Socallt '03 Ute Lahaie, Pat Pierce, 2004 This publication is a record of the sessions presented during the annual conference of the South Central Association for Language Learning Technology SOCALLT held at the University of Texas at Arlington on March 7 8 2003 All authors are current members of the organization The articles of these proceedings focus on a variety of issues such as new technologies for language learning the integration of technology into the foreign language curriculum the role of technology in the teaching and learning process language media development professional development and language center management Brave New Digital Classroom, Second Edition Robert J. Blake, 2013-03-28

Brave New Digital Classroom examines the most effective ways to utilize technology in language learning. The author deftly interweaves the latest results of pedagogical research with descriptions of the most successful computer assisted language learning CALL projects to show how to implement technology in the foreign language curriculum to assist the second language acquisition process. This fully updated second edition includes new chapters on the latest electronic resources including gaming and social media and discusses the realities and potential of distance learning for second language acquisition. The author examines the web CALL applications and computer mediated communication CMC and suggests how the new technologically assisted curriculum will work for the foreign language curriculum. Rather than advocating new technologies as a replacement for activities that can be done equally well with traditional processes, the author envisions a radical change as teachers rethink their strategies and develop their competence in the effective use of technology in language teaching and learning. Directed at all language teachers from the elementary school to postsecondary levels, the book is ideal for graduate level courses on second language pedagogy. It also serves as an invaluable reference for experienced researchers, CALL developers, department chairs, and administrators.

Brave New Digital Classroom Robert J. Blake, Gabriel Guillén, 2020-02-20 Robert Blake now with Gabriel Guillén updates his successful book 1st ed 2008 2nd ed 2013 on how to teach foreign languages using technology. Brave New Digital Classroom touches on all of the key concepts and challenges of teaching with technology, focusing on issues specific to FLL or L2 learning and CALL. Originally referred to as computer assisted language learning, CALL has come to encompass any kind of learning that uses digital tools for language learning. This edition reframes the conversation to account for how technology has been integrated into our lives. Blake and Guillén address the ways technology can help with L2: how to choose the right digital tools, how to use those tools effectively, and how technology can impact literacy and identity. The book is primed for use in graduate courses; terminology is in bold and a comprehensive glossary is included. Each chapter finishes with a short list of references for further reading on the topic and discussion questions. The authors provide short interview videos free via GUP website to enhance discussions on each chapter's topic.

The Handbook of Technology and Second Language Teaching and Learning Carol A. Chapelle, Shannon Sauro, 2017-06-28 The Handbook of Technology and Second Language Teaching and Learning presents a comprehensive exploration of the impact of technology on the field of second language learning. The rapidly evolving language technology interface has propelled dramatic changes in and increased opportunities for second language teaching and learning. Its influence has been felt no less keenly in the approaches and methods of assessing learners' language and researching language teaching and learning. Contributions from a team of international scholars make up the Handbook, consisting of four parts: language teaching and learning through technology, the technology pedagogy interface, technology for L2 assessment and research, and development of technology for language learning. It considers how technology assists in all areas of language development, the emergence of pedagogy at the intersection of language and technology, technology in language

Language Teaching with Video-Based Technologies

Michael Thomas, Christel Schneider, 2020-07-03 This book explores the implications of technology mediated project based language learning for CALL teacher development focusing on the role of video based instruction in elucidating challenges and opportunities to promote learner creativity in the language classroom The volume builds on existing literature on project based language learning by extending the focus on the affordances of machinima digital video created by teachers and learners to capture experience in 3D immersive games or virtual worlds Drawing on data from a large scale research project featuring case studies that examine different facets of CALL teacher education the book calls attention to language learning and teaching strategies that encourage both learners and teachers to develop innovative approaches in the language classroom and how such approaches promote the integration of lifelong learning skills alongside traditional linguistic competencies Offering a dynamic contribution to the growing literature on the interface of language learning and teaching and technology this book will appeal to students and researchers in applied linguistics and language and education as well as those interested in the latest developments in CALL

