Speechwriting in Perspective Thomas H. Neale, Jean M. Bowers, 2003 Writing for the spoken word is a special discipline it requires that speechwriters products be written primarily although not exclusively to be heard not read Speeches are better cast in simple direct and often short sentences that can be easily understood by listeners Rhetorical devices such as repetition variation cadence and balance are available to and should be used by the speechwriter It is important for speechwriters to analyse audiences according to factors such as age gender culture profession and income level size of audience political affiliation if any and on the occasion for or purpose of the speech Most effective speeches do not exceed 20 minutes in length After researching a topic speechwriters must prepare an outline from which the speech will be developed They should strive to maintain a clear theme throughout the speech Most speeches will have a three part structure consisting of an introduction a body and a conclusion The accepted style of contemporary American public address is natural direct low key casual and conversational This puts the listeners at ease and promotes a sense of community between the audience and speaker Punctuation should reflect the sound structure of the speech reinforcing the rhythm and pace of actual speech Clarity of expression is as important a consideration in speech grammar as rigid adherence to the rules for written law This book presents the essentials of speechwriting Preface Speechwriting in Perspective A Brief Guide to Effective and Persuasive Communication Thomas H Neale Public Speaking and Speechwriting Selected References Jean M Bowers Index      Preaching that Matters Lori J. Carrell, 2013-04-11 Listeners do love their pastors and they agree with the sermon content they hear Lori Carrell once explained to a group of pastors but most sermons don t ask for change and most listeners don t experience spiritual growth as a result of the sermon A participant responded Let s get practical I want my preaching to make a difference What changes are worth making and how do I make them In Preaching that Matters Lori

Carrell shares answers to that question drawing on the experiences of thousands of people preachers and their listeners whose effort she has studied over many years In each chapter of this book she offers research revelations about high impact preaching that will encourage and challenge readers to continue to grow as preachers She then links these principles with Reflective Practice Challenges RPCs exercises that honor the rich experiences of pastors while opening opportunities for self analysis spiritual introspection conversation with a trusted other or implementation of research based preaching recommendations The activities have been used by hundreds of other pastors and each RPC has been carefully selected for its demonstrated contribution to the process of transforming sermon communication A selection of the RPCs are available as a downloadable file E mail resource material rowman com for more information As a communication expert Carrell approaches preaching from a sermon communication paradigm She begins with the task of identifying the spiritually transformative purpose of the sermon and then explores exegeting organizing deepening and delivering the sermon as well as listening to the listeners and planning for continued transformation Her own goal is simple to inspire and equip clergy to make changes that will enhance the transformative power of their preaching To connect with others reading Preaching That Matters and to find an online accountability partner join the book's Google communities

Martinez, Terrence Mulligan, 2012-12-03 Emergency medicine attendings who wish to hone their teaching skills can find a number of books on educational strategies written by physicians from other disciplines However until the publication of the first edition of this book they did not have access to a text written by emergency medicine physicians on methods of teaching that are directly applicable to teaching EM This book was compiled to meet that need Following the introductory section which provides important background information the book's contents are organized into 4 sections that correspond to the core needs and interests of EM educators Section 2 focuses on practical and ethical considerations of teaching in the ED Section 3 provides strategies for teaching specific groups of learners Section 4 looks at the skills that are characteristic of the best EM educators and Section 5 looks indepthly at specific teaching techniques and strategies Now more than ever this book addresses the needs of physician educators from all over the world New chapters discuss lecturing to an international audience using simulation as a teaching tool how to make journal club work for you and other topics that are of broad interest to medical educators in this field In general each chapter has been updated and reviewed to make sure the content was something that emergency physician educators could use in any country The chapter contributors are widely regarded as leaders in the field of emergency medicine education and faculty development Authors were given free rein to develop their chapters and write in their own style They were asked to present their personal views on how to successfully teach the art of emergency medicine rather than review evidence based guidelines regarding medical education As a result most of the chapters have few references This first person approach to a multi authored textbook yields a compilation that varies in style from chapter to chapter and exposes the reader to a variety of communication techniques Instructor's Manual to
