Epidemic Empire Anjuli Fatima Raza Kolb, 2021-02-09 Terrorism is a cancer an infection an epidemic a plague For more than a century this metaphor has figured insurgent violence as contagion in order to contain its political energies In Epidemic Empire Anjuli Fatima Raza Kolb shows that this trope began in responses to the Indian Mutiny of 1857 and tracks its tenacious hold through 9 11 and beyond The result is the first book length study to approach the global War on Terror from a postcolonial literary perspective Raza Kolb assembles a diverse archive from colonial India imperial Britain French and independent Algeria the postcolonial Islamic diaspora and the neoimperial United States Anchoring her book are studies of four major writers in the colonial postcolonial canon Rudyard Kipling Bram Stoker

Albert Camus and Salman Rushdie Across these sources she reveals the tendency to imagine anticolonial rebellion and Muslim insurgency specifically as a virulent form of social contagion Exposing the long history of this broken but persistent narrative Epidemic Empire is a major contribution to the rhetorical history of our present moment Ethics and Epidemiology Steven S. Coughlin, Angus Dawson, 2021-07-02 Now updated with timely global examples Ethics and Epidemiology Third Edition provides an in depth account to the theoretical and practical moral problems confronting public health students and professionals and offers guidance for how justified moral conclusions can be reached Making Threats Betsy Hartmann, Banu Subramaniam, Charles Zerner, 2005-11-01 Today we live in times of proliferating fears The daily updates on the ongoing war on terror amplify fear and anxiety as if they were necessary and important aspects of our reality Concerns about the environment increasingly take center stage as stories and images abound about deadly viruses alien species invasions scarcity of oil water food safety of GMOs biological weapons and fears of overpopulation Making Threats Biofears and Environmental Anxieties addresses how such environmental and biological fears are used to manufacture threats to individual national and global security Contributors from environmental studies political science international security biology sociology and anthropology discuss what they share in common the view that fears should be critically examined to avoid unnecessary alarm and scapegoating of people and nations as the enemy Other In these highly original and thought provoking essays Making Threats focuses on five themes security scarcity purity circulation and terror No other book has systematically examined the proliferation of fear in the context of current world events and from such a multidisciplinary perspective It consolidates in one place cutting edge research and reflection on how the contemporary landscape of fear shapes and is shaped by environmental and biological discourses By uncovering the linguistic tools that make fear resonate in the public consciousness by identifying the interests that create or are sustained by fears in short by giving fears histories Making Threats Biofears and Environmental Anxieties engages with some of the most potent and disturbing political and cultural aspects of the contemporary scene
