That Fall New And Selected Poems:

That Fall Paul Genega, 2001 This is the fourth collection from this award winning poet and his second title from the Irish publisher Salmon The fall of the title is really many falls It is the season of course but also the runway approach of an airplane the setting of the sun the steady beat of rain the fall from innocence from health from grace Here too is the plunge of the Coney Island parachute ride pratfall down steep stairs descent into silence madness and sleep These fifty six poems display an extraordinary range of texture tone and subject matter from passionate poems about childhood and AIDS to sardonic surreal snapshots of our times

Selected Poems Denise Riley, 2019-10-03 Denise Riley has pursued her singular path with a determined disregard for poetic fashion a poet of immense musical gifts and formal skill as happy in traditional forms as experimental her non alignment with any tribe has led to a rich and various poetry that while densely allusive and intellectually uncompromising remains emotionally open towards the reader at the most profound level Say Something Back her lyric meditation on bereavement won Riley universal acclaim and a wide and long deserved readership Her Selected Poems offers a generous overview of a working life which has taken in philosophy feminism literary history song and aphorism and within which the old certainties are interrogated and shaken at every turn Hers is a voice through which we come to better understand one another the meaning of our time here and the nature of human communication itself Wide ranging sometimes anguished her poems are fascinating and often beautiful and certainly more than usually thought provoking Guardian

Selected Poems Eileen Duggan, 1994 Duggan was for many years in the 1930s and 1940s the best known poet in New Zealand but recently has been almost unacknowledged and most of her work is now out of print She is important in Catholic and New Zealand Irish writing Her lyrical gift and her evocation of atmosphere was very popular at the time she was writing so this volume serves as an example of that phase of poetry's development This selection which was published on the 100th anniversary of the poet's birth contains work from her five published books of poetry plus 37 previously unpublished poems and 12 items of prose The editor who has provided an introduction is a lecturer in English at the Victoria University of Wellington
