The Maitland Morpeth String Quartet:

The Maitland & Morpeth String Quartet Nicholas Enright, 1980 Nick Enright Anne Pender, Susan Lever, 2008

Nick Enright 1950 2003 was one of Australia's most significant and successful playwrights. As a writer, director, actor, and teacher, he influenced theatre in Australia for thirty years. Enright wrote more than fifty plays for the stage, film, television, and radio, translated and adapted more, and taught acting to students in varied settings both in Australia and the United States. His writing repertoire included comedy, social realism, farce, fantasy, and the musical. In addition to his prodigious contribution to all of these genres, he was a passionate advocate for the actor and the theatre in contemporary society. In this volume, Anne Pender and Susan Lever present a set of essays and recollections about Nick Enright's work for students, teachers, and scholars. The book offers a comprehensive study of Enright's writing for theatre, film, and television. Scholars, acting teachers, and theatre directors have contributed to this work, each illuminating an aspect of Enright's remarkable career. The discussions cover interpretations of Enright's scripts and productions, detailed analysis of his directing style, substantial background, and analysis of his writing for musicals, as well as accounts of his specific approach to acting and to adaptation across genres. The essays and recollections included in this book will inspire theatre practitioners as well as scholars. Most importantly, this book will inform and enlighten students and teachers both at high school and university about an exceptional career in the theatre. A Chronological History of Australian Composers and Their Compositions - Vol. 3 1985-1998

Stephen Pleskun, 2013-03-06. In this third of 4 volumes that include more than 800 composers and over 30,000 compositions, Stephen traces the history and development of Classical music in Australia. From obscure and forgotten composers to those who attained an international reputation, this volume reveals their output, unique experiences, and travails. The formation and demise of music ensembles, institutions, venues, and festivals is part of the story, and included in the narrative are performers, conductors, entrepreneurs, educators, administrators, instrument makers, musicologists, music critics, and philanthropists. A concise yet comprehensive picture of Australian music making can be found in any given year. Australian Theatre after the New Wave Julian Meyrick, 2017-09-25. In Australian Theatre after the New Wave, Julian Meyrick charts the history of three ground-breaking Australian theatre companies: the Paris Theatre 1978, the Hunter Valley Theatre 1976-94, and Anthill Theatre 1980-94. In the years following the controversial dismissal of Gough Whitlam's Labor government in 1975, these alternative theatres struggled to survive in an increasingly adverse economic environment. Drawing on interviews and archival sources, including Australia Council files and correspondence, the book examines the funding structures in which the companies operated and the impact of the cultural policies of the period. It analyses the changing relationship between the artist and the State, the rise of a managerial ethos of accountability, and the growing dominance of government in the fate of the nation's theatre. In doing so, it shows the historical roots of many of the problems facing Australian theatre today. This is an exceptionally timely book. In giving a history of Australian independent theatre, it not only charts the amazing rise and strange disappearance of an energetic radical and dynamically democratic artistic movement but also tries to explain that rise and fall and how we should relate to it now Prof Justin O Connor Monash University This study makes a significant contribution to scholarship on Australian theatre and more broadly to the global discussion about the vexed relationship between artists creativity government funding for the arts and cultural policy Dr Gillian Arrighi The University of Newcastle Australia

Australian Animation Dan Torre, Lienors Torre, 2018-11-02 This book provides the most comprehensive history and analysis of Australian animation published to date Spanning from the 1910s to the present day it explores a wide range both of independent animation and of large scale commercial productions Presented within a uniquely international context it details the frequent links between Australian animation and overseas productions New perspectives and original information are offered on a variety of international subjects such as Felix the Cat the Australian Hanna Barbera studios and the Australian Walt Disney studios Drawing on both extensive archival research and original interviews this book illuminates for the first time the breadth and richness of Australia s animation history

Australian Writers, 1975-2000 Selina Samuels, 2006 Essays on the literary historiography of Australia provide an overview of prominent and influential Australian writers of the literary and cultural movements from 1975 to 2000 A period marked by strong female voices and concern to represent the female experience Discusses the wide stylistic sweep of the Australian writers of this period the diversity of poetry dramatists who wrote scripts for movies and television and traditional genres such as fiction and drama

Animation in Asia and the Pacific John A. Lent, 2001 Animation has had a global renaissance during the 1990s and nowhere is this more evident than in Asia With the exception of China and Japan most Asian nations are relatively new to this art form Over the last decade countries such as Taiwan South Korea the Philippines and Thailand as well as China have acted as major offshore production plants for North American and European studios One of the spurs for this increase in activity has been the global growth of terrestrial cable satellite and video systems all demanding large menus of programming including animation A second spur has been the exceptional popularity that Japanese anim has enjoyed across Asia Europe and the United States Despite these developments there has not been corresponding growth of a serious literature covering industrial and aesthetic issues about Asian animation and the small amount of work that has been produced has not been published in English

Animation in Asia and the Pacific provides the first continent wide analysis delving into issues of production distribution exhibition aesthetics and regulation in this burgeoning field Animation in Asia and the Pacific also offers vignettes of the fascinating experiences of a group of animation pioneers The historical and contemporary perspectives derive from interviews textual analysis archival research and participation observation data
