Emergency Responders-- Drastically Underfunded, Dangerously Unprepared Jamie Frederic Metzl,Warren B. Rudman,Richard Alan Clarke,2003 The Council sponsored Independent Task Force on Emergency Responders met with emergency responder organizations across the country to assess what would be required to achieve a minimum effective response to a catastrophic terrorist attack Although the Task Force argues that additional funding for emergency responders is urgently needed the report also stresses the importance of developing national preparedness standards to ensure the most efficient and effective use of limited resources Protecting Emergency Responders Henry H. Willis,Rand Corporation,2006 This monograph serves as a technical source for National Institute for Occupational Safety and Health NIOSH incident commander guidelines for emergency response immediately following large structural collapse events It gives guidelines for personal protective equipment PPE focusing on required modifications to responders typical PPE ensembles because of the duration of response and the need to prevent exposures to likely hazards from pathogens airborne dusts and gaseous hazardous materials The Scientific Response to Terrorism: Report, together with formal minutes Great Britain: Parliament: House of Commons: Science and Technology Committee,Great Britain. Parliament. House of Commons. Select Committee on Science and Technology,2003 The report examines how science and technology is used in countermeasures to chemical biological radiological and nuclear CBRN devices employed by terrorists Areas of good practice are pointed out for example the Office of the Deputy Prime Minister s ODPM s New Dimension programme of procurement for the Fire Service but there has been very little new investment in long term research and development in this field for instance the lack of emphasis on scientific research in the Home Office The Committee proposes a Centre for Home Defence under the Home Office to develop technologies for civilian use The surveillance of dangerous chemicals and pathogens both nationally and internationally is a matter of concern The Government has also imposed an unnecessary and counterproductive level of secrecy surrounding its counter terrorism research Hazardous Materials Response Handbook Jerry W.
