Our Mothers, Our Powers, Our Texts Teresa N. Washington, 2005-06-27 Washington writes supple and thoughtful prose and creatively integrates African and African derived terminology which never distract the reader I consider Our Mothers Our Powers Our Texts not only a brilliant study but also a model to be emulated

Ouseynou B Traore William Patterson University j is a Yoruba word that signifies a spiritual power of vast potential as well as the human beings who exercise that power Although both men and women can have j its owners and controllers are women the literal and cosmic Mothers who are revered as the gods of society Because of its association with female power its invisibility and profundity j is often misconstrued as witchcraft However as Teresa N Washington points out in Our Mothers Our Powers Our Texts j is central to the Yoruba ethos and cosmology Not only does it underpin the concepts of creation and creativity but as a force of justice and retribution j is essential to social harmony and balance As Africans were forced into exile and enslavement they took j with them and continued its work of creating destroying harming and healing in the New World Washington seeks out j's subversive power of creation and re creation in a diverse range of Africana texts from both men and women from both oral and contemporary literature and across space and time She guides readers to an understanding of the symbolic methodological and spiritual issues that are central to important works by Africana writers but are rarely elucidated by Western criticism She begins with an examination of the ancient forms of j in Yoruba culture which creates a framework for innovative readings of important works by Africana writers including Zora Neale Hurston Toni Morrison Ben Okri Wole Soyinka Jamaica Kincaid and Ntozake Shange This rich analysis will appeal to readers of Africana literature African religion and philosophy feminist studies and comparative literature

The Columbia Guide to South African Literature in English Since 1945 Gareth Cornwell, Dirk Kloppe, Craig Mackenzie, 2010-04-13 From the outset South Africa's history has been marked by division and conflict along racial and ethnic lines From 1948 until 1994 this division was formalized in the National Party's policy of apartheid Because apartheid intruded on every aspect of private and public life South African literature was preoccupied with the politics of race and social engineering Since the release from prison of Nelson Mandela in 1990 South Africa has been a new nation in the making inspired by a nonracial idealism yet beset by poverty and violence South African writers have responded in various ways to Njabulo Ndebele's call to rediscover the ordinary The result has been a kaleidoscope of texts in which evolving cultural forms and modes of identity are rearticulated and explored An invaluable guide for general readers as well as scholars of African literary history this comprehensive text celebrates the multiple traditions and exciting future of the South African voice Although the South

African Constitution of 1994 recognizes no fewer than eleven official languages English has remained the country's literary lingua franca This book offers a narrative overview of South African literary production in English from 1945 to the postapartheid present An introduction identifies the most interesting and noteworthy writing from the period Alphabetical entries provide accurate and objective information on genres and writers An appendix lists essential authors published before 1945 African Writers Brian Cox,1997 Contains essays on African writers from seventeen countries writing in English French Portuguese Arabic and indigenous languages Subjects span the late nineteenth century to the present

African Writers C. Brian Cox,1997 Annotation The Scribner Writers Series has set the standard for literary reference for more than 25 years In addition to addressing the lives and careers of important writers the articles discuss the themes and styles of major works and place them in pertinent historical social and political contexts for today's readers Novelists playwrights essayists poets short story writers and more recently genre writers in science fiction and mystery are all expertly discussed in the more than 16 sets comprising this series Two volumes of original essays present 65 African writers from 17 countries writing in English French Portuguese Arabic and indigenous languages Subjects span the late 19th century to the present Included are Najib Mahfuz Andre Brink Wole Soyinka Nadine Gordimer Alan Paton and many more Blackness Femi Abodunrin,2008 The study is set in the context of universal verities of the conditions of Blackness today and particularly in the light of current debates among black intellectuals in Africa and the diaspora about cultural ownership impacted by migration and emigration Voices from the Continent Sara Talis O'Brien,Renée Schattelman,2005 This curriculum guide provides anthropological and historical research as well as literary criticism on six narratives from Southern Africa The background and critical materials are integrated into well developed lesson plans which include handouts This is a useful guide for college professors and teachers of English and social studies at secondary school level The lessons contained in this guide may also be used in whole or in part and can be integrated into larger units on world literature cultural diversity psychology sociology and women's studies Tracing Personal Expansion Walter P. Collins,2006 How can Africans escape the control of the complex power relationships established during Colonization and successfully achieve self development More importantly and the primary concern of this book can African female characters ever hope to arrive at such individuation given the dual challenges of the power structures defined and enforced by European colonizers and the patriarchal structures that contort issues related to gender Tracing Personal Expansion reads late 20th Century works by African female novelists Buchi Emecheta Tsitsi Dangarembga and Calixthe Beyala as modern Bildungsromane novels of self development to reveal the dynamics complexities and challenges the characters and authors experience By exploring the possibility of self development in African female protagonists this engrossing work augments existing feminist critiques that have analyzed the possibilities and potentials for the individuation of mostly Western mostly European female characters

