A Critical History of Health, Sport, and Physical Education Michelle Gorzanelli, Jorge Knijnik, 2025-07-01 This book fills a gap in literature by generating a combined history of Physical Education PE School Sport SS and Health Education HE in New South Wales NSW public schools from 1880 to 2024 It includes broad discussions on how political issues such as the World Wars influenced i the PE curriculum which was used as a medium to prepare a fit army ii the school sport system which acted as an expression of national strength via showcasing sporting prowess on the international stages of the Olympic Games and iii the health education curriculum which addressed infectious diseases resulting from poor hygiene associated with poverty The book also adopts a socio cultural perspective to the constructs of PE SS and HE curricula and highlights significant local national and international historical events and issues as factors driving curriculum developments and paradigm shifts in these subjects in the NSW public education and beyond It brings new and engendering socio historical findings to the discipline fields of PE SS and HE combined with an innovative methodology in critical historiographical studies Sport, Politics and the Working Class Stephen G. Jones,1992 The Schooling of Girls in Britain and Ireland, 1800- 1900 Jane McDermid,2013-03-07 This book compares the formal education of the majority of girls in Britain and Ireland in the nineteenth century Previous books about Britain invariably focus on England and such British studies tend not to include Ireland despite its incorporation into the Union in 1801 The Schooling of Girls in Britain and Ireland 1800 1900 presents a comparative synthesis of the schooling of working and middle class girls in the Victorian period with the emphasis on the interaction of gender social class religion and nationality across the UK It reveals similarities as well as differences between both the social classes and the constituent parts of the Union including strikingly similar concerns about whether working class girls could fulfill their domestic responsibilities What they had in common with middle class girls was that they were to be educated for the good of others This study shows how middle class women used educational reform to carve a public role for themselves on the basis of a domesticated life for their lower class sisters confirming that Victorian feminism was both empowering and constraining by reinforcing conventional gender stereotypes