Teaching Languages with Technology Euline Cutrim Schmid, Shona Whyte, 2014-11-03 This book draws on theories of second language acquisition SLA to illustrate how interactive white board technology can be exploited to support language acquisition It examines interaction collaboration and negotiation of meaning and focus on form in the communicative language classroom in primary secondary and vocational schools In recent years new technologies have been incorporated into second and foreign language education as tools for implementing teaching methodologies IWBs have established their role in the field of computer assisted language learning CALL and are an effective and inspiring tool which motivates both teachers and learners Although the number of IWBs in classrooms has rapidly increased over the past decade in many parts of the world teacher training materials and pedagogical support for the design evaluation and implementation of IWB based materials in the foreign language classroom has not kept pace Research also shows that language teachers do not always use IWBs in pedagogically sound ways There is a real need for the development of training models and examples of good practice which can support teachers in developing the necessary competencies for exploiting the IWB in ways consistent with current theories of language teaching pedagogy This book provides that best practice and gives a full account of in depth research in an accessible manner

Teaching Languages Online Carla Meskill, Natasha Anthony, 2015-07-30 This new edition of Teaching Languages Online supports the professional development of language educators as they teach all or part of their courses online Containing extensive additions this revised edition includes new models illustrations and heuristics to further support research based conceptualization creativity and practice In non technical prose with emphasis on excellence in pedagogical practice the text takes both the new and experienced language instructor through the nuts and bolts of online teaching practices using a wide range of examples to illustrate these practices As well as providing new resources and models this new edition also considers the impact of broader technological and pedagogical changes including mobility learning on the move and learning in 3D environments

Disruptive Technologies and the Language Classroom Regine Hampel, 2019-11-06 Although new technologies are embedded in students lives today there is often an assumption that their use is transparent inconsequential or a distraction This book combines complex systems theory with sociocultural theory and the multimodal theory of communication providing an innovative theoretical framework to examine how communication and meaning making in the language classroom have developed over time how technology impacts on meaning making and what the implications are for learners teachers institutions and policy makers Recent studies provide evidence for the disruptive effect of technology which has resulted in a phase shift that is reshaping language education by creating new interaction patterns allowing for multimodal communication and introducing real world communication into the classroom The book proposes ways of responding to this shift before concluding that the new technologies are radically transforming the way we learn It is likely to appeal to a range of readers including students academics teachers and policy makers

Changing Language Education Through CALL Randall P. Donaldson, Margaret A. Haggstrom, 2006-04-18 The last twenty years has seen a huge evolution in approaches to language learning due to new technology as well changing theories on how to best teach languages Recognising the key relationship between research practice and program development Changing Language Education Through CALL is an important text advocating change that makes effective use of new research into learning styles as well as new technology Bringing together sixteen internationally respected experts in second language acquisition and computer technologies it presents teachers with user friendly flexible ways to incorporate technology into the language learning process and provides both the theoretical and practical basis for CALL applications across a broad spectrum of teaching styles textbooks and courses Practical and clearly presented each chapter in this book concentrates on the learning process and the teacher's role in facilitating this through the proper and effective use of technology thus ensuring that the partnership of pedagogical expertise and technological innovation remains the work's focus Teacher Education in CALL Philip Hubbard, Mike Levy, 2006-01-01 This volume addresses the need for a more considered and systematic approach to teacher education and training in Computer Assisted Language Learning CALL in all its forms Technology Enhanced Language Learning Network Based Language Learning Information and Communication Technologies for Language Learning and so on The 20 chapters of the book are divided into five parts 1 foundations of teacher education in CALL 2 CALL degree programs 3 CALL pre service courses 4 CALL in service projects courses and workshops 5 alternatives to formal CALL training The chapters cover a broad range of levels environments countries and languages Rather than simply offering inspired speculation the chapters provide practical information to readers reporting on what has actually been done in a wide variety of teacher education programs and courses around the world In many cases the chapters describe how programs and courses have evolved and include either qualitative or quantitative research or both to inform the structure of CALL courses tasks and activities

Teaching Languages with Technology Euline Cutrim Schmid, Shona Whyte, 2014 Computer-Assisted Foreign Language Teaching and Learning: Technological Advances Zou, Bin, 2013-01-31 Educational technologies continue to advance the ways in which we teach and learn As these technologies continue to improve our communication with one another computer assisted foreign language learning has provided a more efficient way of communication between different languages Computer Assisted Foreign Language Teaching and Learning Technological Advances highlights new research and an original framework that brings together foreign language teaching experiments and testing practices that utilize the most recent and widely used e learning resources This comprehensive collection of research will offer linguistic scholars language teachers students and policymakers a better understanding of the importance and influence of e learning in second language acquisition