Spaces and Crossings Rita Wilson,Carlotta von Maltzan,2001 This collection of essays includes a variety of approaches to

different interpretations of space Some deal with aspects of post colonialism mapping and identity formation while others grapple with the positionality of in between as well as with issues of multiculturalism and intertextuality The spaces of art beliefs and institutions are examined as are the intellectual and artistic activities involved in articulating and defining space It is a book of tendencies which gives some indication of the new work being done in South Africa as well as in the broader global context and reflects different moments of conflict and negotiation within the social relations of different societies from pre apartheid South Africa to the present The essays chosen for this volume broach the fantastic and sexual dimensions of cultural spaces and cultural production issues of marginality and power hybridity gender identity ideology and technology

Ngugi Wa Thiong'o Speaks Ngũgĩ wa Thiong'o, 2006 Ngugi wa Thiong'o's evolution as a thinker can be discerned in the conversations collected here The earliest recorded forty years ago reflect his interest in exploring events in Kenya's colonial past that had a profound impact on his own people the Kikuyu and ultimately on his own life More recent discussions focus on present conditions in Kenya and other parts of the Third World from publisher information Post-Colonial Literatures Deborah L. Madsen, 1999-06-20 The book explores what characterises a good life and how this idea has been affected by globalisation and neoliberalism Cultural History of Reading [2 volumes] Sara E. Quay, Gabrielle R.

The Top Books of the Year Talking With African Writers Interviews With African Poets Playwrights And Novelists The year 2023 has witnessed a remarkable surge in literary brilliance, with numerous compelling novels enthralling the hearts of readers worldwide. Lets delve into the realm of top-selling books, exploring the captivating narratives that have charmed audiences this year. Talking With African Writers Interviews With African Poets Playwrights And Novelists : Colleen Hoover's "It Ends with Us" This touching tale of love, loss, and resilience has captivated readers with its raw and emotional exploration of domestic abuse. Hoover masterfully weaves a story of hope and healing, reminding us that even in the darkest of times, the human spirit can triumph. Uncover the Best : Taylor Jenkins Reids "The Seven Husbands of Evelyn Hugo" This captivating historical fiction novel unravels the life of Evelyn Hugo, a Hollywood icon who defies expectations and societal norms to pursue her dreams. Reids captivating storytelling and compelling characters transport readers to a bygone era, immersing them in a world of glamour, ambition, and self-discovery. Talking With African Writers Interviews With African Poets Playwrights And Novelists : Delia Owens "Where the Crawdads Sing" This evocative coming-of-age story follows Kya Clark, a young woman who grows up alone in the marshes of North Carolina. Owens crafts a tale of resilience, survival, and the transformative power of nature, captivating readers with its evocative prose and mesmerizing setting. These popular novels represent just a fraction of the literary treasures that have emerged in 2023. Whether you seek tales of romance, adventure, or personal growth, the world of literature offers an abundance of compelling stories waiting to be discovered. The novel begins with Richard Papen, a bright but troubled young man, arriving at Hampden College. Richard is immediately drawn to the group of students who call themselves the Classics Club. The club is led by Henry Winter, a brilliant and charismatic young man. Henry is obsessed with Greek mythology and philosophy, and he quickly draws Richard into his world. The other members of the Classics Club are equally as fascinating. Bunny Corcoran is a wealthy and spoiled young man who is always looking for a good time. Charles Tavis is a quiet and reserved young man who is deeply in love with Henry. Camilla Macaulay is a beautiful and intelligent young woman who is drawn to the power and danger of the Classics Club. The students are all deeply in love with Morrow, and they are willing to do anything to please him. Morrow is a complex and mysterious figure, and he seems to be manipulating the students for his own purposes. As the students become more involved with Morrow, they begin to commit increasingly dangerous acts. The Secret History is a masterful and gripping novel that will keep you speculating until the very end. The novel is a cautionary tale about the dangers of obsession and the power of evil.
