Lee, 2005 If there is a single challenge a person faces in every stage of life from birth to death it is the necessity of coping with life s exigencies These often include health problems social stress and perceived difficulties The ability to deal with these issues defines an individual to a large extent and can accelerate or brake one s development in the multitude of mental and physical pathways intrinsic to life Coping behaviours include talking out a problem crying laughing relaxation ignoring the problem praying looking for the positive aspects of a situation assuming everything is terrible taking medication hoping a problem will go away attacking the problem with willpower cognitive therapy etc This new book examines new research which will shed light on coping behaviours in a vast array of disease situations Discursive Constructions of the Suicidal Process Dariusz Galasinski, Justyna Ziolkowska, 2020-07-09 What is suicide When does suicide start and when does it end Who is involved Examining narratives of suicide through a discourse analytic framework Discursive Constructions of the Suicidal Process demonstrates how linguistic theories and methodologies

can help answer these questions and cast light upon what suicide involves and means both for those who commit an act and their loved ones Engaging in close analysis of suicide letters written before the act and post hoc narratives from after the event this book is the first qualitative study to view suicide not as a single event outside time but as a time extended process Exploring how suicide is experienced and narrated from two temporal perspectives Dariusz Galasinski and Justyna Ziolkowska introduce discourse analysis to the field of suicidology Arguing that studying suicide narratives and the reality they represent can add significantly to our understanding of the process and in particular its experiences and meanings Discursive Constructions of the Suicidal Process demonstrates the value of discourse analytic insights in informing enriching and contextualising our knowledge of suicide

Suicide Among the Armed Forces Antoon Leenaars, 2016-12-05 Not since the great military suicide epidemic of the American Civil War have we seen so many of our heroes our soldiers and veterans die by suicide Why War is violence There is intent to cause death or serious injury or threat to the physical and psychological integrity of others War stress is unforgiving Suicide is an all too frequent response Today one member of the military dies by suicide every day This is a new epidemic This book addresses some tough questions What do we know about suicides in the military Are rates high Or low Is military suicide the same or different in the United States and Canada Is military culture relevant Do we know the causes patterns and associations Is suicide among the armed forces similar to or different from suicide among civilians Can it be altruistic Through individual case studies and general population approaches we attempt to understand the cost of military service It is especially through the personal stories of the great Civil War hero General Emory Upton Admiral of the Navy Mike Boorda and Hospital Corpsman Chris Purcell that we find answers We learn there is a relative lack of understanding about military suicides mainly due to the very complexity of suicide The nature of suicide is not monolithic it is multi determined Military service we find is a risk factor for suicide and suicidal behavior Military veterans are twice as likely as civilians to die by suicide Posttraumatic stress disorder PTSD and traumatic brain Injury TBI are especially noted to be huge risk factors but so are other physical and psychological injuries Sadly the aftershocks of war include not only suicides but also incarceration motor vehicle accidents homicides homicide's suicides and many more faces of violence And there are many more uncounted wounded and dead The families of traumatized soldiers and veterans too are indirect victims of their traumatic experience and for some their suicides there is secondary traumatization Yet as this book shows we must not forget that despite the unbearable pain of war soldiers veterans and their military families including children are typically resilient They can survive Without question our vulnerable heroes and veterans are at risk for suicide But there is secrecy surrounding this which may well be the biggest barrier The government the Department of Defense the military veterans groups survivors health providers and other stakeholders need to develop and support more research more programs and more care for suicidal and disabled armed services personnel veterans and survivors This war stress needs to stop

Death And Trauma Charles R. Figley,Brian E. Bride,Nicholas Mazza,2022-09-16 First published in 1997 Although the fields of thanatology and traumatology have received robust attention during their parallel development little effort has been made to address their overlapping territory This volume is the first attempt to do so Specifically the purpose of this book is fourfold First is to provide a theoretical bridge between the two fields by providing conceptual terminology such as defining normal versus dysfunctional bereavement and the meaning and range of death related PTSD The second confirms and illustrates the identical patterns of reactions between those who survive the death of a loved one and those who survive other traumatic events Next the book applies the most useful theoretical models to the bereavement experience and in turn acknowledges the utility of generalizing bereavement models to other traumatic experiences in doing so the two fields can enrich each other Similarly the volume s final purpose is to identify and apply the most useful and effective approaches in traumatology literature to the study diagnosis and treatment of traumatic stressors other than death
