The Body and the Text Bruce Clarke, Wendell M. Aycock, 1990 Comparative Literature and Comparative Cultural Studies Steven Tötösy de Zepetnek, 2003 Articles in this volume focus on theories and histories of comparative literature and the field of comparative cultural studies Contributors are Kwaku Asante Darko on African postcolonial literature Hendrik Birus on Goethe's concept of world literature Amiya Dev on comparative literature in India Marian Galik on interliterariness Ernst Grabovszki on globalization new media and world literature Jan Walsh Hokenson on the culture of the context Marko Juvan on literariness Karl S Y Kao on metaphor Kristof Jacek Kozak on comparative literature in Slovenia Manuela Mourao on comparative literature in the USA Jola Skulj on cultural identity Slobodan Sucur on period styles and theory Peter Swirski on popular and highbrow literature Antony Tatlow on textual anthropology William H Thornton on East West power politics in cultural studies Steven Totosy on comparative cultural studies and Xiaoyi Zhou and Q S Tong on comparative literature in China The papers are followed by an index and a bibliography of scholarship in comparative literature and cultural studies compiled by Steven Totosy Steven Aoun and Wendy C Nielsen Literature & Medicine During the Eighteenth Century Marie Mulvey Roberts, Roy Porter, 2022-10-10 First published in 1993 Literature Medicine During the Eighteenth Century analyses the close interplay of medicine and literature by paying special attention to questions of body language and the representation of inner life Although today medicine and literature are widely seen as falling on different sides of the two cultures divide this was not so in the eighteenth century when doctors scientists writers and artists formed a well integrated educated elite Locke Smollett and Goldsmith were doctors and physicians such as Erasmus Darwin doubled as poets Written by leading historians of medicine and eighteenth century literary critics this book uncovers the interconnections between medical and psychological theory and ideas of taste beauty and genius Its contributors explore the rich cultural milieu of the period and investigate the ways in which medicine itself contributed to informing a gendered discourse of the world This book will be of interest to historians literary scholars and medical historians New Directions in Literature and Medicine Studies Stephanie M. Hilger, 2017-11-11 This book is situated in the field of medical humanities and the articles continue the dialogue between the disciplines of literature and medicine that was initiated in the 1970s and has continued with ebbs and flows since then Recently the need to renew that interdisciplinary dialogue between these two fields which are both concerned with the human condition has resurfaced in the face of institutional challenges such as shrinking resources and the disappearance of many spaces devoted to the exchange of ideas between humanists and scientists This volume presents cutting edge research by scholars keen on not only maintaining but also enlivening that dialogue They come from a variety of cultural academic and disciplinary backgrounds and their essays are organized in four thematic clusters pedagogy the mind body connection alterity and medical practice Latin American and Iberian Perspectives on Literature and Medicine Patricia Novillo-Corvalán, 2015-06-05 This is the first study to examine the representation of illness disability and cultural pathologies in modern and contemporary Iberian and Latin American literature Innovative and interdisciplinary the collection situates medicine as an important and largely overlooked discourse in these literatures while also considering the social political religious symbolic and metaphysical dimensions underpinning illness Investigating how Hispanic and Lusophone writers have reflected on the personal and cultural effects of illness it raises central questions about how medical discourses cultural pathologies and the art of healing in general are represented Essays pay particular attention to the ways in which these interdisciplinary dialogues chart new directions in the study of Hispanic and Lusophone cultures and emerging disciplines such as the medical humanities Addressing a wide range of themes and subjects including bioethics neuroscience psychosurgery medical technologies Darwinian evolution indigenous herbal medicine the rising genre of the pathography and the illness as metaphor trope the collection engages with the discourses of cultural studies gender studies disability studies comparative literature and the medical humanities This book enriches and stimulates scholarship in these areas by showing how much we still have to gain from interdisciplinary studies working at the intersections between the humanities and the sciences Teaching Literature and Medicine Anne Hunsaker Hawkins, Marilyn Chandler

