The Snare of the Hunter Helen MacInnes, 1989 The Law of the Lifegivers Claude Brodeur, René Devisch, 2018-12-07 African societies are gifted with a rich creativity often expressed in intimate corporeal terms For the Yaka people of southwestern Congo such manifestations can have individual social or even cosmic significance The Law of the Lifegivers investigates the importance among the Yaka of body and space in their daily life exercise of power and initiatic traditions Through this analysis Devisch and Brodeur show that body desire and symbol are intertwined so that bodily expression can act as sensuous and powerful symbol The domestication of passion and the institutionalizing of a subject are all expressed in bodily terms particularly during initiations the ethical order of law rests on many bodily symbols including the importance of maternal and paternal lifegivers The authors vividly describe the different life giving or life threatening roles which function in this society such as sorcerer diviner therapist and chief as well as the funeral drama which shapes the passage to the afterlife with the ancestors as experienced by the dying subject and his community Through their dialogue and correspondence Devisch and Brodeur an anthropologist and a psychoanalyst respectively bring together two sometimes conflicting intellectual approaches They aim to unravel a truth which is freed as much as possible from the presumption that only the West possesses the knowledge of objective discourse and science Through the interaction the authors reveal the semantic threads located at the very heart of the most vital life giving processes which weave the fabric of the practice and thought of a riveting passionate Africa
