Spectral Emanations New And Selected Poems:

Spectral Emanations John Hollander, 1978      Selected Poems Hélène Aji, Jennifer Kilgore-Caradec, 2013-01-16 Complete poems are bulky and too heavy to carry around Collected poems pretend to be complete but usually are not Selected poems are altogether unpretentious and reader friendly But they can be problematic Who decides what poems are important for inclusion in a volume of selected poems When the selection occurs during the author's lifetime may one assume that the author was involved What motivates the choice of one poem over another How do readers' preferences influence this choice How do new readers and familiar readers of a poet negotiate the poems that are left out of the selection The essays in this volume address these questions in a variety of ways and also provide an overview of poetic writing from modernist poets to the present day using selections from the 1940s until now They offer new insight into the uses both pedagogical and critical of selection Because Selected Poems usually address a large general public these essays have also been written for all those who wish to know more about how these slimmer more attractive volumes are produced      Acts of Mind Richard Jackson, 1984-05-30 There have been any number of books of interviews with contemporary writers but none precisely like this one The author/editor has somehow managed to get these very different poets to follow his lead and in many cases for the first time anywhere to reveal much about their intellectual habits assumptions and preconceptions In almost every case he has been able to get these poets to talk more openly and freely than anyone else has ever done George Garrett

Apocalyptic Messianism and Contemporary Jewish-American Poetry R. Barbara Gitenstein, 2012-02-01 Focusing on the rich context of esoteric Jewish literature this collection presents in depth analyses of Jewish American poetry Gitenstein defines Jewish messianism and the literary genre of the apocalyptic describes historical movements and kabbalistic theories and analyzes their influence as part of the post-Holocaust consciousness Represented are works by such poets as Irving Feldman Jack Hirschman John Hollander David Meltzer and Jerome Rothenberg Gitenstein recounts the lives of such spectacular eccentrics and holy men as the Abraham Abulafia thirteenth century Isaac Luria sixteenth century Shabbatai Zevi seventeenth century and Jacob Frank eighteenth century and identifies their theories as part of the history of the literary apocalyptic genre the literature of exile the literature of catastrophe      Color Codes Charles A. Riley (II.), Charles A. Riley, 1995 A multidisciplinary look at the role of color in contemporary aesthetics      Selected Poetry John Hollander, 2012-05-02 Perfection is a rare accomplishment particularly in American poetry and the perfection of much of Hollander's work makes it essential reading for anyone who genuinely cares for the craft of poetry But in our fallen world we seem fated to value power of perfection and John Hollander's poetry has shown a visionary power just often enough to secure him a place as one of the major figures of our moment Vernon Shetley The New Republic      The Ritual of New Creation Norman Finkelstein, 1992-01-01 Finkelstein examines a wide range of recent Jewish writing including poetry fiction and literary criticism in order to determine the changes such writing has undergone in its exposure to modern and postmodern conditions of culture Featuring discussions of such figures as Gershom Scholem Harold Bloom George Steiner Cynthia Ozick and John Hollander The Ritual of New Creation explores certain themes that recur in modern Jewish literature the relation of the sacred to the secular in Jewish writing the role of loss and exile wandering meaning and textual transformation This is a book for all readers interested in modern Jewish literature but especially for readers concerned with literary theory the relations of text and commentary and the fate of literary traditions in the contemporary and postmodern cultural milieu

Encyclopedia of American Poetry: The Twentieth Century Eric L. Haralson, 2014-01-21 The Encyclopedia of American Poetry The Twentieth Century contains over 400 entries that treat a broad range of individual poets and poems along with many articles devoted to topics schools or periods of American verse in the century Entries fall into three main categories poet entries which provide biographical and cultural contexts for the author's career entries on individual works which offer closer explication of the most resonant poems in the 20th century canon and topical entries which offer analyses of a given period of literary production school thematically constructed category or other verse tradition that historically has been in dialogue with the poetry of the United States A Draft of Light John Hollander, 2012-05-02 A glorious new collection from one of our most distinguished poets Here are poems that explore the ways in which ordinary objects open doors to the more hidden subconscious truths of our inner selves a bird of countless colors calls to mind the echo of an inner event From my forgotten past a subway bee sting conjures up quick unlikely visits by the muses a momentary awareness that is as much of a Gift from those nine sisters as Is ever given Other poems lay bare the imperfect nature of our memories reality altered by our inevitably less accurate but perhaps truer recall of past events memory As full of random holes as any Uncleaned window is of spots Of blur and dimming begins at once To interfere Still others examine the dramatic changes in perspective we undergo over the course of a lifetime as in the poem When We Went Up John Hollander describes the varied responses he has to climbing the same mountain at different points in his life In all of the poems Hollander illuminates the fluid nature of physical and emotional experience the connections between the simple things we encounter every day and the ways in which the meaning we attribute to them shapes our lives Like the harmonious coming together of bandstand instruments on a summer afternoon he writes most of what we come to know in the world is A dying moment Of lastingness thenceforth Ever not to be Throughout this thought provoking collection Hollander reveals the ways in which we are constantly creating unique worlds of our own a draft of light of our own making and how these worlds in turn continually shape our most basic identities and truest selves The Kenyon Review John Crowe Ransom, 1979 Editor winter 1939 autumn 1941 J C Ransom Fourteen on Form William Baer, 2009-06 When free verse and its many movements seemed to dominate poetry other writers worked steadfastly insistently and majestically in traditional forms of rhyme and meter Such poets as Anthony Hecht Donald Justice Derek Walcott and Richard Wilbur utilized sonnets villanelles blank verse and many other forms to create dazzling lasting work Their writing posed a counterpoint to free verse sustained a tradition in English language verse and eventually inspired the movement called New Formalism Fourteen on Form Conversations with Poets collects interviews with some of the most influential poets of the last fifty years William Baer editor of The Formalist asks incisive questions that allow writers to discuss in detail a wide range of topics related to their work methods of composition and the contemporary poetry scene Maxine Kumin reflects on being a woman poet during a period in which women were not encouraged to submit to journals With clarity and passion Walcott remembers the impetus of his famous Eulogy to W H Auden British poet Wendy Cope talks about the differences between how her barbed poems are received in England and abroad The conversations return continually to the serious matter of poetic craft especially the potential power of form in poetry These well paced conversations showcase poets discussing their creative lives with insight and candor The sum total of their forthright opinions in Fourteen on Form not only elucidates the current situation of the art form but it also serves as a primer for understanding the fundamental craft of poetics

The City That Never Sleeps Shawkat M.

