Speaking Truth To Power Research And Policy On Lifelong Learning

John Field, Mal Leicester

Speaking Truth To Power Research And Policy On Lifelong Learning:

Speaking Truth to Power Coffield, Frank, 1999-07-07 In this collection of essays researchers discuss the implications of their findings for policy They make recommendations for policy makers and those concerned to improve the quality of learning at work Differing visions of a Learning Society Vol 2 Coffield, Frank, 2000-11-06 Is lifelong learning the big idea which will deliver economic prosperity and social justice Or will it prove to be another transient phenomenon Picture lifelong learning the editor suggests as making its way through three overlapping stages romance evidence and implementation Lifelong learning is tentatively entering the second stage where research evidence is beginning to challenge the vacuous rhetoric of the stage of romance The findings from the Economic and Social Research Council's programme of research into the Learning Society are presented in two volumes of which this is the second The editor Frank Coffield begins by surveying as a whole the findings of the 14 projects and summarises them in a number of recurrent themes and policy recommendations The chapters which follow present the aims methods findings and policy implications of six projects Volume 1 contains similar chapters on the other projects Taken together the conclusions suggest very different ways of thinking about a Learning Society and very different policies from those in operation at present The two volumes demonstrate from empirical evidence the continuing weaknesses of current policies and make proposals based on hard evidence for more effective structural changes This second volume presents findings from a national survey of the skills of British workers and it discusses both the meaning of the Learning Society for adults with learning difficulties and the use of social capital to explain patterns of lifelong learning Other chapters present for the first time five different trajectories of lifelong learning explore the determinants of participation and non participation in learning and examine innovation in Higher Education Finally two differing visions of a Learning Society are contrasted The first extrapolates existing policies and practices into the next 5 10 years and finds them seriously wanting The second option calls for more democracy rather than technocracy and develops a kaleidoscopic array of possible futures which find their source in the empirical work of the 14 projects These volumes are essential reading for politicians policy makers practitioners employers and all teachers with responsibility for lifelong learning The Jossey-Bass Reader on Contemporary Issues in Adult Education Sharan B. Merriam, André P. Grace, 2011-02-23 THE JOSSEY BASS READER ON Contemporary Issues in Adult Education With contributions from leading experts in the field The Jossey Bass Reader on Contemporary Issues in Adult Education collects in one volume the best previously published literature on the issues and trends affecting adult education today The volume includes influential pieces from foundational authors in the profession such as Eduard C Lindeman Alain Locke and Paulo Freire as well as current work from authors around the world including Laura L Bierema John M Dirkx Cecilia Amaluisa Fiallos Peter Jarvis Michael Newman and Shirley Walters In five sections the book's thirty chapters delve into a wide range of compelling topics including social justice democracy and activism diversity and marginalization human resource development lifelong learning ethical issues the meaning and role of emotions globalization and non Western perspectives the role of mass media popular culture and social learning technology health welfare and environment Each piece is framed within its larger context by the editors and each section is accompanied by helpful reflection and discussion questions Exploring Learning, Identity and Power through Life History and Narrative Research Ann-Marie Bathmaker, Penelope Harnett, 2010-02-25 What stories can we tell of ourselves and others and why should they be of interest to others Exploring Learning Identity and Power through Life History and Narrative Research responds to these questions with examples from diverse educational and social contexts The book brings together a collection of writing by different authors who use a narrative life history approach to explore the experiences of a wide range of people including teachers nurses young people and adults reflecting on learning and education at significant moments in their lives In addition each chapter provides an account by the author of the process of constructing research narratives and the second chapter of the book focuses specifically on ethical issues in life history and narrative research This book provides vivid examples of a narrative life history approach to research uses narrative life history to explore identity power and social justice offers an effective model for practice With contributions from a number of international experts this book addresses key issues of social justice and power played out within different contexts and also discusses the ethics of narrative research directly The book makes a timely contribution to the growing interest in the use of narrative and life history research With the increasing importance of continuing professional development for many working in education health and social service contexts the book will be of interest to both students and researchers as it provides clear examples of how researching professionals can use narrative research to investigate a particular area of interest Supporting Lifelong Learning Richard Edwards, Nod Miller, Nick Small, Alan Tait, 2004-07-31 This volume of the Open University Reader for Supporting Lifelong Learning looks at policy development in lifelong learning at local regional national and supra national levels Using an international team of contributors it explores and examines the policy context for lifelong learning the policies themselves and their effects when implemented The book focuses on the role of lifelong learning policy in relation to issues of competitiveness technological change and social inclusion The provision of a range of chapters from around the globe uniquely establishes a comparative basis for the reader This volume also encourages the student to evaluate lifelong learning as a response to globalising trends and the globalising of educational policy Second International Handbook of Lifelong Learning David N. Aspin, Judith D. Chapman, Karen Evans, Richard Bagnall, 2012-01-18 The second edition of the International Handbook of Lifelong Learning is extensive innovative and international in scope remit and vision inviting its readers to engage in a critical re appraisal of the theme of lifelong learning It is a thorough going rigorous and scholarly work with profound and wide ranging implications for the future of educating institutions and agencies of all kinds in the conception planning and delivery of lifelong learning initiatives Lifelong learning requires a wholly new philosophy of learning education and training one that aims to facilitate a coherent set of links and pathways between work school and education and recognises the necessity for government to give incentives to industry and their employees so they can truly invest in lifelong learning It is also a concept that is premised on the understanding of a learning society in which everyone independent of race creed or gender is entitled to quality learning that is truly excellent This book recognises the need for profound changes in education and for goals that are critically important to education economic advancement and social involvement To those concerned about the future of our society our economy and educational provision this book provides a richly illuminating basis for powerful debate Drawing extensively on policy analyses conceptual thinking and examples of informed and world standard practice in lifelong learning endeavours in the field both editors and authors seek to focus readers attention on the many issues and decisions that must be addressed if lifelong learning is to become a reality for us all

