Research Methodologies in Translation Studies Gabriela Saldanha, Sharon O'Brien, 2014-04-08 As an interdisciplinary area of research translation studies attracts students and scholars with a wide range of backgrounds who then need to face the challenge of accounting for a complex object of enquiry that does not adapt itself well to traditional methods in other fields of investigation This book addresses the needs of such scholars whether they are students doing research at postgraduate level or more experienced researchers who want to familiarize themselves with methods outside their current field of expertise The book promotes a discerning and critical approach to scholarly investigation by providing the reader not only with the know how but also with insights into how new questions can be fruitfully explored through the coherent integration of different methods of research Understanding core principles of reliability validity and ethics is essential for any researcher no matter what methodology they adopt and a whole chapter is therefore devoted to these issues Research Methodologies in Translation Studies is divided into four different chapters according to whether the research focuses on the translation product the process of translation the participants involved or the context in which translation takes place An introductory chapter discusses issues of reliability credibility validity and ethics The impact of our research depends not only on its quality but also on successful dissemination and the final chapter therefore deals with what is also generally the final stage of the research process producing a research report

Sadness Expressions in English and Chinese Ruihua Zhang, 2014-09-25 Winner of the Tianjin Social Science Outstanding Achievement Award This book reports on the contrastive semantic investigation of sadness expressions between English and Chinese based on two monolingual general corpora and a parallel corpus The exploration adopts a unique theoretical approach which integrates corpus linguistic theories on meaning as a social construct usage and paraphrase with a corpus linguistic lexical model It employs a new complex but workable methodology which combines computational tools with manual examination to tease meaning out of corpus evidence to compare and contrast lexical items that do not match up neatly between languages It looks at sadness expressions both within and across languages in terms of three corpus linguistic structural categories i.e. colligation collocation and semantic association preference and paraphrase both explicit and implicit to capture their subtle nuances of meaning disclose the culture specific conceptualisations encoded in them and highlight their respective cultural distinctiveness of emotion By presenting multidisciplinary original work Sadness Expressions in English and Chinese will be of interest to researchers in corpus linguistics contrastive lexical semantics psychology bilingual lexicography and language pedagogy

English Ditransitive Verbs Joybrato Mukherjee, 2016-08-29

The present book offers fresh insights into the description of ditransitive verbs and their complementation in present day English. In the theory oriented first part a pluralist framework is developed on the basis of previous research that integrates ditransitive verbs as lexical items with both the entirety of their complementation patterns and the cognitive and semantic aspects of ditransitivity. This approach is combined with modern corpus linguistic methodology in the present study which draws on an exhaustive semi automatic analysis of all patterns of ditransitive verbs in the British component of the International Corpus of English ICE GB and also takes into account selected data from the British National Corpus BNC. In the second part of the study the complementation of ditransitive verbs e.g. give send is analysed quantitatively and qualitatively. Special emphasis is placed here on the identification of significant principles of pattern selection i.e. factors that lead language users to prefer specific patterns over other patterns in given contexts e.g. weight focus pattern flow in text lexical constraints. In the last part some general aspects of a network like usage based model of ditransitive verbs their patterns and the relevant principles of pattern selection are sketched out thus bridging the gap between the performance related description of language use and a competence related model of language cognition.

Lexicography of Coronavirus-related Neologisms Annette Klosa-Kückelhaus, Ilan Kernerman, 2022-12-19. This volume brings together contributions by international experts reflecting on Covid19 related neologisms and their lexicographic processing and representation. The papers analyze new words, new meanings of existing words and new multiword units where they come from, how they are transmitted or differ across languages and how their use and meaning are reflected in dictionaries of all sorts. Recent trends in as many as ten languages are considered including general and specialized language monolingual as well as bilingual and printed as well as online dictionaries.
