Talk for Writing in Secondary Schools, How to Achieve Effective Reading, Writing and Communication Across the Curriculum (Revised Edition) Julia Strong, 2020-08-26

Talk for Writing developed by Pie Corbett and supported by Julia Strong is a proven approach to teaching writing that is engaging and motivating for students and teachers alike Building on best practice this practical guide takes you step by step through how to establish quality written communication across the secondary curriculum It can be used as a handbook by a literacy coordinator to lead the approach as well as being a source of practical ideas for each subject area Every teacher can help students internalize the pattern of language of their subject through focused talk activities related to exemplar text This enables students to independently generate the sentence patterns and structures that are key to effective communication in any subject Julia Strong puts the experience of the learner at the centre By establishing some consistent approaches across the curriculum the learner can see how what they learn in one area can be transferred to support learning in another The approach progressively builds up students linguistic competence involving them in co constructing the next steps they need to take to make progress This practical resource offers Wide range of examples from all subject areas with a particular focus on science

Online Learning Centre with training session with teachers showing Talk for Writing in action suitable to use on training days to help introduce and embed the approach Over 80 customisable handouts downloadable from the Online Learning Centre Customisable PowerPoint slides to train all staff in the approach Thoroughly grounded in the principles of formative assessment Talk for Writing if systematically applied across the curriculum really can turn secondary students into powerful communicators Try it it works

Silent classrooms do not lend themselves to progress the Foreword to this important new book reminds us What follows is an exceptionally well informed and practical guide to how high quality talk can lead to high quality writing I strongly recommend it for all teachers across all subjects

Geoff Barton Headteacher of King Edward VI

School Suffolk UK author and speaker Disciplinary literacy in primary schools: Reading, writing and speaking across the curriculum Shareen Wilkinson, 2025-08-22 Drawing on the research evidence Disciplinary Literacy in Primary Schools offers both theoretical and practical examples of how teachers can support primary pupils in reading writing and speaking across the subject disciplines Shareen Wilkinson draws on twenty years experience in primary education to outline the ways in which disciplinary literacy can help pupils to read write and speak like scientists geographers and historians while exploring other areas across the curriculum This is an essential professional development resource for all Trust leads senior leaders local authority advisers teachers curriculum leads and subject leads who are passionate about having exemplary practice Genre, Text, Grammar Peter Knapp, Megan Watkins, 2005 A comprehensive reference text that examines how the three aspects of language genre text and grammar can be used as resources in teaching and assessing writing It provides an accessible account of current theories of language and language learning together with practical ideas for teaching and assessing the genres and grammar of writing across the curriculum Teaching Writing in Chinese Speaking Areas Mark Shiu-Kee Shum, De-lu Zhang, 2005-11-23 One of the most civilized nations in history China has a long standing writing tradition and many Chinese texts have become world treasures However the way the Chinese teach writing in various countries in contemporary times is little known to the outside world especially in Western countries Undoubtedly the Chinese have had an established traditional method of writing instruction However recent social and political developments have created the perception amongst both practitioners and researchers of a need for change Whilst certain socio political changes both in Mainland China and in the territories acted as agents for reform of the teaching of composition the shape these reforms are taking has been due to many different influences coming both from inside the countries themselves and from foreign sources Mainland China Hong Kong Taiwan and Singapore have each developed their own approach to the teaching of composition Language, Education and Discourse Joseph Foley, 2005-12-05 This collection of essays by leading functional linguists presents the latest perspectives on language and discourse in educational settings The book questions the idea of discourse to reveal that the social processes of learning are imbued with the ideologies of the society and education system within which learning takes place The contributors take into account the historical and cross cultural perspectives of both classroom practices and the student s own awareness of the ideological meanings of language activities Language Education and Discourse is divided into two sections Part one covers early childhood and the growing development of a language system from the basic semiotic system of the infant This is followed by an analysis of the beginnings of literacy in kindergarten the introduction to writing in primary school and the ideological content of reading material Part two furthers this analysis by looking at discourse in secondary and tertiary education The contributors pose questions about the role and importance of teaching grammar in the school system and finally examine how to refine the discourse of education This book will be useful to academics interested in the latest functional perspectives

Developing Advanced Literacy in First and Second Languages Mary J.

