The Big Idea Of Heritage Memories:

The Big Idea Book of Heritage Memories Jesse Lee Young, 2001 Ancestry magazine ,2002-03 Ancestry magazine focuses on genealogy for today's family historian with tips for using Ancestry.com advice from family history experts and success stories from genealogists across the globe Regular features include Found by Megan Smolenyak reader submitted heritage recipes Howard Wolinsky's tech driven NextGen feature articles a timeline how to tips for Family Tree Maker and insider insight to new tools and records at Ancestry.com Ancestry magazine is published 6 times yearly by Ancestry Inc parent company of Ancestry.com Colonial Heritage, Memory and Sustainability in Africa Munyaradzi Mawere, R. Mubaya, 2015-12-13 This book serves as a drive and medium for constructive analysis critical thinking and informed change in the broad area of cultural heritage studies In Africa how to overturn the gory effects and reverse the wholesale obnoxious and unpardonable losses suffered from the excruciating experience of colonialism in a manner that empowers the present and future generations remains a burning question Colonial and liberation war heritage have received insignificant attention The relevance nature and politics at play when it comes to the role of memory and colonial heritage in view of nation building and sustainability on the continent is yet to receive careful practical and theoretical attention and scrutiny from both heritage scholars and governments Yet colonial heritage has vast potentials that if harnessed could reverse the gargantuan losses of colonialism and promote sustainable development in Africa The book critically reflects on the opportunities constraints and challenges of colonial heritage across Africa It draws empirical evidence from its focus on Zimbabwe South Africa Nigeria Ghana Zambia and Mozambique to advance the thesis that cultural heritage in Africa and in particular colonial heritage faces challenges of epic proportions that require urgent attention Heritage, Memory and the Politics of Identity Yvonne Whelan, 2016-04-22 The study of the cultural landscape has gained momentum in recent years revealing new insights to geographers archaeologists sociologists and architects The cultural landscape is often viewed as an emblematic site and thus a key player in the heritage process This book explores the overlapping and often complex relationships between identity memory heritage and the cultural landscape It provides an overview of new approaches in the study of these relationships combined with evidence from Ireland England Scotland and the United States These case studies demonstrate the significance of the past in the contemporary construction of identity narratives and draw attention to the powerful role of monuments and parades as sites of cultural heritage The focus then shifts to the way in which heritage has become politicized for various ends demonstrating the changing perception of particular heritage sites and buildings and the role that this has played in constructing and reconstructing particular identities Social Memory Technology Karen Worcman, Joanne Garde-Hansen, 2016-02-19 Memory is a fundamental aspect of being and becoming intimately entwined with space time place landscape emotion imagination and identity Memory studies is a burgeoning field of enquiry drawing from a range of social science arts and humanities disciplines including human geography sociology cultural studies media studies heritage and museum studies psychology and history This book is a critically theorised practical exposition of how media and technology are used to make memories for museums archives social movements and community projects looking at specific cases in the UK and Brazil where the authors have put these theories into practice The authors define the protocol they present as social memory technology Critically this book is about learning to deal with our pasts and learning new methods of connecting our pasts across cultures toward a shared understanding and application of memory technologies

Sites of Popular Music Heritage Sara Cohen,Robert Knifton,Marion Leonard,Les Roberts,2014-08-27 This volume examines the location of memories and histories of popular music and its multiple pasts exploring the different places in which popular music can be situated including the local physical site the museum storeroom and exhibition space and the digitized archive and display space made possible by the internet Contributors from a broad range of disciplines such as archive studies popular music studies media and cultural studies leisure and tourism sociology museum studies communication studies cultural geography and social anthropology visit the specialized locus of popular music histories and heritage offering diverse set of approaches Popular music studies has increasingly engaged with popular music histories exploring memory processes and considering identity collective and cultural memory and notions of popular culture s heritage values yet few accounts have spatially located such trends to focus on the spaces and places where we encounter and engender our relationship with popular music s history and legacies This book offers a timely re evaluation of such sites reinserting them into the narratives of popular music and offering new perspectives on their function and significance within the production of popular music heritage Bringing together recent research based on extensive fieldwork from scholars of popular music studies cultural sociology and museum studies alongside the new insights of practice based considerations of current practitioners within the field of popular music heritage this is the first collection to address the interdisciplinary interest in situating popular music histories heritages and pasts The book will therefore appeal to a wide and growing academic readership focused on issues of heritage cultural memory and popular music and provide a timely intervention in a field of study that is engaging scholars from across a broad spectrum of disciplinary backgrounds and theoretical perspectives

