Baxter, Libby Coyner-Tsosie, 2025-01-23 Helping expand archival studies into impermanent media like body art this book suggests that archiving must be considered a form of storytelling Tattoos are not merely decorative they contain deep meaning for individuals and communities They document their wearers personal histories and position in families or society and they engage with a communal understanding of symbols This unique book makes the case that archivists who want to preserve as full a human story as possible must recognize the rich documentation provided by tattoos It also argues in a broader sense that traditional archives are not representative of the ways human beings transmit information through time and that they must be augmented by other types of storytelling to provide a more complete record of our species Authors Baxter and Coyner touch on timely topics such as historical narratives storytelling cultural traditions the body as a text social control and memorialization by considering tattoos as a personal and community archive Discussing tattoos as a storytelling tool the authors also challenge how history is kept and who gets included Stories on Skin is committed to the rights of communities to tell their stories in their own way and to the power that right brings Skin Ilka Tampke, 2015-02-25 For the people of Caer Cad skin is their totem their greeting their ancestors their land Ailia does not have skin Abandoned at birth she serves the Tribequeen of her township Ailia is not permitted to marry excluded from tribal ceremonies and most