Toorawa, 2014-12-09 An eclectic collection of poems about New York City New York the city that never sleeps contains more light than all the myriad heavens conceived of by its denizens of every possible race religion culture color and creed combined All poets are besotted with light it is the most transformative of all phenomena and we are permanently drunk on it moon mad sun blind star struck from the Foreword by Anne Pierson Wiese As Shawkat M Toorawa writes in his preface Not every poet loves New York but each and every one is mesmerized by it Indeed with its protean mix of cultures languages natives transplants and exiles New York City seems to exert a special hold over the poetic imagination The sixty one poems extracts of poems and song lyrics collected here reflect a wide range of responses to New York both positive and negative insider and outsider Arranged in four sections Morning Day Evening and Night the collection not only gives the reader the opportunity to experience twenty four hours in New York through poetry but also puts poems and poets in conversation debate and even occasionally in conflict with one another Rather than attempting to be exhaustive or definitive is volume juxtaposes well known poets and lyricists such as Maya Angelou Bob Dylan Denise Levertov and Walt Whitman with important and emerging voices such as Valzhyna Mort Purvi Shah and Melanie Rehak as well as poets less frequently included in such anthologies such as Mahmoud Darwish Anna Margolin and Nicanor Parra The result is a collection of poems that vary in their aesthetics tone mood and subject and thereby reflect the vexed and manifold nature of their subject New York the city that never sleeps Shawkat Toorawa has selected a thrilling chorus of voices familiar and new formal and slangy immigrant and native A perfect companion for your day or night on the town Robyn Creswell poetry editor of The Paris Review A strength of this collection is its rich mix of female and male poets and its wide range of demographic racial linguistic aesthetic and other multicultural perspectives across a period of time ranging from the late nineteenth century to our own decade The poems are as various and full of lan as the city itself Lisa Russ Spaar editor of All That Mighty Heart London Poems There are almost as many anthologies of New York poems as there are skyscrapers but in terms of sheer reading pleasure The City That Never Sleeps towers over them all Don Share Editor Poetry magazine Picture Window John Hollander, 2012-05-02 In this deeply philosophical and highly inventive new collection John Hollander the distinguished author of numerous books of poetry offers profound yet playful meditations on the reflective mind and on the words with which we come to know the world In forms as varied as sonnets songs and ancient odes he muses over the ways we use and misuse language as we grasp the world by ear by heart by head And keep it in a soft continuingness Here too are striking verses about the passage of time as recorded by the movement of light and shadow across a surface whether it be the face of a clock or the enclosed walls of a Hopper painting Throughout Hollander delights us with mirrors palindromes and strange and surprising reversals that keep the mind ever alert with the challenge to make words be themselves taking time out From all the daily work of meaning to Make picture puzzles of what they're about Donna Seaman has written of John Hollander His wise and robustly complex poems span the mind like stone aqueducts or canyon crossing railroad bridges awesome works of knowledge and craft art and devotion In this exciting new volume Hollander shows once again the reach of his poetic imagination The Routledge Encyclopedia of Jewish Writers of the Twentieth Century Sorrel Kerbel, 2004-11-23 Now available in paperback for the first time Jewish Writers of the Twentieth Century is both a comprehensive reference resource and a springboard for further study This volume examines canonical Jewish writers less well known authors of Yiddish and Hebrew and emerging Israeli writers includes entries on figures as diverse as Marcel Proust Franz Kafka Tristan Tzara Eugene Ionesco Harold Pinter Tom Stoppard Arthur Miller Saul Bellow Nadine Gordimer and Woody Allen contains introductory essays on Jewish American writing Holocaust literature and memoirs Yiddish writing and Anglo Jewish literature provides a chronology of twentieth century Jewish writers Compiled by expert contributors this book contains over 330 entries on individual authors each consisting of a biography a list of selected publications a scholarly essay on their work and suggestions for further reading Figurehead John Hollander, 2009-05-06 In a major review in The New Republic of John Hollander's two earlier books Tesserae and Selected Poetry both 1993 Vernon Shetley said John Hollander's poetry has shown a visionary power just often enough to secure him a place as one of the major figures of our moment Figurehead a lively varied and technically dazzling book confirms the statement made by Henry Taylor in the Washington Times John Hollander revels in technical challenges of unusual severity and complexity yet most of his poems also have the emotional heft of something worth pausing over and remembering One of the most gifted of W H Auden's choices for the Yale Series of Younger Poets Hollander has pursued the wide range and metrical brilliance of Auden's own poetry so that this new book exhibits both a large compass of subject matter from philosophical matters to personal narrative and as usual some astonishing meditations on paintings here by Charles Sheeler Rene Magritte and Edward Hopper By turns witty touching profound mocking ingenious and always clever Hollander's poems are a joy for the reader He is a modern master The Cambridge Paperback Guide to Literature in English Ian Ousby, 1996-02-23 Derived from the parent Guide to Literature in
