Scharper, Ingrid Leman-Stefanovic, 2012-01-01 Urban and natural environments are often viewed as entirely separate entities human settlements as the domain of architects and planners and natural areas as untouched wilderness This dichotomy continues to drive decision making in subtle ways but with the mounting pressures of global climate change and declining biodiversity it is no longer viable New technologies are promising to provide renewable energy sources and greener designs but real change will require a deeper shift in values attitudes and perceptions A timely and important collection The Natural City explores how to integrate the natural environment into healthy urban centres from philosophical religious socio political and planning perspectives Recognizing the need to better link the humanities with public policy The Natural City offers unique insights for the development of an alternative vision of urban life

The Sound of Architecture Angeliki Sioli, Elisavet Kiourtsoglou, 2022-05-18 How sound and its atmospheres transform architecture Acoustic atmospheres can be fleeting elusive or short lived Sometimes they are constant but more often they change from one moment to the next forming distinct impressions each time we visit certain places Stable or dynamic acoustic atmospheres have a powerful effect on our spatial experience sometimes even more so than architecture itself This book explores the acoustic atmospheres of diverse architectural environments in terms of scale program location or historic period providing an overview of how acoustic atmospheres are created perceived experienced and visualized The contributors explore how sound and its atmospheres transform architecture and space Their essays demonstrate that sound is a tangible element in the design and staging of atmospheres and that it should become a central part of the spatial explorations of architects designers and urban planners The Sound of Architecture will be of interest to architectural historians theorists students and practicing architects who will discover how acoustic atmospheres can be created without complex and specialized engineering It will also be of value to scholars working in the field of history of emotions as it offers evocative descriptions of acoustic atmospheres from diverse cultures and time periods

Invisible Reconstruction Lucia Patrizio Gunning, Paola Rizzi, 2022-12-06 What does it really mean to reconstruct a city after a natural biological or man made disaster Is the repair and reinstatement of buildings and infrastructure sufficient without the mending of social fabric The authors of this volume believe that the true measure of success should be societal After all a city without people is no city at all Invisible Reconstruction takes the view that effective disaster mitigation and recovery require interdisciplinary tactics Historian Lucia Patrizio Gunning and urbanist Paola Rizzi expand beyond the confines of individual disciplines or disaster studies to bring together academics and practitioners from a wide variety of disciplines comparing strategies and outcomes in different scenarios and cultures from

South America Europe and Asia From cultural heritage and public space to education and participation contributors reflect on the interconnection of people culture and environment and on constructive approaches to strengthening the intangible ties to increase resilience and reduce vulnerability By bringing practical examples of how communities and individuals have reacted to or prepared for disaster the publication proposes a shift in public policy to ensure that essential physical reinforcement and rebuilding are matched by attention to societal needs Invisible Reconstruction is essential reading for policymakers academics and practitioners working to reduce the impact of natural biological and man made disaster or to improve post disaster recovery New Art Examiner ,1999 The independent voice of the visual arts The Wire ,2000
