security from a gender perspective Drawing on feminist theory the book formulates a conceptual approach and a set of principles for a substantively equal gendered right to social security In so doing it challenges the relationship between the right to social security and traditional conceptions of work that exclude women s labour including their caring roles It argues that the right must have application at the transnational level if it is to address the changing nature of women s work due to globalisation The book applies the framework and principles it develops to a study of international law focusing on the work of key United Nations human rights bodies It also demonstrates the value of this framework in its analysis of three countries social security programmes South Africa Australia and India In combining feminist thought on the nature of work and care with equality theories in developing the right to social security from a gender perspective this book expands the capacity of the right to advance gender equality and address gendered poverty Middle Classes in Africa Lena Kroeker, David O'Kane, Tabea Scharrer, 2018-02-19 This volume challenges the concept of the new African middle class with new theoretical and empirical insights into the changing lives in Sub Saharan Africa Diverse middle classes are on the rise but models of class based on experiences from other regions of the world cannot be easily transferred to the African continent Empirical contributions drawn from a diverse range of contexts address both African histories of class formation and the political roles of the continent s middle classes and also examine the important interdependencies that cut across inter generational urban rural and class divides This thought provoking book argues emphatically for a revision of common notions of the middle class and for the inclusion of insights from the South into the global debate on class Middle Classes in Africa will be of interest to students and scholars across a range of disciplines as well as NGOs and policy makers with an interest in African societies
