The Man Who Swam Into History:

The Man Who Swam into History Robert A. Rosenstone, 2010-01-01 The story begins with a grandfather who heroically escaped from Russia by swimming the Pruth River to Romania or did he Then there are stories of another grandfather who kept a lifelong mistress grandmothers who were ignored except in the kitchen migrations legal and illegal from Eastern Europe to Canada to California racketeers on one side of the family and Communists on the other and a West Coast adolescence in the McCarthy years All of these mostly true stories form a Jewish family's history a tale of dislocation and assimilation But in the hands of award winning historian Robert Rosenstone they become much more The fragments of memory so beautifully preserved in The Man Who Swam into History add unforgettable human characters to the now familiar story of the Jewish diaspora in the twentieth century This combination memoir short story collection recounts the Rosenstone family's passage from Romania to America Robert Rosenstone tells the story not as a single linear narrative but through tales sequences windows moments and fragments resurrected from the lives of three generations in my two parental families set in five countries on two continents over the period of almost a century This more literary and personal approach allows Rosenstone's relatives to emerge as distinct personalities voices who quarrel and gossip share their dreams and fears and maintain the ties of a loving if eccentric family Among the genre of coming to America tales The Man Who Swam into History is a work of unique vision one that both records and reconstructs the past even as it continuously and humorously questions the truth of its own assertions

Dancing on the Sun Stone Marjorie Becker, 2024-05-01 Dancing on the Sun Stone is a uniquely transdisciplinary work that fuses modern Latin American history and literature to explore women's lives and gendered politics in Mexico In this important work scholar Marjorie Becker focuses on the complex Mexican women of rural Michoacán who performed an illicit revolutionary dance and places it in dialogue with Nobel Prize winner Octavio Paz's signature poem Sun Stone allowing a new gendered history to emerge

Through this dialogue the women reveal intimate and intellectual complexities of Mexican women's gendered voices their histories and their intimate and public lives The work further demonstrates the ways these women in dialogue with Paz transformed history itself Becker's multigenre work reconstructs Mexican history through the temporal experiences of crucial Michoacan females experiences that culminate in their complex revolutionary dance which itself emerges as a transformative revolutionary language

Adventures of a Postmodern Historian Robert A. Rosenstone, 2016-09-22

Robert Rosenstone was among the first postmodern historians and remains one of the most renowned In this honest revealing and often funny memoir he shows us how he got there and why Adventures of a Postmodern Historian chronicles Rosenstone's research journeys over half a century Beginning in the 1960s his offbeat trajectory took him on adventures through the police states of Franco Spain and the Soviet Union to the Shinto shrines and Zen temples of Japan and ultimately to Hollywood Alongside his own memoirs Rosenstone reflects upon developments and changes within the realm of professional history which in turn reflect the social cultural and intellectual shifts of the late 20th century A pioneer of experimental and creative history he suggests how the experience of the historian can inflect the written history and provides a defence of innovation in historical writing that is both intellectually rigorous and entertaining In doing so he offers a window into the state of history today and points to exciting new ways of writing the past This is a book about the craft of history about both doing research and writing it It should be required reading for all historians

Losing Site Dr Shelley Hornstein, 2013-06-28

As Ruskin suggests in his Seven Lamps of Architecture We may live without architecture and worship without her but we cannot remember without her We remember best when we experience an event in a place But what happens when we leave that place or that place no longer exists This book addresses the relationship between memory and place and asks how architecture captures and triggers memory It explores how architecture exists as a material object and how it registers as a place that we come to remember beyond the physical site itself It questions what architecture is in the broadest sense assuming that it is not simply buildings Rather architecture is considered to be the mapping of physical mental or emotional space The idea that we are all architects in some measure as we actively organize and select pathways and markers within space is central to this book's premise Each chapter provides a different example of the manifold ways in which the physical place of architecture is curated by the architecture in our mental space our imaginary toolbox when we think of a place and look at a photograph or visit a site and describe it later or send a postcard By connecting architecture with other disciplines such as geography visual culture sociology and urban studies as well as the fine and performing arts this book puts forward the idea that a conversation about architecture is not exclusively about formal isolated buildings but instead must be deepened and broadened as spatialized visualizations and experiences of place

The Nature of History Reader Keith Jenkins, Alun Munslow, 2004

The question of what the nature of history is is a key issue for all students of history It is recognized by many that the past and history are different phenomena and that the way the past is actively historicized can be highly problematic and contested Border Crossings Paul Arthur, Leena Kurvet-Kaosaar, 2020-04-28 The border between intimate memory and historical revelation is explored in this wide ranging collection which features original contributions from leading figures in the life writing field from Australia Canada Europe UK and the USA The transmission and preservation of personal knowledge and stories from generation to generation frequently requires crossing into the private contested spaces of memory The most secret accounts or guarded remnants of information can sometimes lead to the most profound insights In this context there is a delicate balance between life writing's role in revealing lives and the desire to be respectful towards them As the essays in this book attest exposing secrets even if humiliating can be a way of honouring lives Throughout runs the framing theme of memory as the source of all intergenerational transmission of culture and history whether relating to family community nation ancestry or political allegiance and the importance of the intimate and personal in that process of handing on This book was originally published as a special issue of Life Writing

Rosenstone, 2012-05-30 An international film festival sparks a cross cultural romance sparks in this novel of cultural history ethnic tensions and the power of love Aisha and Benjamin meet at a film festival in Spain and the instant attraction hits them both like a lightning bolt She is a documentary filmmaker and he is a historian She is a Muslim and he is a Jew And as they get closer the misunderstanding between them and the tensions between their two worlds escalates to dizzying extremes Red Star Crescent Moon mixes contemporary and the historical worlds in a bold tale of clashing cultures It is a tale of new romance and ancient conflicts where pop culture and political violence exist side by side The romance of Aisha and Benjamin is set against the backdrop of a Hollywood epic in production a movie megastar with seductive intentions and terrorists who wish