The Routledge International Handbook of Lifelong Learning Peter Jarvis, 2009-05-07 As lifelong learning grows in popularity few comprehensive pictures of the phenomenon have emerged This volume is designed to demonstrate precisely what is happening around the world and to do so within a systematic framework showing the complexity of the phenomenon

Differing Visions of a Learning Society Vol 1 Frank Coffield, 2000-07-26 This volume provides an examination of what is meant by the learning society and how it can contribute to the development of knowledge and skills for employment and other areas of adult life

Workplace Learning in Context Alison Fuller, Anne Munro, Helen Rainbird, 2004-01-22 Combining a critical analysis of the organizational and employment context of workplace learning with an understanding of theories of learning this text focuses on new ideas and on understanding the social context of the workplace

Working to Learn Karen Evans, Phil Hodgkinson, Lorna Unwin, 2004-06 International in scope Working to Learn brings together acknowledged experts in this field Taking both evidence based and analytical perspectives the book challenges many of the generalizations about the changing nature of work and skills and identifies the workplace itself a critical site for access to learning In doing so it develops an illuminating perspective on the social context of the modern workplace and highlights the implications of change for management for the regulat

The Necessity of Informal Learning Coffield, Frank, 2000-01-12 This report constitutes an exploratory study of the submerged mass of learning which takes place informally and implicitly It considers the importance of informal learning in the formation of knowledge and skills and policies to widen participation

The Creative Art of Troublemaking in Education Frank Coffield, 2024-09-09 Drawing on a lifetime s experience and research in education Frank Coffield brings together some of his previously published papers to assess the impact of a wide range of national educational policies and to examine the role of the state in public education He concludes that damage has been done to education by political parties of both right and left and that damage will not be reversed until further vocational and adult education receive the same levels of commitment and resource as other sectors serious steps are taken to tackle Britain s unacceptable levels of poverty and the powers of the state are reduced Among the unresolved challenges highlighted are the plight of young people from deprived estates their tactics in dealing with unemployment the task of improving learning schools inspection and system governance the failure to increase productivity being blamed solely on education and the dysfunctional and undemocratic political framework on which education reform is forced to depend An essential read for anyone in education this provocative criticism of our past and current educational system provides an accessible as well as a humorous critique of educational policy and politics

The Changing Face of Further Education Terry Hyland, Barbara Merrill, 2003-12-16 What are the values and policies which are driving the development of Further Education institutions The rapid expansion and development of the post compulsory sector of education means that further education institutions have to cope with ever evolving government policies This book comprehensively examines the current trends in further education by means of both policy analysis and research in the field It offers an insightful evaluation of FE colleges today set against the background of New Labour Lifelong Learning initiatives and in particular the links between college and community This timely investigation of FE and New Labour policy takes a unique community education perspective to determine whether the social objectives of current policy can be achieved by policy makers managers staff and students in FE institutions For students lecturers and educators in the post compulsory sector in addition to policy makers and managers this is an invaluable source of information on a subject which is still largely under researched

