Women Art Critics in Nineteenth-Century France Wendelin Guentner, 2013-03-14 Over the past years studies have begun not only to identify the factors that impeded the full participation of women artists in French cultural life such as women's limited access to professional art education but also to bring to light the considerable artistic accomplishments of women occluded by historians for over a century A similar effort at historical revision has been under way for French women writers Works of fiction that enjoyed many editions in the nineteenth century receded from our field of vision for almost a century before being rediscovered and reissued during the last decades of the twentieth century Such efforts have resulted in scholarship that has helped revise the history of both artistic and literary expression in nineteenth century France Similarly many women in nineteenth century France had their art criticism published both in journal reviews and in book form often for decades in a number of the most influential venues of their day However it is perplexing that they remain almost totally invisible in histories of French culture Women Art Critics in Nineteenth Century France Vanishing Acts is the first sustained effort to bring these prolific and influential critics out from the shadows Although each of the chapters in this volume results from an interdisciplinary approach the fact that they are written by scholars in art history and in literature means that there will be inevitable differences in approach and methodology Thus we study the women's reception of specific artworks and aesthetic movements discuss intersections of aesthetics and politics in their essays and the literary styles and rhetorical strategies of individual critics explore the social conditions that allowed or impeded their successes and suggest reasons for their all but disappearance in the twentieth century In bringing to light for twenty first century readers the vanished writings of heretofore unrecognized or underrecognized women art critics the authors hope to contribute to the ongoing revision of women's role in cultural history The multifaceted approaches to word image studies modeled in this book and the many avenues for further research it identifies will inspire scholars in a number of disciplines to continue the work of reinscribing women in the history of cultural life

The Cambridge History of Literary Criticism: Volume 6, The Nineteenth Century, c.1830-1914 M. A. R. Habib, 2013-02-07 In the nineteenth century literary criticism first developed into an autonomous professional discipline in the universities This volume provides a comprehensive and authoritative study of the vast field of literary criticism between 1830 and 1914 In over thirty essays written from a broad range of perspectives international scholars examine the growth of literary criticism as an institution and the major critical developments in diverse national traditions and in different genres as well as the major movements of Realism Naturalism Symbolism and Decadence The History offers a detailed focus on some of the era s great critical figures such as Sainte Beuve Hippolyte Taine and Matthew Arnold and includes essays devoted to the connections of literary criticism with other disciplines in science the arts and Biblical studies The publication of this volume marks the completion of the monumental Cambridge History of Literary Criticism from antiquity to the present day

Craft and Consciousness Joseph Bensman, Robert Lilienfeld, Long out of print and difficult to come by Bensman and Lilienfeld s treatise has achieved the status of an underground masterwork of sociological thought An extended and carefully nuanced essay on the sociology of knowledge its central argument was well defined by the authors in the first edition of 1973 It is our contention that major habits of mind approaches to the world or in phenomenological terms attitudes towards everyday life and specialized attitudes are extensions of habits of thought that emerge and are developed in the practice of an occupation profession or craft We emphasize craft since we focus upon the methods of work techniques methodologies and the social arrangements which emerge in the practice of a profession as being decisive in the formation of world views That argument is advanced against the Marxist tradition that would relate the forms and content of knowledge to the position of the knower in the social economic and class structure of society It avails itself of the theories and perceptions of Veblen Mannheim Weber Husserl and Alfred Schutz
