The Use of Personal Narratives in the Helping Professions Jessica K Heriot, Eileen J Polinger, 2014-01-02 Use these fascinating first person accounts to bring real world problems into the classroom The Use of Personal Narratives in the Helping Professions A Teaching Casebook is a collection of personal narratives short stories and poetry about mental illness and other life affecting problems mostly in the context of family life Each selection is accompanied by questions for discussion selected reading lists are provided with each chapter Beginning with problems related to childhood the stories range through adolescence adulthood and old age This unique book provides students and educators in psychology social work and counseling with an in depth understanding of various mental illnesses and psychosocial problems through the life cycle Its stories and narratives give students the unique opportunity to experience from the inside what it is like to live with an eating disorder or struggle with a compulsion phobia The Use of Personal Narratives in the Helping Professions is more than a teaching tool These stories are more than thought provoking more than simply insightful They are truly fascinating each a candid no holds barred glimpse into the personal reality of its narrator and will inspire the kind of discussions that the best courses and instructors are remembered for Your students will most likely have finished the book before the class has finished discussing the first chapter With The Use of Personal Narratives in the Helping Professions your students will explore family relationships under various types of stress how families cope with physical illness what happens to the family when a loved one struggles with mental illness the impact of racial issues the effects of sexual abuse and domestic violence the process of healing from childhood trauma and much more The Use of Personal Narratives in the Helping Professions provides first hand knowledge of what the loss of a parent to death mental illness or alcoholism feels like to the child of how coming out as a lesbian affects one s life of the love and frustration of having a mentally handicapped sibling of what it s like to lose one s memory in old age No academic description can convey the feelings meaning and effects on the individual or family of mental illness or other psychosocial stressors Only narratives and stories based on direct experience exactly what you ll find in The Use of Personal Narratives in the Helping Professions can offer this perspective Voices and Echoes Jo-Anne Elder,Colin O'Connell,2010-10-30 Every time we raise our voices we hear echoes Jo Anne Elder from the Foreword Through short stories journal entries and poetry the women in Voices and Echoes explore the changing landscape of their spiritual lives Experienced writers such as Lorna Crozier Di Brandt and Ann Copeland as well as strong new voices appear to speak to each other as they draw from a wealth of personal resources to find a way to face life s questions and discover meaning in their lives There is something familiar about these stories and poems they echo those we ve heard before and those we ve half forgotten Whether they search for a voice in a world where men monopolize or journey into painful memories to free the self from the past they do not despair they do not end Individual entries become the whole story an unending story of rebirth and reaffirmation The book begins with an illuminating foreword that introduces readers to the cultural and philosophical background of many of the stories and concludes with the reflections of scholars writers and artists that are intended to provoke further discussion Culturally Affirmative Psychotherapy With Deaf Persons Neil S. Glickman,Michael A. Harvey,2013-10-23 The impetus for this volume is the growing awareness within the mental health and larger community of a culturally affirmative model for understanding and assisting deaf people In contrast to the medical pathological model which treats deafness as a disability the cultural model guides us to view deaf persons in relation to the deaf community a group of people with a common language culture and collective identity A primary tenant of culturally affirmative psychotherapy is to understand and respect such differences not to eradicate them The contributors to this volume present a practical and realistic model of providing culturally affirmative counseling and psychotherapy for deaf people The three dimensions of this model have been delineated by the multicultural counseling literature These dimensions assert that culturally affirmative psychotherapy with deaf persons requires therapist self awareness knowledge of the deaf community culture and understanding of culturally syntonetic therapeutic interventions The first to exhaustively delineate the implications of the cultural model of deafness for counseling deaf people this book is essential reading for anyone who works in an educational or counseling capacity with the deaf This audience includes not only psychotherapists but also vocational guidance and residence counselors teachers independent living skills specialists interpreters and administrators of programs for the deaf
