The Abstract Society A Cultural Analysis Of Our Time:

The Abstract Society Anton C. Zijderveld,1970 The abstract society Anton C. Zijderveld,1972 Religions of Modernity Stef Aupers,Dick Houtman,2010 Religions of Modernity challenges the social scientific orthodoxy that once unleashed the modern forces of individualism science and technology inevitably erode the sacred and evoke the profane The book s chapters some by established scholars others by junior researchers document instead in rich empirical detail how modernity relocates the sacred to the deeper layers of the self and the domain of digital technology Rather than destroying the sacred tout court then the cultural logic of modernization spawns its own religious meanings unacknowledged spiritualities and magical enchantments The editors argue in the introductory chapter that the classical theoretical accounts of modernity by Max Weber Emile Durkheim and others already hinted at the future emergence of these religions of modernity

Women and Religion in the West Dr Giselle Vincett,Dr Kristin Aune,Dr Sonya Sharma,2013-05-28 What is the relationship between women and secularization In the West women are abandoning traditional religion Yet they continue to make up the majority of religious adherents Accounting for this seeming paradox is the focus of this volume If women undergird the foundations of religion but are leaving in large numbers why are they leaving Where are they going What are they doing And what s happening to those who remain Women and Religion in the West addresses a neglected yet crucial issue within the debate on religious belonging and departure the role of women in and out of religion and spirituality Beginning with an analysis of the relationship between gender and secularization the book moves its focus to in depth examination of women s experiences based on data from key recent qualitative work on women and religion This volume addresses not only women s place in and out of Christianity the normal focus of secularization theories but also alternative spiritualities and Islam asking how questions of secularization differ between faith systems This book offers students and scholars of religion sociology and women s studies as well as interested general readers an accessible work on the religiosity of western women and contributes fresh analyses of the rapidly shifting terrain of contemporary religion and spirituality

Beyond Ujamaa in Tanzania Goran Hyden,2023-11-10 Beyond Ujamaa in Tanzania Underdevelopment and an Uncaptured Peasantry explores the challenges of development and underdevelopment in Africa with a focus on Tanzania s experience during its early socialist years The book critiques the dominant ideologies of development whether capitalist or socialist as being rooted in Western industrial paradigms that often fail to address the realities of pre capitalist African societies It argues that the underdevelopment in Africa is not solely due to excessive penetration by global capitalism but also to capitalism s inability to dismantle the resilient pre capitalist structures in many rural societies The author highlights the role of the Tanzanian peasantry whose economic and social autonomy often resists the centralizing tendencies of modern development presenting them not as mere appendages to the global economy but as key players with their own modes of production and unique societal structures The book is grounded in over a decade of fieldwork and engagement with rural Tanzanian communities enriched by the author's fluency in Swahili and deep involvement in local life. It argues for a more nuanced approach to studying African societies, one that goes beyond Western assumptions and models. By placing the peasant mode of production at the center of analysis, the study challenges conventional wisdom and suggests that the primary development challenge in Africa lies not with multinational corporations but with understanding and working within the dynamics of the smallholder peasant economy. The author also reflects on the limitations of conventional social science research and calls for greater involvement in the lived realities of the communities studied, emphasizing the need for research methods that are sensitive to local contexts and values. The book combines academic critique, field observations, and a focus on the epistemological biases of Western scholarship to present a compelling argument for rethinking development in Africa. This title is part of UC Press's Voices Revived program, which commemorates University of California Press's mission to seek out and cultivate the brightest minds and give them voice, reach, and impact. Drawing on a backlist dating to 1893, Voices Revived makes high-quality, peer-reviewed scholarship accessible once again using print-on-demand technology. This title was originally published in 1980.

Paradoxes of Individualization Dick Houtman, Stef Aupers, Willem de Koster, 2016-12-05

Paradoxes of Individualization addresses one of the most hotly debated issues in contemporary sociology: whether a process of individualization is liberating, or if it serves to make individuals more dependent on society. The book adopts a cultural sociological approach that firmly rejects such a notion of individualization as naïve. The process is instead conceptualized as an increasing social significance of moral notions of individual liberty, personal authenticity, and cultural tolerance, which informs two paradoxes. Firstly, chapters about consumer behavior, computer gaming, new age spirituality, and right-wing extremism demonstrate that this individualism entails a new, yet often unacknowledged, form of social control. The second paradox addressed in chapters about religious, cultural, and political conflict is concerned with the fact that it is precisely individualism's increased social significance that has made it morally and politically contested. Paradoxes of Individualization will therefore be of interest to scholars and students of cultural sociology, cultural anthropology, political science, and cultural, religious, and media studies, and particularly to those with interests in social theory, culture, politics, and religion.
