Adam,2013-08-08 The most popular source of theological hope for American Christians is that of Jurgen Moltmann Preachers teachers and lay people reflect Moltmann's influence with their hope in a this worldly eschatology and a suffering God However an exclusive reliance on that hope deprives the church of crucial resources in the face of global economic environmental and military crises This book explores Moltmannian hope and considers its costs before looking elsewhere for additional contributions from Thomas Aquinas's theological virtue of hope to nihilism and beyond in order to encourage the church to sustain and practice hope in Jesus Christ our only hope

Buzzard, 2013-05-15 How would you explain your life to a stranger When strangers meet today they often ask not What do you do but What is your story Everybody on the planet believes some larger story in order to make sense of the smaller story of his or her life We want our lives to fit within a larger plot a plot full of history forward movement and future So the better question to ask is What sort of story are you in Most people believe false stories that leave them disillusioned enslaved and hopeless Secular stories of chasing success and religious stories of doing good works leave us feeling exhausted and empty Only Christianity offers a story that's big enough to make sense of both the beauty and brokenness in our lives and in our world      The Lutheran Watchman, 1866      The United Presbyterian, 1903      A Guidebook to Prayer MaryKate
