The Body Of Brooklyn Sightlines:

The Body of Brooklyn David Lazar, 2003 Even before the controversy that surrounded the publication of A Million Little Pieces the question of truth has been at the heart of memoir From Elie Wiesel to Benjamin Wilkomirski to David Sedaris the veracity of writers claims has been suspect In this fascinating and timely collection of essays leading writers meditate on the subject of truth in literary nonfiction As David Lazar writes in his introduction How do we verify Do we care to Do we dare to eat the apple of knowledge and say it s true Or is it a peach Do we choose to Is it a subcategory of faith How do you respond when someone says This is really true Why do they choose to say it then The past and the truth are slippery things and the art of non fiction writing requires the writer to shape as well as explore In personal essays meditations on the nature of memory considerations of the genres of memoir prose poetry essay fiction and film the contributors to this provocative collection attempt to find answers to the question of what truth in nonfiction means Contributors John D Agata Mark Doty Su Friedrich Joanna Frueh Ray Gonz lez Vivian Gornick Barbara Hammer Kathryn Harrison Marianne Hirsch Wayne Koestenbaum Leonard Kriegel David Lazar Alphonso Lingis Paul Lisicky Nancy Mairs Nancy K Miller Judith Ortiz Cofer Phyllis Rose Oliver Sacks David Shields and Leo Spitzer Sightlines ,1989 In the Memory of the Map Christopher Norment, 2012-03-15 Throughout his life maps have been a source of imagination and wonder for Christopher Norment Mesmerized by them since the age of eight or nine he found himself courted and seduced by maps which served functional and allegorical roles in showing him worlds that he might come to know and helping him understand worlds that he had already explored Maps may have been the stuff of his dreams but they sometimes drew him away from places where he should have remained firmly rooted In the Memory of the Map explores the complex relationship among maps memory and experience what might be called a cartographical psychology or cartographical history Interweaving a personal narrative structured around a variety of maps with stories about maps as told by scholars poets and fiction writers this book provides a dazzlingly rich personal and intellectual account of what many of us take for granted A dialog between desire and the maps of his life an exploration of the pleasures utilitarian purposes benefits and character of maps this rich and powerful personal narrative is the matrix in which Norment embeds an exploration of how maps function in all our lives Page by page readers will confront the aesthetics mystery function power and shortcomings of maps causing them to reconsider the role that maps play in their lives Forthcoming Books Rose Arny, 2003-04 Great Expectation Dan Roche, 2008-09 In Great Expectation Dan Roche gives a man s perspective on what it means to start and expand a family relatively later in life Through a series of diary entries in turns humorous angst ridden and full of hope and joy Roche describes his own thoughts and concerns during the nine months of his wife s pregnancy With five years of parenting his irrepressible daughter Maeve under his belt Roche already forty five years old and his wife Maura face the prospect of another arrival and the myriad of emotions that come with a second child From revelling in the joys of pregnancy such as Maura s delight at having cleavage and being able to eat

whatever she desires to assuaging the parental anxieties of choosing the right obstetrician correcting the mistakes one made with the first child and sending children to college in the future to navigating the unforeseen experiencing the unexpected death of a parent and feeling trepidation toward the thought of having a son Roche records his emotions with unusual candidness and intimacy Reflecting on day to day events and their significance in his family s life together Roche wonders what he is getting himself into and how much deeper he can immerse himself into parenting Together he and his wife face the bittersweet intersections of death and new life menace and hopefulness With sincerity and a mature wit Great Expectation stands as a wise recounting of nine months time with all of its chaos and charms and offers a fresh perspective for first time and veteran parents alike

Dream Not of Other Worlds Huston Diehl, 2007-04 When Huston Diehl began teaching a fourth grade class in a Negro elementary school in rural Louisa County Virginia the school's white superintendent assured her that he didn't expect her to teach those children anything She soon discovered how these low expectations widely shared by the white community impeded her students ability to learn With its overcrowded classrooms poorly trained teachers empty bookshelves and meager supplies her segregated school was vastly inferior to the county's white elementary schools and the message it sent her students was clear dream not of other worlds In her often lyrical memoir Diehl reveals how in the intimacy of the classroom her students reached out to her a young white northerner and shared their fears anxieties and personal beliefs Repeatedly surprised and challenged by her students Diehl questions her long standing middle class assumptions and confronts her own prejudices In doing so she eloquently reflects on what the students taught her about the hurt of bigotry and the humiliation of poverty as well as dignity courage and resiliency Set in the waning days of the Jim Crow South Dream Not of Other Worlds chronicles an important moment in American history Diehl examines the history of black education in the South and narrates the dramatic struggle to integrate Virginia's public schools Meeting with some of her former students and colleagues and visiting the school where she once taught she considers what has and has not changed after more than thirty years of integrated schooling This provocative book raises many issues that are of urgent concern today the continuing social consequences of segregated schools the role of public education in American society and the challenges of educating minority and poor children Letters to Kate Carl H. Klaus, 2006-04 Sorrow is not a state but a process that needs not a map but a history There is something new to be chronicled every day writes C S Lewis in A Grief Observed When Carl Klaus's wife of thirty five years died suddenly from a cerebral hemorrhage right before Thanksgiving in 2002 he took the only road toward recovery that made sense to him he started writing letters to her producing a unique history of grief solace and love His vivid and thoughtful letters will resonate with everyone whose loss confronts them with emotional psychological and philosophical questions for which there are no easy answers During his first year without Kate Carl writes himself into the life that comes after the life he loved From days of grief in the darkness of a midwestern winter to springtime with a return to life in the garden and a memorial service for Kate on a sunny afternoon to fall with a pilgrimage to their favorite vacation spot in Hawaii Carl documents his year long experience of remembering meditating and evolving a new life Individually his letters provide the insights of a master diarist collectively they have the arc of a master essayist Recording the full range of mourning from intense shock to moments of exceptional affirmation Klaus's stories and reflections on loss bear witness to universal truths about the first and most significant year of mourning