McEntyre, 2016-01-01 Both the actualities and the metaphorical possibilities of illness and medicine abound in literature from the presence of tuberculosis in Franz Kafka's fiction or childbed fever in Mary Shelley's Frankenstein to disease in Thomas Mann's Death in Venice or in Harold Pinter's A Kind of Alaska from the stories of Anton Chekhov and of William Carlos Williams both doctors to the poetry of nurses derived from their contrasting experiences These are just a few examples of the cross pollination between literature and medicine It is no surprise then that courses in literature and medicine flourish in undergraduate curricula medical schools and continuing education programs throughout the United States and Canada This volume in the MLA series Options for Teaching presents a variety of approaches to the subject It is intended both for literary scholars and for physicians who teach literature and medicine or who are interested in enriching their courses in either discipline by introducing interdisciplinary dimensions The thirty four essays in Teaching Literature and Medicine describe model courses deal with specific texts authors and genres list readings widely taught in literature and medicine courses discuss the value of texts in both medical education and the practice of medicine and provide bibliographic resources including works in the history of medicine from classical antiquity Multidisciplinarity and Interdisciplinarity in

Health Nima Rezaei, 2022-08-02 The contributed volume Multidisciplinarity and Interdisciplinarity in Health is a health centered volume of the Integrated Science Book series Lack of confidence lack of expertise complexities of healthcare the confusing nature of healthcare environments and lack of organization and standardization can become obstacles to successful communication This volume establishes how extensive is the interface between formal sciences and medical sciences on health related issues The book provides an overview of the value of the integration of formal biological and medical sciences and related products i.e. health informatics and biomedical engineering to frame a holistic approach to health systems healthcare medical practice drug discovery and medical device design The book also focuses on innovative solutions to the most critical issues of different health crisis including obesity infectious outbreaks and cancer that can be found by using an integrative approach It also contains the fascinating crossroads between medical sciences physics and mind that is discussed from multiple perspectives on cognition neuroscience and psychiatry These multidisciplinary considerations will expand the concepts of creativity leadership aesthetics empathy and mental health Disrupted Narratives Emma Bond,2017-07-05 If Madame Bovary's death in Flaubert's 1857 novel marked the definitive end of the Romantic vision of literary disease then the advent of psychoanalysis less than half a century later heralded an entirely new set of implications for literature dealing with illness The theorization of a potential unconscious double capable of expressing the body and thus also the intimate damage caused by disease in turn suggested a capacity to subvert or destabilize the text exposing the main thread of the narrative to be unreliable or self conscious Indeed the authors examined in this study Italo Svevo 1861 1928 Giorgio Pressburger 1937 and Giuliana Morandini 1938 all make use of individual infected or suppressed voices within their texts which unfold through illness to cast doubt on a more conventionally dominant narrative standpoint Applying the theories of Freud and more recent writings by Julia Kristeva Bond offers a new critical reading of the literary function of illness a function related to the very nature of narration itself Holocaust Fiction Sue Vice,2003-09-02 Examining the controversies that have accompanied the publication of novels representing the Holocaust this compelling book explores such literature to analyze their violently mixed receptions and what this says about the ethics and practice of millennial Holocaust literature The novels examined including some for the first time are Time's Arrow by Martin Amis The White Hotel by D M Thomas The Painted Bird by Jerzy Kosinski Schindler's List by Thomas Keneally Sophie's Choice by William Styron The Hand that Signed the Paper by Helen Darville Taking issue with the idea that the Holocaust should only be represented factually this compelling book argues that Holocaust fiction is not only legitimate but an important genre that it is essential to accept In a growing area of interest Sue Vice adds a new intelligent and contentious voice to the key debates within Holocaust studies Health in Antiquity Helen King,2004-08-02 This book looks at issues surrounding health in a variety of ancient Mediterranean societies
