The Black Shoals Tiffany Lethabo King, 2019-09-27 In The Black Shoals Tiffany Lethabo King uses the shoal an offshore geologic formation that is neither land nor sea as metaphor mode of critique and methodology to theorize the encounter between Black studies and Native studies King conceptualizes the shoal as a space where Black and Native literary traditions politics theory critique and art meet in productive shifting and contentious ways These interactions which often foreground Black and Native discourses of conquest and critiques of humanism offer alternative insights into understanding how slavery anti Blackness and Indigenous genocide structure white supremacy Among texts and topics King examines eighteenth century British mappings of humanness Nativeness and Blackness Black feminist depictions of Black and Native erotics Black fungibility as a critique of discourses of labor exploitation and Black art that rewrites conceptions of the human In outlining the convergences and disjunctions between Black and Native thought and aesthetics King identifies the potential to create new epistemologies lines of critical inquiry and creative practices Michel Houellebecq and the Literature of Despair Carole Sweeney,2013-11-21 Widely acknowledged as an important if highly controversial figure in contemporary literature French novelist and poet Michel Houellebecq has elicited diverse critical responses In this book Carole Sweeney examines his novels as a response to the advance of neoliberalism into all areas of affective human life This historicizing study argues that le monde houellebecquien is an atomised society of banal quotidian alienation populated by quietly resentful men who are the botched subjects of late capitalism Addressing Houellebecq s handling of the failure of the radical thought of 68 Sweeney looks at the ways in which his fiction treats feminism the decline of religion and the family as well as the obsolescence of French theory and the Sartrean notion of engaged literature Reading the world with the disappointed idealism of a contemporary moralist Houellebecq s novels Sweeney argues fluctuate between despair for the world as it is and a limp utopian hope for a post humanity Ethnographic Engagements Sara Delamont,Paul Atkinson,2021-05-25 In Ethnographic Engagements Encounters with the Familiar and the Strange Delamont and Atkinson each with over 40 years of experience as ethnographers present strategies for designing conducting and publishing research that contributes original insights Ethnography is a core qualitative research method widely used across the social sciences However producing good interesting and thought provoking ethnography is never easy This book provides effective research strategies for combatting familiarity in the context of empirical fieldwork The authors rehearse ways that challenge the ethnographer to avoid taken for granted ideas and to make the familiar strange The book covers the cycle of research from research questions to publication and leaving the field and brings together the central themes of their life s work in one clearly written volume This book is aimed at researchers at postgraduate level and beyond their supervisors and principal investigators and at experienced investigators who want to improve their thinking Any ethnographer will find ideas and proposals to help them reflect self critically and creatively about their research practice Critical Theory and The English Teacher Nick Peim,2002-03-11 In this radical exploration Nick Peim himself a practising English teacher shows how teachers can use critical theory to bring students own experience back into the subject The author explains how the insights of discourse theory psychoanalysis semiotics and deconstruction can be used on the material of modern culture as well as on and in oral work The book is written in a style which even those with no background in critical theory will find approachable and arguments are backed up with practical classroom examples Shakespeare's Strangers and English Law Paul Raffield,2023-01-26 Through analysis of 5 plays by Shakespeare Paul Raffield examines what it meant to be a stranger to English law in the late Elizabethan and early Jacobean period The numbers of strangers increased dramatically in the late sixteenth century as refugees fled religious persecution in continental Europe and sought sanctuary in Protestant England In the context of this book strangers are not only persons ethnically or racially different from their English counterparts be they immigrants refugees or visitors The term also includes those who transgress or are simply excluded by their status from established legal norms by virtue of their faith sexuality or mode of employment Each chapter investigates a particular category of stranger Topics include the treatment of actors in late Elizabethan England and the punishment of counterfeits Measure for Measure the standing of refugees under English law and the reception of these people by the indigenous population The Comedy of Errors the establishment of Troynovant as an international trading centre on the banks of the Thames Troilus and Cressida the role of law and the state in determining the rights of citizens and aliens The Merchant of Venice and the disenfranchised estranged position of the citizen in a dysfunctional society and an acephalous realm King Lear This is the third sole authored book by Paul Raffield on the subject of Shakespeare and the Law The others are Shakespeare's Imaginary Constitution Late Elizabethan Politics and the Theatre of Law 2010 and The Art of Law in Shakespeare 2017 both published by Hart Bloomsbury

Curriculum William Pinar, 2014-01-21 This collection of essays by established writers in postmodern pedagogy stakes out new conceptual territories redefines the field and presents a complete review of contemporary curriculum practice and theory in a single volume Drawing upon contemporary research in political feminist theological literary and racial theory this anthology reformulates the research methodologies of the discipline and creates a new paradigm for the study of curriculum into the next century The contributors consider gender identity narrative and autobiography as vehicles for reviewing the current and future state of curriculum studies Special Features Presents new essays by established writers in postmodern pedagogy Reviews curriculum studies through the filters of race gender identity narrative and autobiography Offers in a single affordable volume a complete review of contemporary curriculum practice and theory
