Black Gondolier and Other Stories Fritz Leiber, John Pelan, 2000 The Image of the Black in Western Art David Bindman, 2010 A pioneering work in the field of art history The Image of the Black in Western Art is a comprehensive series of ten books which offers a lavishly illustrated history of the representations of people of African descent from antiquity to the present Each book includes a series of essays by some of the most distinguished names in art history Ranging from images of Pharaohs created by unknown hands almost 3 500 years ago to the works of the great masters of European and American art such as Bosch Durer Mantegna Rembrandt Rubens Watteau Hogarth Copley and Goya to stunning new media creations by contemporary black artists these books are generously illustrated with beautiful moving and often little known images of black people Black figures queens and slaves saints and soldiers priests and prisoners dancers and athletes children and gods are central to the visual imagination of Western civilization Written in accessible language the extensive and insightful commentaries on the illustrations by distinguished art historians make this series invaluable for the general reader and the specialist alike Horror of Philosophy Eugene Thacker, 2025-10-14 Zero Books presents a new omnibus edition of a cult classic all three volumes of Eugene Thacker's Horror of Philosophy trilogy revised and expanded by the author Across the three volumes of the series Thacker adopts a unique approach reading works of horror as if they were philosophy and works of philosophy as if they were horror leading to far reaching questions Could it be that the more we know about the world the less we understand it Could it be that while everything has been explained nothing has meaning At the center of Thacker's project is the idea of the world without us an increasingly unthinkable world of planetary disasters emerging pandemics and the looming threat of extinction To confront this idea is to confront the limit of our ability to understand the world in which we live not a philosophy of horror but a horror of philosophy The Anthrobscene Jussi Parikka, 2014-10-30 Smartphones laptops tablets and e readers all at one time held the promise of a more environmentally healthy world not dependent on paper and deforestation The result of our ubiquitous digital lives is as we see in The Anthrobscene actually quite the opposite not ecological health but an environmental wasteland where media never die Jussi Parikka critiques corporate and human desires as a geophysical force analyzing the material side of the earth as essential for the existence of media and introducing the notion of an alternative deep time in which media live on in the layer of toxic

Germany and the Black Diaspora Mischa Honeck,Martin Klimke,Anne Kuhlmann,2013-07-01 The rich history of encounters prior to World War I between people from German speaking parts of Europe and people of African descent has gone largely unnoticed in the historical literature not least because Germany became a nation and engaged in colonization much later than other European nations This volume presents intersections of Black and German history over eight centuries while mapping continuities and ruptures in Germans perceptions of Blacks Juxtaposing these intersections demonstrates that negative German perceptions of Blackness proceeded from nineteenth century racial theories and that earlier constructions of race were far more differentiated The contributors present a wide range of Black German encounters from representations of Black saints in religious medieval art to Black Hessians fighting in the American Revolutionary War from Cameroonian children being educated in Germany to African American agriculturalists in Germany s protectorate Togoland Each chapter probes individual and collective responses to these intercultural points of contact African Venice Paul Kaplan,Shaul Bassi,2025-04-15 African Venice is the first guidebook to the extensive historical and contemporary African presence in the city of the lagoons A set of ten walking tours highlights images of Black people in Venetian art from the Middle Ages to the present the afterlife of Shakespeare s Othello the painful local legacies of slavery and Italian colonialism and the remarkable visibility of African and Afro descendant artists at the Venice Biennale These tours are enriched by more than twenty essays poems and reflections that celebrate question and reimagine Venice s Black past and present From premodern paintings and
