Writing in the Margins Lisa Nichols Hickman, 2013-08-06 No other time honored spiritual practice is as immediate raw and engaged with Scripture as writing responding to God in the margins of the Bible Composers like Bach to theologians like Barth botanists and saints all have written their thoughts directly in their Bibles In doing so they engaged their fullest selves with our most significant text Some people have lived with Scripture all their lives and yet feel estranged from it This book inspires a new encounter with the living Word and jump starts a deep creative and hands on approach to reading Scripture As you sit with pencil pen crayon or marker in hand and Bible in lap at whatever edges of life you are living within now that invitation is yours The creative practice of writing in the margins creates a divine conversation that transforms and guides Meet God in the margins Let God shape your character from the living interaction on the pages of your Bible Writing in the Margins is a book about making connections on the pages of your Bible and introduces a devotional and scriptural path of engagement that is life changing criticism     Reading Notes ,2021-11-01 Reading notes constitute a vast resource for an understanding of literary history and culture They indicate what writers read as well as how they read and what they used in their own work As such they play an important role in both the reception and the production of texts The essays in this volume representing the newest trends in European and international textual scholarship examine literary creation and the relationship between reading and writing To study how readers respond to writing and how reading engenders new writing the contributing scholars no longer take for granted that authors write in splendid isolation but turn to a more broadly sociological investigation of authorship assigning new roles to the writer as reader notetaker annotator book collector and so on Notes and annotations may be fragmentary private undigested and embryonic but as witnesses to the reading process they tell unique stories about writers and readers ranging from great marginalists like Coleridge to women annotators of cookbooks This subject of research is a junction of several fields of research and tries to bridge gaps between separate disciplines with a common ground such as the history of the book the history of reading and the history of writing scholarly editing and textual genetics the analysis commentary and critical interpretation of the way in which works of art come into being bridging the gap between literary and textual
