Paul B. Stretesky, 2017-03-02 The essays selected for this volume show how radical and Marxist criminology has established itself as an influential critique since it emerged in the late 1960s Unlike orthodox criminology which emphasizes individual level explanations of criminal behavior radical and Marxist criminology emphasizes power inequality and structures especially those related to class as key factors in crime law and justice This collection of essays draws attention to the way in which structural forces shape and influence both individual and institutional for example governmental behavior highlights neglected crime corporate governmental state corporate and environmental which causes more extensive damage than the street crimes examined by orthodox criminology and discusses the ways in which law and criminal justice processes reinforce power structures and contribute to class control Postcolonial Theory and Organizational Analysis: A Critical Engagement A. Wide ranging in scope the book covers major topics like cross cultural management control and resistance corporate culture the discourse of exoticization in museums and tourism and stakeholder issues and sheds new light on the troubling legacy of colonialism. Sociology: A Down to Earth Approach James M Henslin, Adam M Possamai, Alpha L Possamai-Inesedy, Tim Marjoribanks, Katriona Elder, 2015-05-20 James Henslin has always been able to share the excitement of sociology with his acclaimed down to earth approach and personal writing style that highlight the sociology of everyday life and its relevance to students' lives. Adapted for students studying within Australia this text now in a second edition has been made even more relevant and engaging to students. With wit, personal reflection and illuminating examples the local author team share their passion for sociology, promote sociology to students and entice them to delve deeper into this exciting science. Six central themes run throughout this text: down to earth sociology, globalisation, cultural diversity, critical thinking, the new technology and the growing influence of the mass media on our lives. These themes are especially useful for introducing the controversial topics that make studying sociology such a lively, exciting activity.

Encyclopedia of Criminological Theory Francis T. Cullen, Pamela Wilcox, 2010-09-23 Consistently excellent. The level and coverage of the content make this an invaluable reference for students studying criminology or taking criminal psychology modules at degree level and beyond. Adam Tocock Reference Reviews. In discussing a criminology topic, lecturers and course textbooks often toss out names of theorists or make a sideways reference to a particular theory and move on as if assuming their student audience possesses the necessary background to appreciate and integrate the reference. However, university reference librarians can tell you this is often far from the case. Students often approach them seeking a source to provide a quick overview of a particular theory or theorist with just the basics: the who, what, where, how and why, if you will. And reference librarians often find it difficult to guide these students to a quick one stop source. In response, SAGE Reference is publishing the two volume Encyclopedia of Criminological Theory available in both print and electronic formats. This serves as a reference source for anyone interested in the roots of contemporary criminological theory. Drawing together a team of international scholars, it examines the global landscape of all the key theories and the theorists behind them, presenting them in the context needed to understand their strengths and weaknesses. In addition to interpretations of long established theories, it also offers essays on cutting edge research as one might find in a handbook. And like an unabridged dictionary, it provides concise to the point definitions of key concepts, ideas, schools and figures. Coverage will include contexts and concepts in criminological theory, the social construction of crime, policy implications of theory, diversity and intercultural contexts, conflict theory, rational choice theories, conservative criminology, feminist theory.

Sociology, Phenomenology and Marxian Analysis Barry Smart, 2013-10-15 Sociology is an established academic discipline but there has been continuing debate over its status as a science and the nature of its subject matter This led to the emergence of a phenomenological sociology and to critiques of positivist sociology This critical reappraisal of the relevance of Marxian analysis for a science of society shows how these developments within sociology have had their counterpart in Marxism The author analyses the status of Marx's work and the Marxist tradition in sociology He focuses upon those concerns which are common to both Marxian analysis and sociology the question of subjectivity the nature of social reality and the dialectical relationship of the doing or practice of a science of society to the social world within which such social analyses are situated Originally published in 1976 New Directions in Criminological Theory Freda Adler, William S. Laufer, 2023-04-28 New Directions in Criminological Theory focuses on new approaches to theory construction with particular emphasis on reformulations and new applications of existing paradigms It includes an assessment of labeling theory demonstrating how the approach could become part of a more comprehensive explanation of crime A case is made for studying crime in terms of the social context in which crimes are conceived interpreted and negotiated The debate between crime general and crime specific approaches is further amplified A rethinking of Hirschi's control theory is presented The volume includes theoretical discussions of spouse abuse of punishment and of power control models Additional chapters examine theoretical advances in corporate illegality employee theft and the alcohol crime syndrome These original contributions include Charles F Wellford and Ruth A Triplett The Future of Labeling Theory Austin T Turk A Proposed Resolution of Key Issues in the Political Sociology of Law David Weisburd and Lisa Maher Contrasting Crime General and Crime Specific Theory Sally Simpson Strategy Structure and Corporate Crime Edward W Sieh Employee theft Robert Nash Parker Alcohol and Theories of Homicide Kimberly L Kempf The Empirical Status of Hirschi's Control Theory Jeffrey Fagan The Social Control of Spouse Assault Marc Le Blanc and Aaron Caplan Theoretical Formalization A Necessity Michael J Lynch Control Theory and Punishment Gary F Jensen Power Control vs Social Control Theories of Common Delinquency John Hagan A R Gillis and John Simpson The Power of Control in Sociological Theories of Delinquency
