The Management Of Urban Development In Zambia:

The Management of Urban Development in Zambia Emmanuel Mutale, 2017-11-30 Over the past few decades the developing world has seen unprecedented urban growth and urban areas have had to deal with a number of complex problems as a result. While population growth is one of the factors contributing to the deprivation and decay characteristic of most urban areas in the developing world, there are other factors. Apart from demographic and economic factors, the political organization factor of centralization has concentrated decision making and with it resources in the urban areas, leading to further rural urban migration. Another factor is one of colonialism. The transfer of foreign social structures and technology while offering alternatives has dislocated and significantly altered indigenous patterns of development in the developing world. This book examines a region where this last factor is a major significance: Zambia's copperbelt. Here the concentration of towns which were developed very rapidly in the 1930s made Zambia one of the most highly urbanized Sub-Saharan countries. By focusing on copperbelt towns, the book provides a critical analysis of the development of urban policy in Zambia. Aspects of conflict and cooperation between different interest groups and where relevant their economic relationships are explored, and a structural conflict model of urban management is proposed. The book concludes that with proper management, existing and emerging sectional interests in urban areas can help provide conditions which foster the formulation of equitable urban policy. Although focused on Zambia, the proposed structural conflict approach has potential for wider application.

Urban Planning in Sub-Saharan Africa Carlos Nunes Silva, 2015-06-03 Cities in Sub-Saharan Africa are unequally confronted with social, economic and environmental challenges, particularly those related with population growth, urban sprawl and informality. This complex and uneven African urban condition requires an open discussion of past and current urban planning practices and future reforms. Urban Planning in Sub-Saharan Africa gives a broad perspective of the history of urban planning in Sub-Saharan Africa and a critical view of issues, problems, challenges and opportunities confronting urban policy makers. The book examines the rich variety of planning cultures in Africa, offers a unique view on the introduction and development of urban planning in Sub-Saharan Africa and makes a significant contribution against the tendency to over-generalize Africa's urban problems and Africa's urban planning practices. Urban Planning in Sub-Saharan Africa is written for postgraduate students and advanced undergraduates, researchers, planners and other policy makers in the multidisciplinary field of Urban Planning, in particular for those working in Spatial Planning, Architecture, Geography and History.

The 1996 Zambia National Housing Policy Paul Lombe Kasonde Makasa, 2010 Devising a workable housing policy in a country with apparently insurmountable housing problems presents a great challenge. With the help of an award from UN HABITAT, Zambian authorities attempted to do just this in a process which is an ideal candidate for scrutiny. This study analyzes the goals, means and instruments that were used to formulate the policy as well as its planned implementation. It examines whether the policy could have achieved its goals had it been implemented and represents a valuable addition to the sciences and from professionals and policy makers concerned with land use planning surveying and governance Among the topics addressed by the book are challenges to governance institutions how international development is delivered building land management capacity funding for urban infrastructure land based finance ineffective planning regulation and the role of alternatives to courts in resolving boundary and other land disputes Issues of rights and land titling are explored from perspectives of human rights law the right to development and women s rights of access to land and land tenure regularization Particular challenges of housing planning and informality are addressed through contributions on international real estate investment community participation in urban settlement upgrading housing delivery as a partly failing project to remedy apartheid s legacy and complex interactions between political power money and land Infrastructure challenges are approached in studies of food security and food systems urban resilience against natural and man made disasters and informal public transport One Zambia, Many Histories Jan-Bart Gewald,Marja Hinfelaar,Giacomo Macola,2008-06-25

