now while there were some left who would treasure these memories of times past

The Big House After Slavery Amy Feely Morsman, 2010-09-13 Using newspapers periodicals organization records and numerous letters from Virginia plantation families Morsman captures how these frustrated elites made sense of embarrassing postwar changes in the private but also in the public spheres they inhabited Morsman suggests that the planters adaptations may have been carried away from the crumbling plantations by their adult children into the urban house holds of the New South Book Jacket

Zucchi,2023-09-08 Shortlisted for the Architectural Book Awards 2024 Combining architectural and urban thinking in an unusual and engaging way this book presents an integrated approach to architectural theory and design Leon Battista Alberti's assertion in his famous Renaissance treatise that the city is like a big house and the house is in turn like a little city forms the springboard for a series of reflections on architecture's relationship with urbanism and how their once intimate symbiosis unravelled by International Style Modernism can be recovered Explicit references to Alberti's house city phrase have been made by figures as diverse as the architects Louis Kahn Aldo Van Eyck Denys Lasdun and Niels Torp and novelist Italo Calvino But as the book shows thinking of buildings as little cities provides a new lens through which to reappraise the contributions of many other architects including Le Corbusier Frank Lloyd Wright Alvar Aalto Eliel Saarinen Bernard Rudofsky Hans Scharoun Leon Krier Fumihiko Maki Charles Correa and Team 10 In doing so the author identifies common themes that form an unexpected bridgehead between the urban and architectural approaches of Antiquity the Middle Ages Renaissance and 20th century The book explores buildings from across the globe including lesser known projects such as Wright's unbuilt house in Italy or Saarinen's master plan for Cranbrook Academy as well as more recent projects by Niels Torp Behnisch Architekten Sou Fujimoto Peter Barber and WOHA It concludes with practical case studies of residential health education and workplace projects from different countries fulsomely illustrated with many drawings and photographs These show how architectural design viewed through an urban lens provides a conceptual framework for breaking down the scale of large buildings and integrating them with their context And crucially these also show a very accessible way of explaining evolving designs to the intended users and eliciting their participation in the design process The book offers a compelling approach to the design of projects at all scales within an ecological perspective the sense that big and small cities and buildings must be approached holistically if we are to reverse the degradation and depletion of our habitat both natural and man made The Little Lady of the Big House / Маленькая хозяйка Большого дома Джек Лондон,2025-10-16 In the Shadows of the Big House Stephen Small,2023-06-23 In the midst of calls for the removal of Confederate monuments across the South tens of thousands of museums buildings and other historical sites currently comprise a tourist infrastructure of the southern heritage industry Louisiana one of the most prominent and frequently visited states that benefit from this tourism has more than sixty heritage sites housed in former slave plantations These sites contain the remains restorations reconstructions and replicas of antebellum slave cabins and slave quarters In the Shadows of the Big House Twenty First Century Antebellum Slave Cabins and Heritage Tourism in Louisiana is the first book to tackle the role treatment and representation of slave cabins at plantation museum sites in contemporary heritage tourism In this volume author Stephen Small describes and analyzes sixteen twenty first century antebellum slave cabins currently located on three plantation museum sites in Natchitoches Louisiana Oakland Plantation Magnolia Plantation Complex and Melrose Plantation Small traces the historical trajectory of plantations and slave cabins since the Civil War and explores what representations of slavery and slave cabins in these sites convey about the reconfiguration of the past and the rearticulation of history in the present Considering such themes as the role of white ethnic identity in representations of elite whites and the extent and significance of Black voices and Black visions of representations of these plantations Small asks what these sites reveal about social forgetting and social remembering throughout Louisiana and the South He further explores the ways that gender structures the social organization of current sites and the role and influence of the state in the social organization and representations that prevail today