Memory Institutions and Sámi Heritage Trude Fonneland,Rossella Ragazzi,2024-11-29 With a focus on S pmi the transcultural and transnational homeland of the S mi people this book presents case studies and theoretical frameworks which explore the ways in which memory institutions such as museums archives and festivals participate in and guide processes of appropriation decolonization and memory making The destruction and concealment of S mi objects in both private and museum collections worldwide have impacted S mi knowledge systems disrupting local ways of knowing Appreciation and reappropriation are important acts of decolonization which seek to create openings for reconnection to traditions languages and practices that were forcibly suppressed in the past Western memory institutions such as museums archives and galleries have had a great impact on how heritage has been collected stored conserved and organized within closed walls and glass cases As the new museology movement developed in the 1990s numerous examples revealed how difficult it became for researchers and public alike to access heritage Considering the proliferation of cultural interventions and the growth of S mi mobilization which calls into question assumptions about how best to activate and experience S mi cultural heritage and what constitutes appropriate stewardship this book sheds light on initiatives to return artefacts to the S mi community With particular attention to the ways in which S mi self determination and the shifting boundaries between Indigenous and settler identities are articulated challenged and renegotiated it draws on approaches from critical museology and Indigenous methodologies to explore the initiation experience and operationalizing of restitution projects This book will therefore appeal to scholars of cultural studies anthropology sociology and museum and heritage studies as well as to those interested in questions of repatriation restitution and healing processes

Marie Antoinette at Petit Trianon Denise Maier-Barron, 2018-07-11 Marie Antoinette at Petit Trianon challenges common perceptions of the last Queen of France appraising the role she played in relation to the events of French Revolution through an original analysis of contemporary heritage practices and visitor perceptions at her former home the Petit Trianon Controversy and martyrdom have placed Marie Antoinette s image within a spectrum of cultural caricatures that range from taboo to iconic With a foundation in critical heritage studies this book examines the diverse range of contemporary images portraying Marie Antoinette s historical character showing how they affect the interpretation and perception of the Petit Trianon By considering both producers and receivers of these cultural heritage exponents Marie Antoinette s historical figure and the historic house museum of the Petit Trianon the book expands current understandings of twenty first century cultural heritage perceptions in relation to tourism and popular culture A useful case study for academics researchers and postgraduate students of cultural heritage it will also be of interest to historians keepers of house museums and those working in the field of tourism studies

Creative Economy Report 2013 UNESCO, UNDP, 2013-11-14 The special edition of the Report focuses on creative economy at the local level in developing countries It is co published by UNESCO and the United Nations Development Programme UNDP through the UN Office for South South Co operation The Report is organized in two volumes a policy report and a web documentary that brings to life cases and trends and opportunities and challenges of creative economy on the ground The Report confirms the creative economy as one of the most rapidly growing sectors of the world economy and a highly transformative one in terms of income generation job creation and export earnings But this is not all there is to it For unlocking the potential of the creative economy also means promoting the overall creativity of societies affirming the distinctive identity of the places where it flourishes and clusters improving the quality of life there enhancing local image and prestige and strengthening the resources for the imagining of diverse new futures The evidence provided demonstrates how the cultural and creative industries are at the core of local creative economies in the global South and how they forge new development pathways that encourage creativity and innovation in the pursuit of inclusive equitable and sustainable growth and development that the UN System Task Team on the Post 2015 UN Development Agenda exhorts the international community to take The results of the Report will inform international debates on the post 2015 UN development agenda and the role of culture in sustainable development It speaks to decision makers demonstrating some of the key factors that make creative economy initiatives successful on the ground Heritage, Memory, and Punishment Shu-Mei

Huang,Hyun-Kyung Lee,2019-09-23 Based on a transnational study of decommissioned postcolonial prisons in Taiwan Taipei and Chiayi South Korea Seoul and China Lushun this book offers a critical reading of prisons as a particular colonial product the current restoration of which as national heritage is closely related to the evolving conceptualization of punishment Focusing on the colonial prisons built by the Japanese Empire in the first half of the twentieth century it illuminates how punishment has been considered a subject of modernization while the contemporary use of prisons as heritage tends to reduce the process of colonial modernity to oppression and atrocity thus constituting a heritage of shame and death which postcolonial societies blame upon the former colonizers A study of how the remembering of punishment and imprisonment reflects the attempts of postcolonial cities to re articulate an understanding of the present by correcting the past Heritage Memory and Punishment examines how prisons were designed built partially demolished preserved and redeveloped across political regimes demonstrating the ways in which the selective use of prisons as heritage reframed through nationalism leaves marks on urban contexts that remain long after the prisons themselves are decommissioned As such it will appeal to scholars of sociology geography the built environment and heritage with interests in memory studies and dark tourism