Sustainable Communities Robert Rogerson, Sue Sadler, Anne Green, 2011-06 Drawing upon interdisciplinary research conducted across various universities within the United Kingdom this book offers insights into how local initiatives can enhance sustainable development and engage people in creating better places in which to live Demonstrating how to embed sustainability in all levels of education this account contains imaginative practical and accessible ways in which communities and built environment professionals are working towards a more sustainable future Themes such as sustainable development community coherence conflict resolution planning and environmental management will interest those in a variety of fields including architecture urban design and geography

Lifelong Learning John Field, Mal Leicester, 2003 This one volume reference book covers all the major issues in lifelong learning in four sections Theoretical Perspectives Curriculum International Perspectives and Widening Participation

Evidence-based Practice in Education Richard Pring, Gary Thomas, 2004-03-16 Where does hunch end and evidence begin Too much is written and said about school improvement about improvements in teaching and learning with far too little attention to this question This book provides vivid discussion from distinguished protagonists and antagonists about what gets called evidence based practice Reading it all involved in education policymakers and practitioners alike can proceed more confidently Professor Tim Brighouse London Schools Commissioner The movement to evidence based practice in education is as important as it is controversial and this book explores the arguments of leading advocates and critics The book begins with an explication of evidence based practice Some of the ideas of its proponents are discussed including the Campbell Collaboration and the application to education of Cochrane style reviews and meta analyses The thinking behind evidence based practice has been the subject of much criticism particularly in education and this criticism is aired in the second part of the book Questions have been raised about what we mean by evidence about how particular kinds of evidence may be privileged over other kinds of evidence about the transferability of research findings to practice and about the consequences of a move to evidence based practice for governance in education Given that the origins of the interest in evidence based practice come largely from its use in medicine questions arise about the validity of the transposition and contributors to the third part of the book address this transposition The issues raised in the book while primarily those raised by educators are of relevance also to professionals in medicine social work and psychology

Contemporary Issues in Management Lindsay Hamilton, Laura Mitchell, Anita Mangan, 2014-06-27 This book is for upper level students managers and academics who are interested in exploring the messy reality of the contemporary workplace and in considering how things might be done differently In particular it offers a critical perspective on

The EU's External Governance of Agriculture and Rural Development Laura Gelhaus, 2024-11-13 This book explores how the EU externally governs through agriculture and rural development and how this external governance shapes rural spaces in Georgia Analysing two EU policy instruments Geographical Indications and the LEADER rural development programme the book develops a novel way of studying the consequences of EU external actions on the ground by bringing in sociological rural studies and political geography concepts of rural space In doing so it analyses the often less visible processes at local levels and in rural areas and proposes how to improve analyses of EU external actions more generally This book will be of key interest to scholars and students of EU external policy EU foreign policy agricultural and rural development post Soviet politics and more broadly to EU studies

Learn to succeed Campbell, Mike, 2002-05-22 This is the first book to draw together the evidence on the case for skills and to examine the policies appropriate to achieving skills for all Learn to succeed argues that raising skill levels is crucial to both economic success and social inclusion demonstrates the benefits of higher skill levels to people to companies and to communities synthesises a wide range of materials in one convenient volume providing a reference source on the issues deals with the issues at both national and local levels sets out a clear agenda for action Learn to succeed is essential reading for policy makers and practitioners in national regional and local government departments and agencies and is also recommended for students and academics on courses at undergraduate and graduate level in applied economics education or public policy

The Learning Society and people with learning difficulties Riddell, Sheila, Baron, Stephen, 2001-05-16 There is a growing concern about the social exclusion of a range of minority groups including people with learning difficulties Lifelong learning is seen as one of the central means of challenging the exclusion of this group but also of enhancing their economic status This book demonstrates that policy based on human capital premises has produced forms of lifelong learning which exacerbate the marginalisation of people with learning difficulties The Learning Society and people with learning difficulties reviews the range of policy fields which increasingly intervene in the lifelong learning arena maps the agencies involved in service delivery and describes their sometimes conflicting ethos provides in depth accounts of the lived experiences of individuals with learning difficulties as they navigate lifelong learning options Its exploration of the links between community care education training employment housing and benefits policies in the context of lifelong learning is unique This book makes a significant contribution to debates about how people with learning difficulties may achieve social inclusion and the part which lifelong learning may play in this It is therefore invaluable reading for policy makers practitioners and academics interested in these issues