In contrast to the rich tradition of academic analysis and understanding of the pre colonial and colonial history of Zambia the trajectory of post colonial Zambia has been all but ignored by historians The assumptions of developmentalism the cultural hegemony of United National Independence Party orthodoxy and its conflation with national interests and a narrow focus on Zambia s diplomatic role in Southern African affairs have all contributed to a dearth of studies centring on the diverse lived experiences of Zambians The State of Food Insecurity in Lusaka, Zambia Mulenga, Chileshe,2016-10-17 The Lusaka urban food security survey done by AFSUN as part of its baseline survey of 11 Southern African cities found that up to 93% of the households in the informal settlements which house three quarters of the Zambian capital s population were food insecure A paltry 8% were food secure Worse still most of the households in the informal urban settlements of Lusaka did not only have poor access to food they also consumed foods from a very narrow range of food groups Their diets were dominated by cereals and therefore likely to be deficient in essential vitamins minerals and proteins The AFSUN survey shows clearly that urban households obtain their food mainly through the market and therefore stable macro economic conditions are essential to their food security Since urban household food security is positively associated with levels of income promotion of decent employment is critical Among the urgent measures AFSUN recommends to address Lusaka s food insecurity are the promotion by government of decent employment including labour intensive public works programmes that would stimulate formal employment and supplementary feeding programmes in clinics and schools Party Politics and the Urban Planning Process Alexander Clement Mosha,1995 Contemporary Water Governance in the Global South

Leila M. Harris,Jacqueline A. Goldin,Christopher Sneddon,2015-03-24 The litany of alarming observations about water use and misuse is now familiar over a billion people without access to safe drinking water almost every major river dammed and diverted increasing conflicts over the delivery of water in urban areas continuing threats to water quality from agricultural inputs and industrial wastes and the increasing variability of climate including threats of severe droughts and flooding across locales and regions These issues present tremendous challenges for water governance This book focuses on three major concepts and approaches that have gained currency in policy and governance circles both globally and regionally scarcity and crisis marketization and privatization and participation It provides a historical and contextual overview of each of these ideas as they have emerged in global and regional policy and governance circles and pairs these with in depth case studies that examine manifestations and contestations of water governance internationally The book interrogates ideas of water crisis and scarcity in the context of bio physical political social and environmental landscapes to better understand how ideas and practices linked to scarcity and crisis take hold and become entrenched in policy and practice The book also investigates ideas of marketization and privatization increasingly prominent features of water governance throughout the global South with particular attention to the varied implementation and effects of these governance practices The final section of the volume analyzes participatory water governance querying the disconnects between global discourses and local realities particularly as they intersect with the other themes of interest to the volume Promoting a view of changing water governance that links across these themes and in relation to contemporary realities the book is invaluable for students researchers advocates and policy makers interested in water governance challenges facing the developing world

