The Maple Sugar Together With Remarks On Pioneering As A Way Of Living:

The Maple Sugar Book, Together with Remarks on Pioneering as a Way of Living in the Twentieth Century Helen Nearing, Scott Nearing, 1970-01-01 The Maple Sugar Book Helen Nearing, Scott Nearing, 1971 The View from Vermont Blake A. Harrison, 2006 With its small native population proximity to major metropolitan areas and bucolic rural beauty Vermont was fated to be a tourist mecca forever associated in the popular imagination with maple syrup fall colors and ski bunnies Tourism for good and ill has always been the decisive factor in the conception of rural Vermont What is surprising however is the degree to which we have accepted this notion of rural Vermont as a somehow timeless entity Blake Harrison's rich and rewarding study instead presents the construction of Vermont's landscape as a complex and ever changing dynamic informed by progressive modernist and reformist thought competing views of economic expansion rural and urban prejudice and social exclusion and more recently by land use planning and environmentalism This broad based study includes the early history of Vermont tourism the concomitant abandonment of farms with the rise of the summer home the creation of an unspoiled Vermont from billboards at least the impact of Vermont's ski industry on tradition bound tourism and later efforts to legislate growth and protect an increasingly static ideal of a rural Vermont While grounded within a specific Vermont view Harrison has much to contribute to broader studies of rural places tourism and landscapes in American culture His analysis of how physical landscapes affect and are affected by our imagined landscape and the insight afforded by his juxtaposition of leisure and labor will deeply inform our understanding of rural tourist landscapes for years to come This is a truly interdisciplinary work that will satisfy and challenge historians and geographers alike Who Gets to Go Back-to-the-Land? Valerie Padilla Carroll, 2022-12 Valerie Padilla Carroll examines texts that promote self sufficiency as the solution to the possible disintegration of modern life The Good Life of Helen K. Nearing Margaret O. Killinger, 2007 A lively biography of the famous homesteader and author Helen Knothe Nearing Between Earth and Sky Nalini Nadkarni, 2008-07-02 World renowned canopy biologist Nalini Nadkarni has climbed trees on four continents with scientists students artists clergymen musicians activists loggers legislators and Inuits gathering diverse perspectives In Between Earth and Sky a rich tapestry of personal stories information art and photography she becomes our captivating guide to the leafy wilderness above our heads Through her luminous narrative we embark on a multifaceted exploration of trees that illuminates the profound connections we have with them the dazzling array of goods and services they provide and the powerful lessons they hold for us Nadkarni describes trees intricate root systems their highly evolved and still not completely understood canopies their role in commerce and medicine their existence in city centers and in extreme habitats of mountaintops and deserts and their important place in folklore and the arts She explains tree fundamentals and considers the symbolic role they have assumed in culture and religion In a book that reawakens our sense of wonder at the fascinating world of trees we ultimately find entry to the entire natural world and rediscover our own place in it How the World

Flows Albert Folch, 2025 How the World Flows acts like a microscope that pulls the reader into the barely noticeable Lilliputian world of fluids at small scales the microfluidic world and answers the question What is microfluidics in non technical language Microfluidics is the field of science that studies fluids constrained to spaces that are smaller than one millimeter wide and by extension the engineering field which builds devices that exploit the unique properties of fluids at these scales Author Albert Folch explores this micro science which has inspired engineers to build devices such as engines spray cans ballpoint pens inkjet and 3D printers pregnancy and Covid tests glucometers asthma nebulizers kidney dialysis machines and DNA analyzers This book also shows that many processes essential to life on Earth such as the formation of raindrops the rise of sap in plants and the percolation of water through soil are all microfluidic marvels It examines how our cells breathe feed and fight diseases through small capillaries Many ancient human inventions ranging from soaps and sauces to the candle wick the gauze and the ink brush rely on microfluidics but the size of the fluid interactions in these systems natural and human made has prevented most people from appreciating their inner workings Through engaging and digestible stories Folch takes a lens to this tiny science and demonstrates how big a role microfluidics play in life as we know it

Unrefined David Singerman, 2025-09-04 A surprising look at how modern capitalism changed sugar from a natural food to a scientific commodity Sugar is everywhere in the western diet blamed for epidemics of obesity diabetes and other modern maladies Our addiction to sweetness has a long and unsavory history Over the past five hundred years sugar has shaped empires made fortunes for a few and brought misery for millions of workers both enslaved and free How did sugar become a defining modern food and an essential global commodity In Unrefined David Singerman recasts our thinking about this crucial substance in the history of capitalism Before the nineteenth century sugar's value depended on natural qualities its color its taste where it was grown and who had made it But beginning around 1850 a combination of plantation owners industrialists and scientists set out to redefine sugar itself Deploying the tools and rhetoric of science they transformed not just how sugar was produced or traded but even how people thought about it By changing sugar into a pure chemical object these forces stripped power from workers and enabled and obscured new kinds of fraud corruption and monopoly Taking us to unexplored spaces in the world of sugar from laboratories and docks to refineries and the halls of Congress Singerman illuminates dark intersections of the histories of corruption science and capitalism

