Inside Speaking Out JHB,2011-10-06 none      Tales Out of School Jo Keroes,1999 Jo Keroes's scope is wide she examines the teacher as represented in fiction and film in works ranging from the twelfth century letters of Abelard and Heloise to contemporary films such as Dangerous Minds and Educating Rita And from the twelfth through the twentieth century Keroes shows the teaching encounter is essentially erotic Tracing the roots of eros from cultural as well as psychological perspectives Keroes defines erotic in terms broader than the merely sexual She analyzes ways in which teachers serve as convenient figures on whom to map conflicts about gender power and desire To show how portrayals of men and women differ she examines pairs of texts using a film or a novel with a woman protagonist Up the Down Staircase for example as counterpoint to one featuring a male teacher Blackboard Jungle or The Prime of Miss Jean Brodie balanced against Dead Poets Society The portrayals of teachers like all images a culture presents of itself reveal much about our private and social selves Keroes points out authentic accounts of authoritative women teachers who are admired and respected by colleagues and students alike Real teachers differ from the stereotypes we see in fiction and film however Male teachers are often portrayed as heroes in film and fallibly human in fiction whereas women in either genre are likely to be monstrous or muddled and are virtually never women of color Among other things Keroes demonstrates the tension between reality and representation reveals society's ambivalence about power in the hands of women      From Violence to Speaking Out Leonard Lawlor,2016-08-30 Drawing on a career long exploration of 1960s French philosophy Leonard Lawlor seeks a solution to the problem of the worst violence The worst violence is the reaction of total apocalypse without remainder it is the reaction of complete negation and death it is nihilism Lawlor argues that it is not just transcendental violence that must be minimised all violence must itself be reduced to its lowest level He offers new ways of speaking to best achieve the least violence which he creatively appropriates from Foucault Derrida and Deleuze and Guattari as speaking freely speaking distantly and speaking in tongues      [ ]( ),2004      Sitting in and Speaking Out Jeffrey A. Turner,2010 In Sitting In and Speaking Out Jeffrey A. Turner examines student movements in the South to grasp the nature of activism in the region during the turbulent 1960s Turner argues that the story of student activism is too often focused on national groups like Students for a Democratic Society and events at schools like Columbia University and the University of California at Berkeley Examining the activism of black and white students he shows that the South responded to national developments but that the response had its own trajectory one that was rooted in race Turner looks at such events as the initial desegregation of campuses integration's long aftermath as students learned to share institutions the Black Power movement and the antiwar movement Escalating protest against the Vietnam War tested southern distinctiveness says Turner The South's tendency toward hawkishness impeded antiwar activism but once that activism arrived it was as in other parts of the country oriented toward events at national and global scales Nevertheless southern student activism retained some of its core characteristics Even in the late 1960s southern protesters demands tended toward reform often eschewing calls to revolution increasingly heard elsewhere Based on primary research at more than twenty public and private institutions in the deep and upper South including historically black schools Sitting In and Speaking Out is a wide ranging and sensitive portrait of southern students navigating a remarkably dynamic era     Speaking Out Albert Camus, 2022-02-15 The Nobel Prize winner's most influential and enduring lectures and speeches newly translated by Quintin Hoare in what is the first English language publication of this collection Albert Camus 1913-1960 is unsurpassed among writers for a body of work that animates the wonder and absurdity of existence Speaking Out Lectures and Speeches 1938-1958 brings together for the first time thirty-four public statements from across Camus's career that reveal his radical commitment to justice around the world and his role as a public intellectual From his 1946 lecture at Columbia University about humanity's moral decline his 1951 BBC broadcast commenting on Britain's general election and his strident appeal during the Algerian conflict for a civilian truce between Algeria and France to his speeches on Dostoevsky and Don Quixote this crucial new collection reflects the scope of Camus's political and cultural influence     The Sign of the End of the Age Paul Kalbach, 2016-12-13 There is a small groundswell of thinking in the evangelical church that we may not have achieved a proper biblical understanding of end times events It is important for us to return to a careful study of these things because the time is near In The Sign of the End of the Age What Jesus Taught about the Future in Matthew 24 author Paul Kalbach helps you discover or rediscover the Olivet Discourse the Lord's clear road map that all other prophetic Scriptures must reckon with To understand the discourse we must answer one critical question what is Matthew 24 about the future program for Israel or the end of the age events for all believers including the church Kalbach presents extensive arguments that show a different timing and sequence of events than is usually taught by proponents of the pretribulation rapture position His in-depth study adheres to a most literal interpretation method The Sign of the End of the Age seeks to bring a deeper understanding of the end times period vital in a world that shows every sign that this time is near     Speaking Out and Silencing A. protests     A Time to Speak Out Anne Karpf, Barbara Rosenbaum, Brian Klug, Jacqueline Rose, 2020-05-05 In A Time to Speak Out a collection of strong Jewish voices come together to explore some of the most challenging issues facing diaspora Jews. With articles on such topics as international law, the Holocaust, varieties of Zionism, self-hatred, the multiplicity of Jewish identities, and human rights, these essays provide powerful evidence of the vitality of independent Jewish opinion, as well as demonstrating that criticism of Israel has a crucial role to play in the continuing history of a Jewish concern for social justice. At once sober and radical, A Time To Speak Out reclaims an often intemperate debate for those both inside and outside Israel who prefer to confront uncomfortable truths. Nearly all contributors were associated with the Independent Jewish Voices declaration, which when launched in Britain in 2007 opened a floodgate of responses. Independent Jewish Voices is a group of Jews in Britain from diverse backgrounds, occupations, and affiliations who have in common a strong commitment to social justice and universal human rights.