Schleppegrell, M. Cecilia Colombi, 2005-04-11 This book addresses the linguistic challenges faced by diverse populations of students at the secondary and post secondary levels as they engage in academic tasks requiring advanced levels of reading and writing Learning to use language in ways that meet academic expectations is a challenge for students who have had little exposure and opportunity to use such language outside of school Although much is known about emergent literacy in the early years of schooling much less has been written about the development of advanced literacy as students move into secondary education and beyond Developing Advanced Literacy in First and Second Languages Meaning With Power brings together work on first and second language acquisition and emphasizes the importance of developing advanced literacy in the first language such as Spanish for bilingual students as well as English spans a range of theoretical orientations and analytic approaches drawing on work in systemic functional linguistics genre theory and sociocultural perspectives addresses the content areas of science history and language arts provides specific information about genres and grammatical features in these content areas and presents suggestions for teacher education What unites the contributors to this volume is their shared commitment to a view of literacy that emphasizes both the social contexts and the linguistic challenges The chapters collected in this volume contribute in important ways to research and pedagogy on advanced literacy development for the multilingual and multicultural students in today's classrooms This book is particularly useful for researchers and students in language and education applied linguistics and others concerned with issues and challenges of advanced literacy development in first and second languages The Tyranny of Writing Constanze Weth, Kasper Juffermans, 2018-01-25 This book examines the powerful role of writing in society The invention of writing independently at various places and times in history always stood at the cradle of powerful civilizations It is impossible to imagine modern life without writing As individuals and social groups we hold high expectations of its potential for societal and personal development Globally huge resources have been and are being invested in promoting literacy worldwide So what could possibly be tyrannical about writing The title is inspired by Ferdinand de Saussure's argument against writing as an object of linguistic research and what he called la tyrannie de la lettre His critique denounced writing as an imperfect distorted image of speech that obscures our view of language and its structure The chapters of the book written by experts in language and literacy studies go beyond this and explore tyrannical aspects of writing in society through history and around the world from Medieval Novgorod the European Renaissance and 19th century France and Germany over colonial Sudan to postcolonial Sri Lanka and Senegal and present day Hong Kong and Central China to the Netherlands and Spain The metaphor of tyranny of writing serves as a heuristic for exploring ideologies of language and literacy in culture and society and tensions and contradictions between the written and the spoken word The Learning and Teaching of Phonological Decoding in Chinese EFL Children Keren Hua,2024-08-30 This book presents the learning and teaching of phonological decoding in Chinese EFL primary classrooms The phonological decoding ability of the children is described interpreted and evaluated the teaching materials are analyzed and the classroom instruction observed and the links between these various facets are explored using both quantitative and qualitative techniques textbook analysis classroom observations interviews with teachers and a textbook writer reading test and nonword reading test This book provides insights into Chinese children s phonological decoding profile including performance in decoding different types of orthographic units the strategies children at different levels of reading ability use to sound out vowel graphemes and their decoding ability in relation to reading ability The investigation of the teaching practices reveals how the decoding instruction is designed developed and delivered to the children and thereby informs the interplay between the classroom instruction and children s development of phonological decoding skills International Perspectives on Writing Curricula and Development Jill V Jeffery,Judy M. Parr,2021-05-27 This book contributes to the innovation of writing education and research globally by providing crucial insights into how the structures and aims of literacy curricula vary internationally It examines how nine education systems across five continents represent good writing in curricula that shape students experiences learning to write in school The book presents curricular analyses aimed at providing insight into how writing development can be better supported through innovative policy and research The findings regarding international variation are presented under three broad dimensions social and contextual factors that shape writing curricula the discourses of writing reflected in curricula and official documents and hallmarks of classroom practice including the relationship with official discourse Case study chapters present integrated inductive and deductive document analyses findings of which are compared in a concluding cross case analysis chapter Offering a detailed comparative analysis of writing research International Perspectives on Writing Curricula and Development will be of great interest to academics researchers and students in the fields of education literacy and curriculum studies It will also be relevant reading for policymakers and curriculum designers Chapters 1 7 9 10 and 11 of this book are freely available as downloadable Open Access PDFs at <http://www.taylorfrancis.com> under a Creative Commons Attribution Non Commercial No Derivatives CC BY NC ND 4 0 license Literacy and Gender Gemma Moss,2007-10-29 Why are girls outperforming boys in literacy skills in the Western education system today To date there have been few attempts to answer this question Literacy and Gender sets out to redress this state of affairs by re-examining the social organization of literacy in primary schools In studying schooling as a social process this book focuses on the links between literacy gender and attainment the role school plays in producing social difference and the changing pattern of interest in this topic both within the feminist community and beyond Gemma Moss argues that the reason for girls relative success in literacy lies in the structure of schooling and in particular the role the reading curriculum plays in constructing a hierarchy of learners in class Using fine grained ethnographic analysis of reading in context this book outlines methods for researching literacy as a social practice and understanding how different versions of what counts as literacy can be created in the same site
