make it an indispensable guide Early Childhood Development Programs and Services: Planning for Action Dennis McFadden, 1972 Building Arizona's Early Childhood Professional Development System, 2013 Planning and Administering Early Childhood Programs Celia Anita Decker, John R. Decker, 1988 This structured book offers a solid overview of the types of early childhood programs available today and explores all aspects of their administration Rooted in the philosophy that thoughtful planning and administration are essential to the success of early childhood programs it examines how specific program bases affect decisions in all areas of program planning It is designed to equip readers with the necessary strategies tactics and resources to make better judgements in administering early childhood programs Chapter topics include an overview of these programs and detailed information pertaining to operationalizing and implementing of them such as considering regulations and establishing policies leading and managing personnel planning the physical facility financing and budgeting and working with families For administrators of early childhood programs A Strategic Planning Guide for State-Level Early Childhood Systems-Building Initiatives Ericka Tullis, Carol Sutherland, Kimberly Uyeda, Neal Halfon, 2004 The State Early Childhood Comprehensive Systems SECCS Initiative represents a unique opportunity to improve the quality of life for young children and their families and support them in reaching their full potential Under the SECCS Initiative state mother and child health agencies are being asked to apply MCH experience and expertise to a process of 1 strengthening or creating partnerships with key early childhood stakeholders including those involved in existing early childhood initiatives 2 collaborating with those stakeholders to implement a state early childhood strategic plan and 3 supporting the development of integrated community based platforms for promoting optimal early childhood development In order to accomplish the ambitious goals of the SECCS Initiative it will be necessary for states to use planning funds to forge connections between relevant existing state and local agencies organizations and initiatives leverage and maximize available resources including both funding and effort and develop monitoring and evaluation activities that ensure accountability to short and long term results This tool is designed to assist state MCH agencies with this exciting yet challenging work regardless of where they currently stand along the continuum of early childhood systems building Some states might see themselves starting from an array of disconnected early childhood services and programs while others may have well integrated service delivery platforms in place linking state county and community based providers Each state will enter the process at a slightly different level yet all have the ability to improve the quality coordination and comprehensiveness of services and care delivered to young children and their families Contains 2 figures 1 table and 6 footnotes This publication was produced by the National Center for Infant and Early Childhood Health Policy an active collaboration between the UCLA Center for Healthier Children Families and Communities the Association of Maternal and Child Health Programs AMCHP the Women and Children's Health Policy Center at the Johns Hopkins University Bloomberg School of Public Health and the American Academy of Pediatrics AAP A Replication Manual for the Early Childhood Services Systems Planning Projects

Cecelia Callison, Child Care Coordinating Committee (Wash.), 1998 Making a Difference Linda Sullivan-Dudzic, Donna K. Gearns, Kelli Leavell, 2010-01-06 It's time to build a bridge between early childhood programs and the K-3 system to ensure continued success for all children. This is the ultimate how-to manual for administrators and teachers who wish to maintain and maximize the gains children make in preschool. Sally Wingle, Preschool Teacher, Chelsea Community Preschool, MI. A great guide pointing in the right direction for starting a program. With the U.S. Department of Education's emphasis on early childhood education and new monies available from the stimulus plan, this book is a valuable resource. Cindy Luna, Principal, Northside ISD, San Antonio, TX. A 10-step plan for linking early childhood education to the K-3 system. The national push for improving young children's early learning experiences is no longer just about preschool. Now the focus is on strategic planning to increase achievement by reaching out to community early childhood education providers, establishing a strong PreK-3 foundation that connects early childhood education standards and goals to a K-3 system, and ensuring that young learners receive high-quality instruction before kindergarten. Drawing on more than 20 years' success with a PreK-3 system in Washington state, the authors present a 10-step, field-tested model that demonstrates how early childhood professionals and K-12 school leaders can outline a clear implementation plan for an integrated PreK-3 system that identifies both families and children's needs. Shares developmental information about individual learning skills and social-emotional development as children transition to kindergarten. Aligns resources, curriculum, instruction, and assessments. Anticipates challenges and celebrates successes. Invites input from superintendents, state officials, Head Start leaders, and Title I directors. Making Links Janet Gonzalez-Mena, Anne Stonehouse, 2008. This book is about creating an environment, experiences, interactions, and relationships that allow children, birth to age 5, in center-based and family child care programs to have authentic experiences that will promote their development and learning. To address planning and practice, the authors zero in on knowing and respecting the individual child, the group, and working in partnership with families. Rather than focusing on educational activities per se, the emphasis is on paying attention to the child's whole experience in the program. The authors examine what you need to know about children and their families, how to translate that information into plans and experiences, and how to include parents in the process. The authors wrote this book to be a collaborative encounter with readers. FACILITATING CHANGE IN COMPREHENSIVE EARLY CHILDHOOD SYSTEMS: COLLABORATIVE PLANNING PROJECT FOR PLANNING COMPREHENSIVE EARLY CHILDHOOD SYST. United States.