American Georgics Edwin C. Hagenstein, Sara M. Gregg, Brian Donahue, 2011-01-01 From Thomas Jefferson's Monticello to Michelle Obama's White House organic garden the image of America as a nation of farmers has persisted from the beginnings of the American experiment In this rich and evocative collection of agrarian writing from the past two centuries writers from Hector St Jean de Crevecoeur to Wendell Berry reveal not only the great reach and durability of the American agrarian ideal but also the ways in which society has contested and confronted its relationship to agriculture over the course of generations Drawing inspiration from Virgil's agrarian epic poem Georgics this collection presents a complex historical portrait of the American character through its relationship to the land From the first European settlers eager to cultivate new soil to the Transcendentalist utopian and religious thinkers of the nineteenth century American society has drawn upon the vision of a pure rural life for inspiration Back to the land movements have surged and retreated in the past centuries yet provided the agrarian roots for the environmental movement of the past forty years Interpretative essays and a sprinkling of illustrations accompany excerpts from each of these periods of American agrarian thought providing a framework for understanding the sweeping changes that have confronted the nation s landscape Tapping the Green Market Abraham Guillen,Sarah A Laird,Alan R Pierce,Patricia Shanley,2012-08-21 There is a rapidly growing interest in and demand for non timber forest products NTFPs They provide critical resources across the globe fulfilling nutritional medicinal financial and cultural needs However they have been largely overlooked in mainstream conservation and forestry politics This volume explains the use and importance of certification and eco labelling for guaranteeing best management practices of non timber forest products in the field Using extensive case studies and global profiles of non timber forest products this work not only seeks to further our comprehension of certification processes but also broaden understanding of non timber forest product management harvesting and marketing It should be useful to forest managers policy makers and conservation organizations as well as for academics in these areas Catalog of Copyright Entries. Food and World Culture Linda S. Watts,Kelty Clark-Mahoney,2022-08-23 This book uses food as a lens through which to explore important matters of society and culture In exploring why and how people eat around the globe the text focuses on issues of health conflict struggle contest inequality and power Whether because of its necessity pleasure or ubiquity the world of food and its lore proves endlessly fascinating to most people The story of food is a narrative filled with both human striving and human suffering However many of today s diners are only dimly aware of the human price exacted for that comforting distance from the lived world realities of food justice struggles With attention to food issues ranging from local farming practices to global supply chains this book examines how food s history and geography remain inextricably linked to sociopolitical experiences of trauma connected with globalization such as colonization conquest enslavement and oppression The main text is structured alphabetically around a set of 70 ingredients from almonds to yeast Each ingredient s story is accompanied by recipes Along with the food profiles the encyclopedia features sidebars These are short discussions of topics of interest related to food including automats diners victory gardens and food at world s fairs This project also brings a social justice perspective to its content weighing debates concerning food access equity insecurity and politics

Nontimber Forest Products in the United States Eric T. Jones, Rebecca Jean McLain, James F. Weigand, 2002 A quiet revolution is taking place in America s forests Once seen primarily as stands of timber our woodlands are now prized as a rich source of a wide range of commodities from wild mushrooms and maple sugar to hundreds of medicinal plants whose uses have only begun to be fully realized Now as timber harvesting becomes more mechanized and requires less labor the image of the lumberjack is being replaced by that of the forager This book provides the first comprehensive examination of nontimber forest products NTFPs in the United States illustrating their diverse importance describing the people who harvest them and outlining the steps that are being taken to ensure access to them As the first extensive national overview of NTFP policy and management specific to the United States it brings together research from numerous disciplines and analytical perspectives such as economics mycology history ecology law entomology forestry geography and anthropology in order to provide a cohesive picture of the current and potential role of NTFPs The contributors review the state of scientific knowledge of NTFPs by offering a survey of commercial and noncommercial products an overview of uses and users and discussions of sustainable management issues associated with ecology cultural traditions forest policy and commerce They examine some of the major social economic and biological benefits of NTFPs while also addressing the potential negative consequences of NTFP harvesting on forest ecosystems and on NTFP species populations Within this wealth of information are rich accounts of NTFP use drawn from all parts of the American landscape from the Pacific Northwest to the Caribbean From honey production to a review of nontimber forest economies still active in the United States such as the Ojibway harvest of plants recounted here the book takes in the whole breadth of recent NTFP issues including ecological concerns associated with the expansion of NTFP markets and NTFP tenure issues on federally managed lands No other volume offers such a comprehensive overview of NTFPs in North America By examining all aspects of these products it contributes to the development of more sophisticated policy and management frameworks for not only ensuring their ongoing use but also protecting the future of our forests

Table Lands Kara K. Keeling, Scott T. Pollard, 2020-06-04 Food is a signifier of power for both adults and children a sign of both inclusion and exclusion and of conformity and resistance Many academic disciplines from sociology to literary studies have studied food and its function as a complex social discourse and the wide variety of approaches to the topic provides multidisciplinary frames for understanding the construction and uses of food in all types of media including children's literature Table Lands Food in Children's Literature is a survey of food's function in children's texts showing how the sociocultural contexts of food reveal children's agency Authors Kara K Keeling and Scott T Pollard examine texts that vary from historical to contemporary noncanonical to classics and Anglo American to multicultural traditions including a variety of genres formats and audiences realism fantasy cookbooks picture books chapter books YA novels and film Table Lands offers a unified approach to studying food in a wide variety of texts for children Spanning nearly 150 years of children's literature Keeling and Pollard's analysis covers a selection of texts that show the omnipresence of food in children's literature and culture and how they vary in representations of race region and class due to the impact of these issues on food Furthermore they include not only classic children's books such as Winnie the Pooh but recent award winning multicultural novels as well as cookbooks and even one film Pixar's Ratatouille Quest for Walden Loren C. Owings, 1997 Ever since Henry David Thoreau penned his masterpiece Walden a chronicle of his two year sojourn in the woods of Concord Massachusetts Americans have yearned for a return to pastoral life to a place where the simplicities and beauty of nature dictate a quality of life not found in modern urban America The metaphor of Walden inspired many to seek out and write about country life and the back to the land movement in America This is the first book length study of that interesting genre the country book written primarily for urban dwellers It gives detailed content analyses of both country life essays and guides to country living from 1863 through 1995
