The Relations between Defence and Civil Technologies Philip Gummert, Judith Reppy, 2013-03-09 This book arises from a meeting held at Wiston House Sussex UK in September 1987 The meeting brought together academic governmental and industrial experts from eight countries to discuss the increasingly important sUbject of the relations between civil and defence technologies It was primarily funded under the Advanced Research Workshops Programme of NATO s Scientific Affairs Division and was the first science policy workshop funded by the Programme Additional financial support came from the Leverhulme Trust The choice of topic of speakers and finally of papers to be published was entirely ours The conclusions reached were our own and those of the participants They were not in any way guided by NATO nor do they represent NATO policy We speak for all the participants in offering our thanks to the NATO SCientific Affairs Division especially Secretary General Durand and Dr Craig Sinclair for rnei r generosity and encouragement WWithout them this book would not exist We thank the Leverhulme Trust for enabling assistance to be provided to the Workshop Directors in the form of Iain Bate who himself played a major part in the success of the meeting The staff of Wiston House must also be thanked for prOviding an admirable environment for the meeting For secretarial support prior to the meeting we thank Gill Miller and Lesley Price Finally we offer special thanks to Mrs Yvonne Aspinall for converting all the papers in whatever state they were presented into camera ready copy with such professionalism and gOOd humour

Acquiring, Adapting and Developing Technologies Kwan S. Kim, Fumio Maki, Ryoshin Minami, Joung-hae Seo, 1995-02-12 Economic progress requires technological development which in turn depends on a country s social capacity to acquire assimilate and develop new technologies Focusing on the evolution of Japan s economy from the Meiji Restoration to the present day this volume provides an authoritative account firmly grounded in theoretical and empirical analysis of the country s attempts to generate the necessary social capacity for technological innovation and absorption Successive chapters address the specific experiences of a number of key Japanese industries during this process Each industrial case study is written by an acknowledged expert in the field and presents material of significant interest to specialists in economic development in a form that is also accessible to the nonspecialist The book concludes with a summary of useful lessons variously applicable to countries at all the different stages of industrialization

The Palgrave Handbook of the Sociology of Work in Europe Paul Stewart, Jean-Pierre Durand, Maria-Magdalena Richea, 2018-11-02 This book explores the key conceptual features of the development of the Sociology of Work SoW in Europe since 1945 using eleven country case studies An original contribution to our understanding of the trajectory of the SoW the chapters map the current state of the theoretical background of the sub discipline s development to broader socio political and economic changes traced across a heterogeneous set of national contexts Different definitions of the SoW in each country often reflect variations in the focus of analysis and these chapters link the subject definition and focus to other social science disciplines the state as well as social class interests and ideologies The book contends that the ways in which the sub discipline makes sense of changes in work is itself a response to the type of society in which the sub discipline is practiced whether in the post war social democratic West the Soviet East or today's societies dominated by variant forms of neo liberalism It will be of use to scholars and students interested in the transnational history of the discipline of sociology with a specific focus on the nexus between the sociology of labour ideology economics and politics Work, Employment, and Unemployment Kenneth Thompson, 1984 Polymer Science: A Comprehensive Reference, 2012-12-05 The progress in polymer science is revealed in the chapters of Polymer Science A Comprehensive Reference Ten Volume Set In Volume 1 this is reflected in the improved understanding of the properties of polymers in solution in bulk and in confined situations such as in thin films Volume 2 addresses new characterization techniques such as high resolution optical microscopy scanning probe microscopy and other procedures for surface and interface characterization Volume 3 presents the great progress achieved in precise synthetic polymerization techniques for vinyl monomers to control macromolecular architecture the development of metallocene and post metallocene catalysis for olefin polymerization new ionic polymerization procedures and atom transfer radical polymerization nitroxide mediated polymerization and reversible addition fragmentation chain transfer systems as the most often used controlled living radical polymerization methods Volume 4 is devoted to kinetics mechanisms and applications of ring opening polymerization of heterocyclic monomers and cycloolefins ROMP as well as to various less common polymerization techniques Polycondensation and non chain polymerizations including dendrimer synthesis and various click procedures are covered in Volume 5 Volume 6 focuses on several aspects of controlled macromolecular architectures and soft nano objects including hybrids and bioconjugates Many of the achievements would have not been possible without new characterization techniques like AFM that allowed direct imaging of single molecules and nano objects with a precision available only recently An entirely new aspect in polymer science is based on the combination of bottom up methods such as polymer synthesis and molecularly programmed self assembly with top down structuring such as lithography and surface templating as presented in Volume 7 It encompasses polymer and nanoparticle assembly in bulk and under confined conditions or influenced by an external field including thin films inorganic organic hybrids or nanofibers Volume 8 expands these concepts focusing on applications in advanced technologies e.g. in electronic industry and centers on combination with top down approach and functional properties like conductivity Another type of functionality that is of rapidly increasing importance in polymer science is introduced in volume 9 It deals with various aspects of polymers in biology and medicine including the response of living cells and tissue to the contact with biofunctional particles and surfaces The last volume is devoted to the scope and potential provided by environmentally benign and green polymers as well as energy related polymers They discuss new technologies needed for a sustainable economy in our world of limited resources Provides broad and in depth coverage of all aspects of polymer science from synthesis polymerization properties and characterization methods and techniques to nanostructures sustainability and energy and biomedical uses of polymers Provides a definitive source for those entering or researching in this area by integrating the multidisciplinary aspects of the science into one unique up to date reference work Electronic version has complete cross referencing and multi media components Volume editors are world experts in their field including a Nobel Prize winner Controlling Technology , Integrating Christian Faith and Work Sharlene G. Buszka, Timothy Ewest, 2019-10-21 Though the majority of Americans claim faith in God and adults spend the majority of their time working these two important dimensions of life are rarely effectively integrated It is important for people of every faith tradition to consider how when and if their faith and work are to be integrated This is especially true as research shows that the integration of faith and spirituality in the workplace results in numerous benefits for individuals organizations and society if done respectfully This book presents key research insights concerning integration influences and strategies for Christians who seek to integrate their faith and their work Specifically it discusses how individual occupational and organizational factors influence faith and work integration and suggests diverse ways to integrate the Christian faith at work The Faith and Work Integration Spheres of Influence Model is presented as a tool to guide individuals in better understanding how to develop their own personal plan for faith and work integration within the context of limiting or enabling occupational and organizational factors It also suggests areas for further research on this topic Readers will learn how Christian faith and work integration can be maximized based on individual attributes occupational characteristics and organizational factors
