Situated Literacies:

Situated Literacies David Barton, Mary Hamilton, Roz Ivanic, 2005-08-04 Situated Literacies is a rich and varied collection of key writings from leading international scholars in the field of literacy. Each contribution written in a clear accessible style makes the link between literacies in specific contexts and broader social practices. Detailed ethnographic studies of a wide variety of specific situations all involving real texts and lived practices are balanced with general claims about the nature of literacy. Contributors address a coherent set of issues: the visual and material aspects of literacy; concepts of time and space in relation to literacy; the functions of literacies in shaping and sustaining identities in communities of practice; the relationship between texts and the practices associated with their use; the role of discourse analysis in literacy studies. These studies along with a foreword by Denny Taylor make a timely and important contribution to literacy theory and suggest directions for the further development of the field. Situated Literacies is essential reading for anyone involved in literary education.

Literacies, Global and Local Mastin Prinsloo, Mike Baynham, 2008-05-21 The articles collected in this volume draw on or relate to a body of work that has become known as the New Literacy Studies (NLS) which studies literacy as situated semiotic practices that vary across sites in specific ways that are socially shaped. The collection offers a body of empirically and theoretically based papers on literacy ethnography as well as providing engagements with critical issues around literacy and education. The articles offer complementary perspectives on research and theory in literacy studies and include research perspectives from Africa, Asia, Australia, Europe as well as North and South America. The researchers are all concerned to take the work of the New Literacy Studies further by expanding on its conceptual resources and research sites.

Languages and Literacies as Mobile and Placed Resources Sue Nichols, Collette Snowden, 2016-10-04 Languages and Literacies as Mobile and Placed Resources explores how languages and literacies are implicated in the complex relationship between place and mobility. It is a book that represents the next wave in literacy studies in which theories of mobility, networking and globalisation have emerged to account for the dynamic landscape of globally circulating communication resources. Authors in this volume take up a more complex way of thinking about resources, applying it to consider languages and literacies as assemblages or as parts of assemblages that are involved in learning, teaching and meaning making. The book addresses forms of text and mobility that arise in contexts outside of formal education including marketing, charity, journalism, community organisation and parenting. It also addresses school contexts and higher education settings. Key topics explored include: Consequences of workplace confinement; Literacies as placed resources in the context of rural communities; Literacy sustainability and landscapes for learning; Documenting networked knowledge on tablets; Mobilising literacy policy through resources; Global Englishes as placed resources; Languages as contextualised resources; Shaping a digital academic writing resource in a transcultural space. With an international range of carefully chosen contributors, this book is a must read text for all academics interested in semiotics and literacy studies. Literacy in

Practice Patrick Thomas, Pamela Takayoshi, 2015-11-19 The rise of New Literacy Studies and the shift from studying reading and writing as a technical process to examining situated literacies what people do with literacy in particular social situations has focused attention toward understanding the connections between reading and writing practices and the broader social goals and cultural practices these literacy practices help to shape This collection brings together situated research studies of literacy across a range of specific contexts covering everyday educational and workplace domains Its contribution is to provide through an empirical framework a larger cumulative understanding of literacy across diverse contexts writing and the book Taking into account social economic communication and technological factors Kress explores how these changes will affect the future of literacy Kress considers the likely larger level social and cultural effects of that future arguing that the effects of the move to the screen as the dominant medium of communication will produce far reaching shifts in terms of power and not just in the sphere of communication The democratic potentials and effects of the new information and communication technologies will Kress contends have the widest imaginable consequences Literacy in the New Media Age is suitable for anyone fascinated by literacy and its wider political and cultural implications It will be of particular interest to those studying education communication studies media studies or linguistics The Routledge Handbook of Literacy Studies Jennifer Rowsell, Kate Pahl, 2015-05-15 The Routledge Handbook of Literacy Studies offers a comprehensive view of the field of language and literacy studies With forty three chapters reflecting new research from leading scholars in the field the Handbook pushes at the boundaries of existing fields and combines with related fields and disciplines to develop a lens on contemporary scholarship and emergent fields of inquiry The Handbook is divided into eight sections The foundations of literacy studies Space focused approaches Time focused approaches Multimodal approaches Digital approaches Hermeneutic approaches Making meaning from the everyday Co constructing literacies with communities This is the first handbook of literacy studies to recognise new trends and evolving trajectories together with a focus on radical epistemologies of literacy The Routledge Handbook of Literacy Studies is an essential reference for undergraduate and postgraduate students and those researching and working in the areas of applied linguistics and language and literacy