Lusaka: The New Capital of Northern Rhodesia Robert Home, 2013-07-24 This short account of the planning of Lusaka as the new capital of Northern Rhodesia written for its official opening in 1935 as part of jubilee celebrations for King George V was printed in a limited edition specifically for that event and is now very scarce and difficult to obtain but deserves to be made more widely available for scholars of planning and urban history and especially all interested in African urban development The planning of Lusaka was a prestige project for British indirect rule administration in Africa during the 1930s in the recovery from the Great Depression and was claimed as an example of British garden city and town planning expertise being applied overseas to its imperial territorial acquisitions Particular features of Lusaka s planning were the attention to public buildings echoing on a smaller scale the grand imperial designs of Baker and Lutyens in South Africa and India the importance attached to landscaping and tree planting and the priority given to the new airport reflecting the great expansion of air networks during the 1930s The historical context also includes Lusaka s place on the projected Cape to Cairo railway and its importance as a colonial project at a time of rapid development by American and South African capitalism of copper mining in the Copperbelt Town planning was seen in the Colonial Office as an important tool of colonial management and successive colonial governors in Northern Rhodesia were associated with planning initiatives elsewhere Lusaka capital city was seen as a demonstration project which influenced negotiations over planning the new Copperbelt mining townships Lusaka s colonial origins are of increasing interest to present day planners in Zambia concerned with problems of rapid urbanisation and the recent recovery of the copper mining industry it is also of wider interest for both its place in the history of town planning and garden city concepts beyond Europe and as a planned new capital in the Third World Southern African Development Community Land Issues Ben Chigara, 2013-03 This book constitutes volume one of a two volume examination of development community land issues in Southern Africa In this volume Ben Chigara undertakes a holistic inter disciplinary evaluation of the legitimacy of colonial and emergent post colonial rule property rights in affected States of the Southern African Development Community SADC It particularly focuses on intensifying litigation in national courts the SADC Tribunal and more recently the Washington based International Centre for the Settlement of Investment Disputes ICSID regarding counter claims to title to property The book examines cultural economic and political drivers at the core of SADC land issues focusing on their significance and potential to contribute to the discovery of a new sustainable land relations policy that guarantees social justice in the distribution of all the advantages and disadvantages relating to the allocation and use of land Chigara shows that persistent systematic administrative failures by pre colonial colonial and post colonial authorities have made for a very complex challenge that requires Solomonic tools that neither the Courts alone nor human rights centric morality alone could resolutely attend The book recommends a sophisticated systematic new approach to SADC land issues which is developed in volume two Re conceiving Property Rights in the New Millennium This book will be of great interest to students and researchers of Property and Conveyancing Law Human Rights Law and Land Law Population, Settlement, and Development in Zambia Prithvish Nag, 1990 Land Tenure Challenges in Africa Horman Chitonge, Ross Harvey, 2022-01-01 This book provides a significant contribution to the literature on land reform in various African contexts While the economic evidence is clear that secure property rights are a necessary condition for catalysing broad based economic development the governance process by which those rights are secured is less clear This book details the historical complexity of land rights and the importance of understanding this history in the process of trying to improve tenure security Through a combination of single country case studies comparative case studies and regional comparisons the book is unequivocal that good governance is paramount for improving the performance of land reform programmes All attempts at moving towards more formal secure tenure require congruence with informal norms beliefs and values and a set of clear systems and processes to avoid corruption and unintended negative consequences Disposable Cities Garth Andrew Myers, 2017-03-02 Based on in depth fieldwork in three cities Dar es Salaam Zanzibar and Lusaka this book provides a critical analysis of the United Nations Sustainable Cities Program in Africa SCP Focusing on the SCP s policies for solid waste management which was identified as the top priority problem by the SCP the book examines the success of these pilot schemes and the SCP s record in building new relationships between people and government It argues that the SCP has operated in a political vacuum without recognition of the long and problematic histories and cultural politics of urban environmental governance in Eastern and Southern Africa This book brings these cultural and political histories to the fore in its examination of the contemporary dynamics In doing so it not only provides an insightful analysis of the policies and outcomes for the SCP but also puts forward a historically grounded critique of neoliberalism good governance and sustainable development discourses There Used to Be Order Patience Mususa,2021-10-07 Privatization and social change in the Copperbelt region of Zambia African Cities Driving the NEPAD Initiative ,2006 The New Partnership for Africa s Development NEPAD was conceived to address the current challenges facing the African continent Issues such as the escalating poverty levels underdevelopment and the continued marginalisation of Africa needed a new radical intervention spearheaded by African leaders to develop a new Vision that would guarantee Africa s Renewal However it has become self evident that for NEPAD to succeed it cannot afford to ignore the rapid rate of urbanization of Africa and its impact on the quality of life of the urban poor Over the recent years UN HABITAT has embarked on a lobbying campaign at all levels to promote this idea laying a particular emphasis on the role of African Mayors in this context The NEPAD Cities Programme of UN HABITAT is a major component of this campaign aiming to address the NEPAD objectives from a different perspective It was formulated as a means of achieving a quick win for the NEPAD and ground its ideals to the community level through the municipalities and urban centres Regenerating Urban Land Rana Amirtahmasebi,Mariana Orloff,Sameh Wahba,Andrew Altman,2016-06-02 Regenerating Urban Land draws on the experience of eight case studies from around the world The case studies outline various policy and financial instruments to attract private sector investment in urban regeneration of underutilized and unutilized areas and the requisite infrastructure improvements In particular each case study details the project cycle from the scoping phase and determination of the initial amount of public sector investment to implementation and subsequent leveraged private sector funds This manual analyzes rates of return on the investments and long term financial sustainability Regenerating Urban Land guides local governments to systematically identify the sequence of steps and tasks needed to develop a regeneration policy framework with the participation of the private sector The manual also formulates specific policies and instruments for expanding private sector participation structuring effective administrative and legal frameworks utilizing land readjustment assembly methods determining duration of contracts adequate phasing and timeline and balancing the distribution of risk and sustainability measures Preparing the SCP Environmental Profile ,1999
