The Bloodaxe Book of Modern Welsh Poetry Menna Elfyn, John Rowlands, 2003 Welsh is the oldest surviving Celtic language and the most flourishing. For around fifteen centuries Welsh poets have expressed an intense awareness of what it is like to be human in this part of the world in poems of extraordinary range and depth. And despite the global tendency towards homogenisation Welsh poets have fought back drawing inspiration from both the traditional and the contemporary to forge a new and rainbow-like modernism. This wide-ranging anthology of 20th-century Welsh language poetry in English translation by far the most comprehensive of its kind will be a revelation for most readers. It will dispel the romantic images of Welsh poets as bards or druids and blow away any preconceived mists of Celtic twilight. This poetry is full of vitality combining old craftsmanship and daring innovation, humour and angst, the oral and the literary. The selection brings together poets of every hue from magisterial figures like T. Gwynn Jones, R. Williams Parry and Saunders Lewis to folk poets such as Alun Cilie and Dic Jones from cerebral poets Pennar Davies and Bobi Jones to popular entertainers Geraint L. Vgreen and Ifor ap Glyn. There are Chaplinesque poets rebellious and subversive ones lyrical voices and storytellers. The variety is enormous from Welsh performance poetry to song lyrics from the wry social comment of Grahame Davies to the contemporary parables of Gwyneth Lewis who writes different kinds of poems in Welsh and English. This exuberant chorus of voices from the margins of Europe proves that poetry in this minority language is far from stagnant. Poetry Book Society Recommended Translation.

The Bloodaxe Book of Contemporary Indian Poets Jeet Thayil, 2008 Jeet Thayil's definitive selection covers 55 years of Indian poetry in English. It is the first anthology to represent not just the major poets of the past half-century, the canonical writers who have dominated Indian poetry and publishing since the 1950s, but also the different kinds of poetry written by an extraordinary range of younger poets who live in many countries as well as in India. It is a groundbreaking global anthology of 70 poets writing in a common language, responding to shared traditions, different cultures and contrasting lives in the changing modern world. Thayil's starting point is Nissim Ezekiel, the first important modern Indian poet after Tagore who published his first collection in London in 1952 Aiming for verticality rather than chronology Thakur's anthology charts a poetry of astonishing volume and quality It pays homage to major influences including Ezekiel, Dom Moraes and Arun Kolatkar who died within months of each other in 2004 It rediscovers forgotten figures such as Lawrence Bantleman and Gopal Honnalgere and it serves as an introduction to the poets of the future The book also shows that many Indian poets were mining the rich vein of chutnified Salman Rushdie's word Indian English long before novelists like Rushdie and Upamanyu Chatterjee started using it in their fiction It explains why Pankaj Mishra and Amit Chaudhuri have said that Indian poetry in English has a longer more distinguished tradition than Indian fiction in English The Indian poet now lives and works in New York New Delhi London Itanagar Bangalore Berkeley Goa Sheffield Lonavala Montana Aarhus Allahabad Hongkong Montreal Melbourne Calcutta Connecticut Cuttack and various other global corridors While some may have little in common in terms of culture a number of the poets have never lived in India this anthology shows how they are all bound by the intimate histories of a shared English language
