Speech Communication Matters Second Edition Chapter 2

James Anthony Whitson

Speech Communication Matters Second Edition Chapter 2:

Anthropology Matters, Second Edition Shirley A. Fedorak, 2012-10-24 Anthropology Matters places the study of anthropology concretely in the world by which it is surrounded. It takes a question-based approach to introducing important anthropological concepts by embedding those concepts in contemporary global issues that will interest students. The second edition of this popular text has been updated throughout and includes four new chapters on language revitalization, social media and social revolutions, human migration and the role of NGOs in international development practice. Students can now engage with the most up-to-date issues while learning to think anthropologically.

Communication Matters Jeremy Packer, Stephen B. Crofts Wiley, 2013-06-17 Communication has often been understood as a realm of immaterial, insubstantial phenomena: images, messages, thoughts, languages, cultures, and ideologies mediating our embodied experience of the concrete world. Communication Matters challenges this view, assembling leading scholars in the fields of Communication, Rhetoric, and English to focus on the materiality of communication. Building on the work of materialist theorists such as Gilles Deleuze, Michel Foucault, Friedrich Kittler, and Henri Lefebvre, the essays collected here examine the materiality of discourse itself and the constitutive force of communication in the production of the real. Communication Matters presents original work that rethinks communication as material and situates materialist approaches to communication within the broader materiality turn emerging in the humanities and social sciences. This collection will be of interest to researchers and postgraduate students in Media, Communication Studies, and Rhetoric. The book includes images of the digital media installations of Francesca Talenti, Professor, Department of Communication Studies, University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill.

Teachers Edition Randall McCutcheon, 2001-02 Describes how to research, organize, write, and deliver different kinds of speeches and discusses related forms of communication such as debates and oral interpretation.

Difference Matters Brenda J. Allen, 2010-07-19 Allen's proven ability and flare for presenting complex and oftentimes sensitive topics in nonthreatening ways carry over in the latest edition of Difference Matters. Her down-to-earth analysis of six social identity categories reveals how communication establishes and enacts identity and power dynamics. She provides historical overviews to show how perceptions of gender, race, social class, sexuality, ability, and age have varied throughout time and place. Allen clearly explains pertinent theoretical perspectives and illustrates those and other discussions with real-life experiences, many of which are her own. She also offers practical guidance for how to communicate difference more humanely. While many examples are from organizational contexts, readers from a wide range of backgrounds can relate to them and appreciate their relevance. This eye-opening, vibrant text is suitable for use in a variety of disciplines, motivates readers to think about valuing difference as a positive, enriching feature of society, and includes interactive elements such as Spotlights on Media, I-D Checks, Tool Kits, and Reflection Matters questions to awaken interest, awareness, and creative insights for change.

The Rhetoric of Intention in Human Affairs Gary C. Woodward, 2013-09-12. The Rhetoric of Intention in Human Affairs is an insightful account of the rhetorical and psychological habits we exhibit when we must explain the reasons others act. The assumption that we can know what motivates another person is fed by more hope than certainty and yet it is evidence of a very human impulse. Beginning with a clear template for defining various tiers of motives, this innovative and accessible study moves through a series of chapters exploring the unique demands imposed by different circumstances. These sections cut a wide swath of analysis across a diverse range of human actors including conspiracy theorists who find the designs of coordinated agents behind random events, theater performers creating backstories for their characters, journalists grasping to name the motives of newsmakers, prosecutors who must establish another's intent in order to prove a criminal act, and the devout who grapple with what divine intervention can mean in a cruel world. Readers will recognize themselves in these pages, gaining an appreciation for the rhetorical analysis of human behavior.

The Practice of American Constitutional Law Jefferson Powell, 2022-05-19. A comprehensive, ideologically neutral description of the practice of constructing and evaluating constitutional law arguments.

Dismantlings Matt Tierney, 2019-12-15. For the master's tools, the poet Audre Lorde wrote, will never dismantle the master's house. Dismantlings is a study of literary, political, and philosophical critiques of the utopian claims about technology in the Long Seventies, the decade and a half before 1980. Following Alice Hilton's 1963 admonition that the coming years would bring humanity to a crossroads: machines for HUMAN BEINGS or human beings for THE MACHINE, Matt Tierney explores wide-ranging ideas from science fiction, avant-garde literatures, feminist and anti-racist activism, and indigenous eco-philosophy that may yet challenge machines of war, control, and oppression. Dismantlings opposes the language of technological idealism with radical thought of the Long Seventies, from Lorde and Hilton to Samuel R. Delany and Ursula K. Le Guin to Huey P. Newton, John Mohawk, and many others. This counter-lexicon retrieves seven terms for the contemporary critique of technology: Luddism, a verbal and material combat against exploitative machines; communion, a kind of togetherness that stands apart from communication networks; cyberculture, a historical conjunction of automation with racist and militarist machines; distortion, a transformative mode of reading and writing; revolutionary suicide, a willful submission to the risk of political engagement; liberation technology, a synthesis of appropriate technology and liberation theology; and thanatopography, a mapping of planetary technological ethics after Auschwitz and Hiroshima. Dismantlings restores revolutionary language of the radical Long Seventies for reuse in the digital present, against emergent technologies of exploitation, subjugation, and death.

Interpersonal Communication Sarah Trenholm, Arthur Jensen, 2000. This text's learning model helps students improve interpersonal competence through conceptual understanding, modelling of realistic examples.
