Assured Self, Restive Self Prasanta Chakravarty, 2023-07-30 The book explores the encounter of the self with situations of crisis from diverse disciplinary and cultural perspectives from antiquity to contemporary times A crisis is at once a historically situated phenomenon and a recurring idea of endangerment or a breakdown in creaturely living By making our choices stark and difficult crisis opens up the possibility for genuinely fresh and unexpected beginnings At the most fundamental level crisis is the disintegration of relationality among creatures In fact crisis is a battle of attrition with and within selfhood It has the potential to turn into a norm in everyday interaction It then stops being an exception and becomes the very condition of our living Through the rubrics of the assured and the restive the volume addresses how selfhood encounters and negotiates concentric circles of crisis in life and literature Does the idea of crisis allow us to formulate the idea of self in a particular way How do certain sources and resources within the self stoic or heroic political and creative come into being during crisis While some essays delve into questions of repose and sensuality by highlighting specific cases and trajectories from the subcontinent others deal with questions of mythology politics and art in a wider sense One essay directly addresses the core literary question of the uncanny and its relation to selfhood While specific concerns illuminate each essay the volume speaks with a collective global sense of crisis that faces humanity now and tentatively offers some prospects to deal with it

Modernism, Magazines, and the British avant-garde Faith Binckes, 2010-05-20 This book is a re examination of the fertile

years of early modernism immediately preceding the First World War During this period how where and under whose terms the avant garde in Britain would be constructed and consumed were very much to play for It is the first study to look in detail at two little magazines marginalised from many accounts of this competitive process Rhythm and the Blue Review By thoroughly examining not only the content but the interrelated networks that defined and surrounded these publications Faith Binckes aims to provide a fresh and challenging perspective to the on going reappraisal of modernism Founded in 1911 and edited by John Middleton Murry with assistance from Michael Sadleir and subsequently from Katherine Mansfield Rhythm and The Blue Review featured a series of pivotal moments Rhythm was the arena for a challenge to Roger Fry's vision of Post Impressionism for the introduction of Picasso to a British audience for early short stories and reviews by Lawrence and for Mansfield's discovery of a voice in which to frame her breakthrough writing on New Zealand A further context for many of these experiments was the extended and acrimonious debate Rhythm conducted with A R Orage's New Age in which issues of the proper gender generation and formulation of modernity were debated month by month However reading magazines as vehicles for avant garde development can only provide half the story The book also pays close attention to their dialogic reproductive and periodical nature and explores the strategies at work within the terminology of the new Crucially it argues that they offer compelling material evidence for the consistently mobile and multiple boundaries of the modern and puts forward a compelling case for focusing upon the specificity of magazines as a medium for literary and artistic innovation

What Is Fiction For? Bernard Harrison, 2014-12-29 Harrison's marriage of philosophy and literary criticism does genuine and novel work Journal of Aesthetics and Art Criticism How can literature which consists of nothing more than the description of imaginary events and situations offer any insight into the human condition Can mere words illuminate something that we call reality Bernard Harrison answers these questions in this profoundly original work that seeks to re enfranchise reality in the realms of art and discourse In an ambitious account of the relationship between literature and cognition he seeks to show how literary fiction by deploying words against a background of imagined circumstances allows us to focus on the roots in social practice of the meanings by which we represent our world and ourselves Engaging with philosophers and theorists as diverse as Wittgenstein Sartre Merleau Ponty Foucault Derrida F R Leavis Cleanth Brooks and Stanley Fish and illustrating his ideas through readings of works by Swift Woolf Appelfeld and Dickens among others this book presents a systematic defense of humanism in literary studies and of the study of the humanities more generally by a distinguished scholar

A Broken Beauty Theodore L. Prescott, 2005 A Broken Beauty examines recent ideas about beauty and the human image in light of the Western Classical and Christian traditions of the human figure The book's five essays trace the historical fusion of Classical and Christian ideas about beauty as well as their rejection by much modern art provocatively suggesting that the difficulties encountered by the beautiful in modernity may be related to a loss of faith This volume culminates in a look at fifteen postmodern North American artists whose haunting pieces unite brokenness and beauty in a way that is uncommon within contemporary art These artists like the book s essayists find significance in beauty that is cultivated amidst the perennial human struggle for goodness meaning and dignity
