dominant national discourses attempted to define national identities by exclusion One rallying cry from the 1930s was Islam is my religion Arabic is my language Algeria is my fatherland In this incisive postcolonial study Jarrod Hayes uses literary analysis to examine how Francophone novelists from the Maghreb engaged in a diametric nation building project Their works imagined a diverse nation peopled by those who were excluded by the dominant political discourses especially those who did not conform to traditional sexual norms By incorporating representations of marginal sexualities sexual dissidence and gender insubordination Maghrebian novelists imagined an anticolonial struggle that would result in sexual liberation and envisioned nations that could be defined and developed inclusively
